ELECTION JUDGE SENT UP

Von Huenefeld's Poetry. Mr. Araki From Tokio. Mr. Ochs Celebrates. A Changing World.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(Copyright, 1928.)

THE three fliers, two German, one Irish, will stick together, and fly on to New York together, Fitzmaurice had no idea of accepting a welcome ahead of the others.

Baron Von Huenefeld, who financed the Bremen trip, says that part of the time, flying through fog, he wrote poetry, and part of the time wondered what was going to happen.

Von Huenefeld has been nominated for the German Parliament and national pride will probably elect him in spite of his friendly attitude toward the ex-Kaiser.

WORTHY of your polite attention is Mr. Teichiro Araki from Tokio. He jumped out of an airplane on Long Island at 12 minutes to 5 yesterday morning, on his way in a race around the world, for the Japanese newspaper, Jiji Shimpo.

Mr. Araki, by airplane, automobile, fast trains and boats, expects to go around the world in 31 days. When Jules Verne suggested a trip in 80 days, that was thought preposterous.

ADOLPH S. OCHS, owner of the New York Times, celebrates his fiftieth year as a newspaper publisher. That publisher career, begun in Chattanooga 50 years ago, has agreed with Mr. Ochs. Friends that recently saw him climbing hills on the Pacific Coast observed no change in him in the last 20 years. May he continue publishing 50 years more and then go to live in Pasadena permanently.

THE Lutheran Church received 5,000 suggestions in a national contest for an advertising slogan suited to the teachings of that church. The judges adopted this:

"A changeless Christ for a changing world."

FORTUNATELY the changing world changes its ideas of Christ and his teachings. It no longer burns witches in His name, or tortures those that choose to think as they please religiously.

When Protestants in Switzerland burned Dr. Servetus alive, on a slow fire, mocking his appeals for a speedier death, they thought they were pleasing Christ. They were mistaken.

SENATOR SIMMONS, of North Carolina, opposes the nomination of Gov. Smith, and the first Democratic fight of the 1928 campaign is under way, with the odds in Gov. Smith's favor. He is playing golf, not noticing the fight.

KING GEORGE won his first race of the season yesterday, the Brandon Handicap. The king's horse, Scuttle, by Captain Cuttle, out of Stained Glass, carried a good deal of loyal British money bet upon him.

IF Heeney beats Tunney in the coming fight, Dempsey will return and fight Heeney. If Dempsey wins, perhaps Jeffries and Williard will return to fight him.

But Heeney probably won't beat Tunney. Even in prize fighting, thinking counts. Tunney is the better thinker and, besides, Tunney's defeat would be unprofitable for the prize fight "insiders."

CHARLEY BIRGER, Illinois gang leader and killer, hanged yesterday, told Rabbi Mazur he had twice tried to kill himself since his conviction. Birger hired another killer to work for him, "paying $50 for each shot that entered the body of the man picked for death." The gangster's efforts to kill himself may have been due to fear that he would be unable to keep his nerve facing the hangman.

THERE are old maids in Turkey for the first time since Mohammed, recognizing man's weakness, allowed him a few more wives than one.

Living has gone up 2,000 per cent since before the war. Polygamy has been abolished. Turkish women wear European clothing, no more long veil and dress lasting a lifetime.

YOU are warned that heart disease is increasing rapidly in America. Bootleg whisky has something to do with it. The stupid habit of lashing a tired heart by drinking cocktails on an empty stomach has much to do with it. Gambling helps, and the fast pace of life in general.

NEW YORK CITY is opening a "parents' exposition." It ought to be useful. A most depressing parents' exposition is the modern collection of cocktail drinking young girls, with cigaret-stained fingers, and flask-carrying brothers.

BURLEIGH GRIMES

Manager Donie Bush has nominated Burleigh Grimes, spitball ace, to do the pitching for the Pirates in the second game of the series with the Cardinals at Forbes Field today. Grimes has turned in one of the Bucs' two victories to date, an error robbing him of a shutout in Cincinnati in his last start. Jess Haines will do the flinging for St. Louis.

3 OR 3:30 "PLAY BALL" LEFT TO FANS' VOTE

Would you like to have the starting time of the Pirates' week-end baseball games at Forbes Field this year changed to 3 o'clock, so as to assure earlier finishes and to enable you, even when extra innings are played, to reach home in time for warm evening meals, particularly if you reside in the outlying districts or in suburban towns?

Or would you prefer to adhere to the present custom here and have the games continue to start at 3:30 o'clock except on Saturdays, holidays and double-header days?

That's the big question now before the baseball followers of this section, and it is going to be answered and settled by the ballots of the fans themselves.

A movement for earlier games was started in various parts of the major league circuits this spring, with the result that both of the New York clubs and the Chicago Nationals decided to put their games under way at 3 o'clock each afternoon instead of at 3:30 or later, as in the past.

President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club said that the only persons to be considered in the matter were the game-goers themselves, and accordingly he decided to have the matter determined by a vote.

Beginning this afternoon, therefore, when the Pirates and Cardinals are playing the second game of the local season, the fans of Pittsburgh and environs will be given a chance of expressing their preference for 3 o'clock or 3:30 o'clock as the starting time for the games.

After the game at Forbes Field today has been started, a man, appointed by the club for that purpose, will pass through the grandstand and bleachers and give every patron a printed ballot with voting spaces opposite the words "3 o'clock" and "3:30 o'clock." Each patron will be asked to mark his preference, and shortly afterward a second man selected by the club will go through the stand and bleachers, collect ballots and deposit them in a box in the club office.

Another vote will be taken at tomorrow's game, and the balloting will be continued at the three games with the Cincinnati club to be played here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. Upon the result of the vote will depend whether the Pittsburgh club will continue to start its game at 3:30 o'clock on week days throughout this year, or move them forward half an hour to 3 o'clock.

As a further test to determine whether the majority of local patrons desire an earlier starting time, President Dreyfuss has decided to have all of the five games at which the voting will be done started at 3 o'clock.

Symphony Given $1,000

Mrs. William Maclay Hall, president of the Pittsburgh Symphony Society, stated today that one of the supporters of the orchestra who contributed the sum of $500 for the season which comes to a close with the concert at Syria Mosque on Sunday night, has made a contribution of $1,000 to the society for the next season.

Mrs. Hall made the following statement:

"One of the promoters and subscribers of the Pittsburgh Symphony Society who contributed $500 to our work this season has just notified us that he will give $1,000 for next season. He modestly declines to permit the publication of his name, but in making the subscription he writes that it is done, not merely as an evidence of his interest in the Pittsburgh Symphony Society, but as an incentive to others to come forward and by their financial support make a permanent Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra of Pittsburgh musicians possible."

10,000 Children Ask Symphony Tickets

More than 10,000 applications have been received for tickets to the children's concert which the Pittsburgh Symphony Society will give in Carnegie Hall at 11 a. m. Saturday. Society officials announced today. However, attendance will be limited to the 2,000 capacity of the hall.

Officials have decided to admit, after the program begins, children who do not have tickets, if by any chance there is standing room.

FORD PLANE RUSHES TO FLIERS

DETROIT, April 20.—(AP.)—Carrying the hopes of the stranded trans-Atlantic plane Bremen for an early getaway from isolated Greenley Island, a giant Ford air liner, piloted by Barnt Balchen and Floyd Bennett, took off at 7:07 a. m. from the Ford airport today for Murray Bay, Quebec, on the first leg of the relief expedition.

The second installment of Baron Von Huenefeld's own story of the Bremen's dramatic flight will be found on Page 1, Second Section.

The relief plane was escorted over the Canadian border by a group of 15 Selfridge Field planes. The take-off was without incident, Balchen piloting the huge three-motored plane down the runway and lifting it slowly from the ground. After circling the airport, the plane headed toward Canada. Favorable weather greeted the take-off here.

JUNKERS TELEGRAM

Previous to taking off, Bennett and Balchen received a telegram from Miss Herta Junkers from Lake St. Agnes stating that the weather in that vicinity was favorable.

The plane was to carry repair equipment from Murray Bay to the damaged German plane to enable the ship to be flown to New York, its original goal.

In addition to Bennett and Balchen, the relief ship carried Thomas Mulroy, of New York, and Charles J. V. Murphy.

Heavily laden with mechanical equipment and a 400-gallon gasoline load, indications were the ship would be from 12 to 14 hours in reaching Murray Bay. There, the fliers planned to pick up repair parts and to take on a mechanic and pilot, the latter for guidance to the isolated island.

The relief plane, a three-motored Ford monoplane, has a cruising capacity of more than 2,000 miles and,

30 Days in Vote Fraud

The first sentence to be meted out in the current prosecution of election officials was pronounced in Criminal Court today while a jury was weighing the evidence in the fourth of these cases tried this week.

James H. Bates, Negro, judge of elections in the Ninth district, Third Ward, was sent to the county jail for 30 days by Judge Harry H. Rowand.

Bates had pleaded guilty to negligently performing the duties of an election officer at the September primary.

When Bates was sentenced, Assistant District Attorney Andrew T. Park moved that the charges against the other four members of the board, J. C. Scepy, George Moore, Robert T. Holes, Van R. Withers, be dropped. The court accepted the motion.

"This is an example of an election board making a clean breast of everything," Park pointed out, "and the district attorney's office is willing to recommend leniency in those cases where the election officials come to us with an open, frank story."

Park explained that with Bates' plea, the prosecutors felt that the real offender had been punished.

The case of five members of the election board of the Twentieth district of the Fifth Ward, charged with ballot frauds in the last election, went to the jury shortly before noon.

The accused officials, Myer Angel, judge; John Miller, Negro, and Melvin Kiest, inspectors; John Jacobs and J. W. Jeffries, Negro, clerks, went on trial yesterday. They compose the fourth of the 40 boards charged with irregularities to be placed on trial this week. A total of 200 persons were indicted after the vote scandal in the November election.

Late yesterday, Rody P. Marshall, attorney for all the accused, moved that Judge Graff, of Kittanning, order an acquittal in the case of the five defendants. The court denied the plea and ordered the case to the jury.

NEEDS

Fitzmaurice (above) explains the Bremen's needs to Miss Junkers. Many plans have been discarded and the one of repairing the Bremen has been worked out in detail. The Ford plane makes its consummation possible.

MILES OF FOREST FIRES RAGE

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 20.—Thousands upon thousands of acres of forest lands throughout Pennsylvania were blackened, charred ruins today following one of the heaviest forest fires in the history of the state.

Officials reported that during yesterday and last night more than 400 forest fires were reported from practically every section of the state.

The largest was near Whitney, in Westmoreland county, where 400 acres were burned over.

In the Pike, Lackawanna and Monroe counties district, forest fires, driven by a high wind, caused heavy damage. This section practically was cut off from the outside world.

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 20.—Nearly 1,000 acres of valuable timber have been destroyed in a series of fires which have swept the Forbes Forest district, near Ligonier, in the last 24 hours.

One man, Mike Cruso, a section hand of the Conemaugh Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was seriously burned. He died later in an Indiana hospital.

Grass fires are menacing homes near here.

BUTLER, Pa.—A fire which is eating its way toward this city, in the Meridian and Renfrew district, already has caused damage estimated at $20,000. Five other smaller fires are raging in the county.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 20.—Three forest fires, one along the National Old trails and the others in Pechin and Ferguson districts, have destroyed large tracts of timber, but have been brought under control.

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 20.—Patients in the Allegany County Tuberculosis Sanitarium on Haystack Mountain, menaced by forest

IN TRIM

Albert Bonach, present champion, and Cora Deane, Homestead, are in perfect trim for the opening of the National Marathon Dance, Motor Square Garden, 8:30 o'clock, Monday night.

SEEK COMFORT

Here are five of the entrants getting new—and comfortable—shoes. Ruth Chettle, Brownsville road; Marianne Jacque, West North avenue; Teeney Neiman, Plummer street; Lois Henry, Collins avenue, and Isabelle Hay, Edith street, will use five pairs of shoes each.

CORA DEANE

Miss Deane, Bonach's new partner, was an entrant in the contest when he won his title. She made a creditable showing. Now she is called upon to help a "champion" keep his crown.

MARIANNE JACQUE

On the other hand, Miss Jacque, who won with Bonach, is now dancing with a new partner, Eddie Leonard, former gridder, and hopes to outlast Bonach.

JUST EXAMINED!

Bonach and Miss Deane have been examined by Dr. Daniel E. Sable, in medical charge of the contest. Contestants will be examined, starting at 11 o'clock Monday, at the Garden.

OPERATOR ACCUSES CARRIERS

By MAX HENRICI,
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—J. A. Paisley, who operates numerous coal mines in the Pittsburgh district and in West Virginia, telegraphed Senator Burton K. Wheeler today—and Wheeler read the telegram into the record of the Senate Coal Investigation Committee—that the big anthracite carrying railroads were trying to beat down the price of soft coal for their own consumption to $1.30 a ton. He urged that their purchasing agents be called before the committee.

One of the principal purposes of the Senate inquiry is to ascertain whether, as charged by the United Mine Workers, "the railroad companies and their officials have been or are by agreement or otherwise, endeavoring to depress the labor cost of coal produced by union mine labor."

ADMITS EVICTION

Testimony directly bearing on another question raised in the resolution under which the investigation is being conducted—the question "whether defenseless men, women and children, without cause, have been evicted from their homes"—was given by Samuel D. Brady, president of the insolvent Brady-Warner Coal Company. He admitted having evicted a number of families of striking miners from his company houses, but declared it had been done in a peaceful and lawful manner, after ample notice to vacate had been given. His statements were denied by the United Mine Workers.

Brady told a lurid story of battles between the union men and the strike-breakers and gave the investigating committee a handful of bullets that he said had been fired by the strikers into the homes of the company's nonunion employes.

Another witness on the stand today was Lee Ott, one of the receivers of the West Virginia Coal and Coke Company. He admitted that none of his company's mining villages was incorporated and that police duty was performed by its mine guards and by Deputy sheriffs that it employed. This led to criticism by Senators Burton K. Wheeler and Frank R. Gooding that the coal companies were denying "local self-government" to their employes, and "usurping the people's powers of sovereignty."

"Peace officers," said Senator Gooding, "should be elected by the people."

Senator Guy D. Goff, of West Virginia, defended the action of the coal companies in refusing to incorporate their towns on the ground that incorporation would increase taxes. He also defended the employment of private police, saying it was no worse for the coal companies to do so than for the banks to hire armed guards.

Brady told of outrages committed against his company's nonunion employes. He laid on the table a handful of bullets which he said had been fired into the strikebreakers' homes by the union men. Two men were wounded in that battle, he testified.

In a second battle between the union men and the strikebreakers, Brady said the union hall was burned. He asserted a belief that the union men themselves destroyed the building, but Bittner retorted that he had affidavits that the company's mine guards fired it.

Brock and Schlee Hurt in Auto Smashup

DETROIT, April 20.—(INS.)—Edwin F. Schlee and William S. Brock, who safely flew two-thirds of the way around the world in the Pride of Detroit, today are suffering injuries received in an auto crash.

They were injured in a three-car crash while on their way to a banquet for airmen.

Schlee's nose was gashed and broken and it was reported one of his ribs may be fractured. Brock received contusions.

They arrived at the banquet an hour late, and addressed the diners on the relative hazards of travel by auto and airplane.

DOROTHY M. PALMER

Mrs. Dorothy M. Palmer, 24, and blonde, 427 Bailey avenue, Mt. Washington, has won her divorce—and the right to marry a man with $20,000—her expressed wish in court. But she doesn't want him!' "I found the man with the $20,000 all right," she said when notified she had been granted a decree from James G. Palmer by Judge James B. Drew, "but I wouldn't have him. I've decided if I marry again, I'll marry for love alone."

fires sweeping the district, were removed today to a hospital in this city.

The West Side fire department was called out to battle the flames and prevent their spread to the sanitarium and homes.

Fires were still raging in the forests today, although the wind had abated somewhat. Cumberland is mantled with smoke.

Across the Potomac River the flames were creeping close to Ridgely, W. Va.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 20.—A forest fire which burned a path four miles long and a half mile wide between Layton and Dawson caused several thousand dollars damage. More than 100 men fought the flames. Two fire companies were called.

MOUNT GRETNA, Pa., April 20.—The Pennsylvania National Guard reservation here was threatened with destruction by forest fires which are sweeping large tracts of forest and swamp land near here.

READING, Pa.—The county tuberculosis hospital on the side of Neversink Mountain was threatened by a forest fire which swept a considerable acreage near here yesterday.

SHENANDOAH, Pa.—Two frame dwellings have been destroyed, together with practically all of the young timber on the sides of Maple Hill, near here.

Stand All Night on Heads As Bed Folds; Ask $40,000

LOS ANGELES, April 20.

A NIGHT spent standing on their heads after being suddenly folded up by a patent bed was made the basis of a $40,000 personal injury suit on trial here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Carter, the plaintiffs, named a Los Angeles apartment house owner as the defendant. Mrs. Carter asked $35,000 and the husband sought $5,000 for the night's experience.

Theodore Wold, inventor of the bed, testified yesterday how the device worked, but the Judge indicated he might demand a demonstration in court.

Suit Costs Ku Klux $3,817

The Ku Klux Klan, whose suit against five "banished" members was thrown out of the Federal Court here, must pay $3,817.71 costs, according to a statement filed today by Attorney Van A. Barrickman, defendant-counsel in the case.

Judge W. H. S. Thomson, in branding the klan as having come into court with "unclean hands," and denying federal court jurisdiction, ordered the klan to pay costs.

In Attorney Barrickman's list are included $963 for witness fees at $3 a day; $442.60 for mileage covering 8,852 miles; $1,377 for typewritten depositions, pleadings and affidavits at $1 per page, and $69 for oaths administered at 50 cents each.

UNIONTOWN JUSTICE HOLDS I. W. W. ORGANIZER

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 20.—Joseph Maglisano, I. W. W. organizer, accused of having been responsible for 25 miners' wives attacking 200 nonunion miners on the streets of Masontown, Wednesday, was held for court by Justice of the Peace William A. McCombs, charged with inciting to riot. An effort is being made to obtain his release from jail on $1,000 bail.

CONNELLSVILLE WILL HOLD CLEANUP WEEK

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Arpil 20.—The annual cleanup week begins Monday, according to Mayor J. L. Evans' proclamation. The ban on bonfires has been lifted for the week.

HOME WINE IS RULED ILLEGAL

The Superior Court today held that possession of homemade wine of high alcoholic content is illegal. Judges Henderson and Trexler dissented. The decision was in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Peter Alexander, Bradford county, argued in Philadelphia, last October. A new trial was granted.

Alexander was charged with possessing, selling and manufacturing wine containing more than one half of 1 per cent alcohol. He was convicted on the first charge and acquitted on the other two.

The question involved was the making of fruit juices in which fermentation occurs naturally.

"We conclude that possession of intoxicating liquor, produced by natural fermentation of fruit juices for use as a beverage in private dwelling is not exempted by the statute," the court says. "To hold that the Legislature intended to permit the possession of intoxicating cider or fruit juice, if the intoxicating quality results from natural fermentation would be wholly inconsistent with the statute and in conflict with the Eighteenth Amendment."

The first "customer" at the P. H. Butler store, 1207 Federal street, who arrived a few minutes after Fred Rome, manager, opened the store today, covered Rome with a revolver and took $25 from the cash register.

Meat valued at $100 was stolen from the Star Meat Market, 414 Fourth avenue, last night.

Stephen Sempler, taxi driver, hauled two passengers from Sixteenth street and Liberty avenue, to Seventeenth street, when they beat him and after taking $10, pushed him out of the cab, he reported to police this morning.

BLIZZARD RAGING

QUEBEC, Que., April 20.—That Capt. Hermann Koehl, Baron Ehrenfried Von Huenefeld and Maj. James E. Fitzmaurice, the first fliers to span the North Atlantic in a westward flight, will reach New York in the early part of next week, seemed assured today.

Everything is in readiness for rushing repair parts and fuel to Greenley Island, where the Junkers monoplane Bremen is stranded, slightly damaged and with practically no fuel in its tanks.

The only thing which may further delay rescue plans is a raging blizzard now sweeping the region between this city and Murray Bay.

Bernt Balchen and Floyd Bennett, crack pilots of Commander Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition, took off for Murray Bay from Detroit today.

The Ford ship, a huge affair of the same type Byrd will use on his Polar expedition, will pick up Maj. Fitzmaurice, a Junkers mechanic, the repair parts and fuel at Murray Bay and then make another flight to Greenley Island. It is probable that Miss Herta Junkers will go along to Greenley Island.

BARON STARTS REPAIRS

GREENLEY ISLAND, April 20.—(By Airplane to Seven Islands, Que., and Murray Bay and by Land Wire to New York.)—The Arctic stillness of this desolate ice-bound island was broken today by the clang of hammer blows and the rattle of tools where a little group of workers, including Baron Von Huenefeld and Capt. Herman Koehl, were dismantling the propeller and the broken landing gear of the famous trans-Atlantic plane Bremen.

It is hoped that Maj James E. Fitzmaurice, the third member of the famous sky skimming trio, will arrive tonight or tomorrow morning with replacement parts so that repairs can be made immediately. Baron Von Huenefeld wants to reach New York Tuesday, if possible.

Bremen to Fly Back Across Atlantic

LAKE STE. AGNES, Que., April 20.—(By Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)—The German monoplane, Bremen, will be flown from New York to Germany, making the first round-trip flight over the Atlantic Ocean, Capt. Koehl told the Canadian Press correspondent before the latter's departure from Greenley Island for Murray Bay. The correspondent arrived here this morning.

Capt. Koehl told the Canadian Press correspondent that it would take six or seven days after the receipt of spare parts before the Bremen could be put in shape to leave Greenley Island.

The plane on which the Canadian Press reporter returned from the island brought out the first news reel pictures to be made of the damaged plane since it landed after its ocean flight a week ago today.

FAYETTE BUSINESS MEN MAKE 9,783 MI. SURVEY

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 20.—William Sellers and Albert N. DeMuth, local business men, make their own business survey. Returning from a six weeks' tour, during which they traveled 9,783 miles by auto through the West, South and Pacific coast, they announced conditions in the east are best. There is more optimism in the far western states.

HOLD VARE MAN FOR SENATE

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(INS.)—Thomas W. Cunningham, sheriff of Philadelphia, was indicted on six counts by the grand jury today for his refusal to reveal to the Senate Campaigns Funds Committee the source of his $50,000 contribution to the Vare senatorial campaign in Pennsylvania.

The Senate ordered his prosecution on contempt charges.

Similar action was taken recently in the case of Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of Standard Oil of Indiana, when he declined to answer questions put by the Teapot Dome committee.

Cunningham testified before the Reed committee here and at a special session in Chicago. A count was returned in the indictment for each time he refused to answer a question.

He probably will be arrested on a removal warrant issued by the federal court here and arrange bond for his arraignment in Washington.

TWO HURT, CAR CRUSHED IN CROSSING CRASH

SPLINTERS

Two persons were injured when a freight car on the Harmony interurban lines crashed into an automobile (above) at Wexford Station crossing. The machine was jammed against a heavy wooden milk platform and tossed in a culvert, a twisted mass of junk. Hugh S. Brown, Saybrook apartments, and Miss Ruth Smith, Bellevue school teacher, are in Suburban General Hospital.

COAL RATE RELIEF IS DELAYED

Pittsburgh coal operators are given no hope of immediate relief by presidents of eastern trunk line railroads in the fight to obtain lower rates on lake cargo coal.

Negative action for the present on telegrams sent to executives of the Pennsylvania, Baltimore and Ohio and New York Central Railroads by the Pittsburgh Coal Operators' Rate Committee Wednesday night has defeated Ohio and Western Pennsylvania shippers in efforts to compete with the southern fields in the lake cargo market in the opening of the present season.

The answer received by the operators was indicated yesterday by Vice President E. T. Whiter of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in a statement to The Sun-Telegraph in which he declared that the coal men were jeopardizing their own case before the Interstate Commerce Commission by asking the northern carriers to further reduce their rates on lake coal.

UNIONTOWN CHURCH SELECTS NEW PASTOR

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 20.—The Rev. S. A. Paddock, of Buffalo, N. Y., has been chosen pastor of the Central Christian Church to succeed the Rev. Dr. Joel Lee Jones, leader of the "anti-sprinkling" forces in the Tower Hill controversy last fall. The new minister has been engaged in church and educational promotional work for seven years.

30 MINERS BEATEN BY WOMEN

MASONTOWN, Pa., April 20.—The second attack by women on nonunion miners in three days occurred here this morning. A dozen wives and daughters of striking miners, drew clubs and pokers from beneath aprons and set upon 30 men waiting for a street car to take them to work.

Mounted state police broke up the melee.

PICKETS CHASED

CLASH AT EXPORT

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 20.—Striking miners, their wives, children and sympathizers clashed with deputy sheriffs and state police at the Export mine of the Pittsburgh Coal Company this morning. A crowd of 500 marched along the road and stopped miners going to work. State police arrested three.

FREIGHT AGENT DIES FROM AUTO INJURIES

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 20.—Fred M. Steinbarger, commercial freight agent for the Western Maryland Railroad, died yesterday from injuries received in an automobile accident more than a month ago.

Girl Saves Her Mother in Fire

SAVED

Mrs. Belle Ketter, 40, was carried from her sick bed when fire swept her home.

FIRE DAMAGED

The Ketter home, one of five dwellings in Kelly avenue which were damaged by fire started when sparks from a bonfire were blown beneath a porch. The Ketter home is at 622. Miss Ketter, unable to carry her mother, ran to the street for pedestrians to save her.

CALLS HELP

Miss Winona Ketter ran to the street and summoned help to rescue her ill mother.

DEMOCRAT LEADER DIES

John J. McKelvey, 57, veteran in Democratic politics, a member of the board of registration and former director of the city Department of Charities, died in Passavant Hospital today. He had been ill only a short time.

Beginning as a special delivery boy at the postoffice, McKelvey entered political life as a councilman from the old Tenth Ward. He first was appointed on the registration board by the late Gov. Pennypacker. He was named director of charities by Mayor Armstrong and served two terms.

McKelvey was a member of the old "Steps" group of Democratic leaders headed by the late William J. Brennen, that dominated local Democratic politics for many years. He was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church and of the Eagles. He resided at 6465½ Aurelia street.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Mollie McKelvey; one daughter, Catherine; his mother, Mrs. Mary McKelvey, and a brother, Edward McKelvey.

SHARON, Pa., April 20.—Police are investigating the finding of the body of the girl baby on the east bank of the Shenango River here. An autopsy revealed the babe had been drowned.

CHANGE HOUR FOR MARATHON START

Due to the extensive entertainment plans made in honor of Andrew J. "Bossy" Gillis, the mayor of Newburyport, Mass., the opening of the national marathon dance tournament, which starts in Motor Square Garden Monday, will be at 8:30 p. m. instead of 2 p. m. as previously announced. Mayor Gillis will be master of ceremonies at the tournament.

He will spend Monday, after meeting Mayor Charles H. Kline in the City-County Building, in a tour of the various industrial plants. A banquet in his honor will be held in his suite of rooms at the William Penn prior to the opening of the marathon.

All contestants in the marathon, Milton D. Crandall and John L. Hernon, promoters of the affair, announced, must report at Motor Square Garden at 11 a. m. where a medical board, under supervision of Dr. Daniel E. Sable, chief city surgeon, will examine each entrant.

Coal Not Election Worries W. Va., Says Will

WILL ROGERS.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., April 20.—Was in Maryland last night. Everybody can get a drink there but Sinclair's race horses. They have closed the saloons to them. Say this Senator Goff, of West Virginia, is pulling a Jim Watson down here. He kinder acts like he is serious about this Republican presidential nomination. This state is worried more about how to make a coal mine pay than it is about presidential candidates. The D. A. R.'s canned William Randolph Emporia White as speaker and used President Coolidge as substitute. Mr. Coolidge that night stole Gov. Ritchie's act, state rights, and didn't do it as good as Ritchie, so now the D. A. R.'s want to re-instate White. It's about time for this Ohio River to get up and as there has been no flood relief passed, I am going to get out of here.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Pinchots Flayed by Detrich

TOWANDA, Pa., April 20.—(AP.)—A. Nevin Detrich, state personnel director, said last night that he was campaigning for Louis T. McFadden against Mrs. Cornelia Bryce Pinchot in the Fifteenth Congressional District "on my own time, at my own expense, and as a Pennsylvania Republican interested in doing my bit to drive out of Pennsylvania the hypocrisy, selfishnes, and false pretense for which the Pinchots stand."

Detrich's statement was made in connection with Mrs. Pinchot's message to Gov. Fisher yesterday, in which she said Detrich was campaigning for McFadden "on state time" and asked the Governor to stop such campaigning.

BETTER HOMES AIM OF NEW CIVIC BODY

The Pittsburgh Housing Association, whose members aim to promote better housing conditions in the Pittsburgh district, was organized yesterday at a luncheon in the William Penn Hotel.

Representatives of 30 agencies interested in the housing problem, including realtors, architects, lumber dealers and civic and social welfare associations, were present.

Another meeting will be held within two weeks, at which time the organization will be completed and officers elected. G. Brown Hill presided at the meeting and R. W. Elton was appointed temporary secretary.

How One Thin Woman Gained 11 Pounds

Read This Letter

This is from Mrs. W. E. Looney—I just must tell you that McCoy's Tablets are the finest things I have ever tried. I have always been thin and never found anything to do me so much good. I was disappointed in the beginning.

I weighed 104 when I began—now I weigh 115½. I praise them. I can't be without them. My limbs are picking up fine. I am singing their praises to everyone I see. I didn't have a faith in them to start.

Signed (Mrs. W. E. Looney)
Tennessee.
Oct. 16th, 1927.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking four 60-cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or two $1 boxes any thin, under-weight man or woman doesn't gain at least five pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at May's Drug Stores or any drug store in America.

Misses' Frocks at $25.00 To Fill Many Demands

This group will interest the girl who must make one dress serve many purposes. Among the frocks suited to wear under one's dressy coat, there are many smart, simple ones which will look well on the street when wraps are laid aside, and others sufficiently fluffy to wear to evening bridge parties.

They are of flat crepe, georgette crepe, and prints in unusual patterns.

Two or Three-Piece Suits Which Have Long Coats

There are misses' suits of tweed, Oxford covert, and kashara in black or navy, with long or seven-eighths coats and wrap-around skirts, at $29.50. And suits of the same type made of semi-sports cloths, accompanied by blouses or sweaters, at $39.50.

One of these suits will make a good-looking costume for the street, for business, and to wear to sports events; and it may be varied by wearing different blouses, sweaters or dresses with the coat.

Including Washable Silks

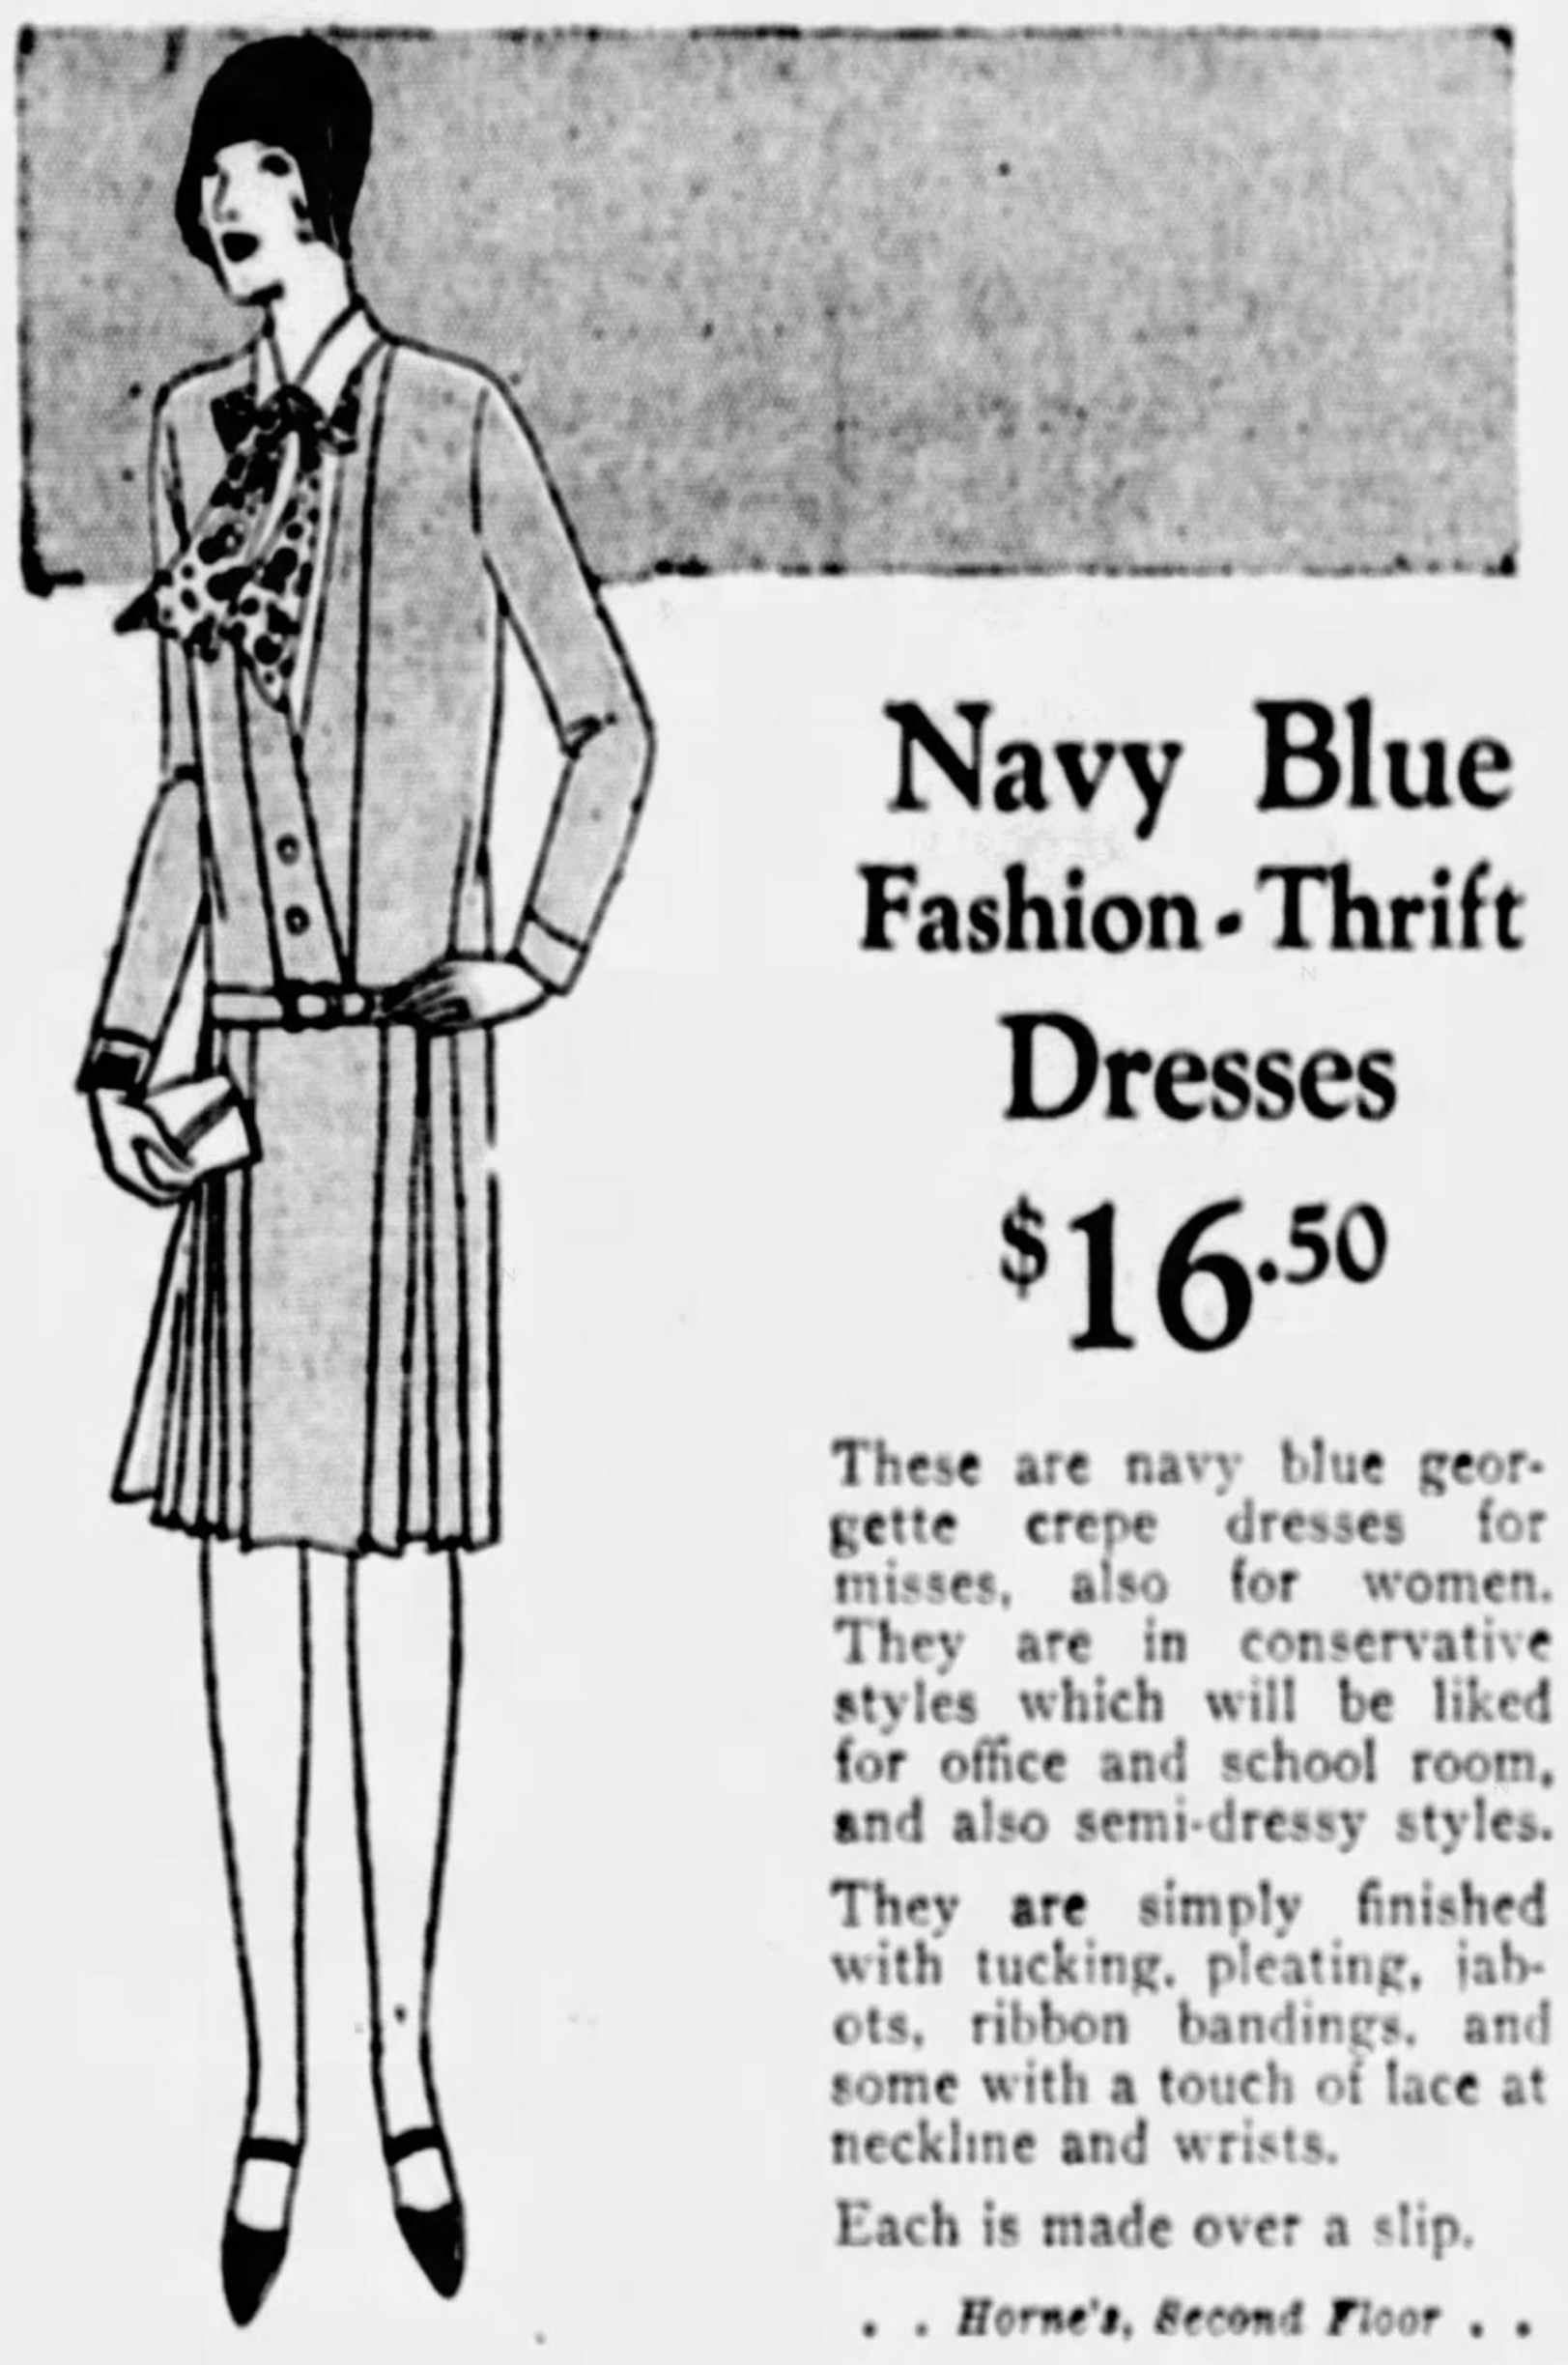
Tomorrow when Miss 13-to-17 sees this delightful group of dresses, including tubable crepe de chines with colors like a garden of roses, besides practical navy blue georgette and silk crepe ones, she will buy for the future as well as the present.

There Are 12 New Styles

In the light-colored tubable crepes, there are sports styles with ties, simple ones finished with fagoting, and dressier models with collars of Irish lace. Long and short-sleeved models. (One style sketched at right).

In navy blue silk crepe there are tailored styles; and in navy blue georgette, there are street frocks, some with a touch of blonde lace for trimming.

. . . Horne's, Second Floor . . .



Navy Blue Fashion-Thrift Dresses

$16.50

These are navy blue georgette crepe dresses for misses, also for women. They are in conservative styles which will be liked for office and school room, and also semi-dressy styles.

They are simply finished with tucking, pleating, jabots, ribbon bandings, and some with a touch of lace at neckline and wrists.

Each is made over a slip.

SOHO WELFARE HOUSE MUST GO MAY 10

The Soho Community House, 2404 Fifth avenue, must be razed or removed by May 10, Council has decreed. At a public hearing it was charged that the building is dangerous and creating a fire hazard.

Both Fire Marshal Thomas L. Pfarr and Fire Chief Richard L. Smith declared the building a menace. The association operating the community house has not decided whether to move the building or tear it down. Alexander Murdoch appeared for the association.

Mrs. Frank Glover said the Civic Club would not be responsible for the operation of the community activities and suggested the structure be razed and the site developed into a playground.

Sport vs. Society--Kline Quits Tea For Game

Sport won over society.

Mayor Charles H. Kline and Mrs. Kline were in the receiving line at a tea given by Mrs. William J. Fendner, 352 Stratford avenue, yesterday. They left early to attend the ball game.

One hundred and fifty guests heard Congressman Harry A. Estep give an informal talk. Mrs. W. H. Carson, candidate for City-County Committee in the Fourth District, Eighth Ward, was the guest of honor.

HOMESTEAD WOMAN LEAVES HEIRS $10,000

Mrs. Mary Ann Carrigan, of Homestead, in her will probated today, left $10,000 to her nieces and nephews. Martin Brown, 4060 Howley street, left a $15,000 estate to be divided equally between his wife, Elizabeth, and their four children.

Women Who Love Beautiful Skin

Buttermilk Works Wonders

To quickly reduce big pores, smooth out wrinkles, tone and tighten sagging muscles that spoil your youthful freshness, simply pat on Howard's Buttermilk Cream at night or before you go out.

It speedily vanishes into the skin and you can notice at once a decided improvement in its texture and tone. Just one trial of Howard's Buttermilk Cream and you'll never go back to other creams as astringents. At May's Drug Stores and all druggists.

Sore Throat Wisdom

To relieve Sore Throat you must get at the seat of the disease, counteracting the cause. Tonsiline is prepared and sold for that one purpose. A dose of Tonsiline taken upon the first appearance of Sore Throat may save long days of sickness. Use a little Sore Throat wisdom and buy a bottle of Tonsiline today. You may need it tomorrow. Insist on the bottle with the long necked fellow on it when you get it.

RECOVERS HEALTH; RETURNS TO WORK

Local Lady Tells How Ten Herbs Ended Her Husband's Long Suffering.

"My husband, Mr. Lyle P. Wiley, was in such poor health that he had not worked for two years," was the statement of Mrs. Addie L. Wiley, 201 Cremo Street, North Side, Pittsburgh, to the Ten Herbs Man who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating the popular new herbal compound, Ten Herbs. "He read about your medicine in the newspapers, and decided to try it, with the result that now he feels stronger and better in every respect—in fact, he has returned to work," Mrs. Wiley continued.

"Before taking Ten Herbs, he suffered with indigestion and had poor appetite. Gas bothered his heart terribly. He bloated and had pains at night. He was constipated, and his liver was in such bad condition that he had dizzy spells and lacked energy. There were such awful pains in his back that he could not turn in bed while lying on his back, and he had to arise three or four times at night. He got very weak and run down. He lost weight, and got so nervous that he could not sleep. His feet and hands were cold from poor circulation.

"The third bottle of Ten Herbs made him look better and feel more like himself. His appetite has improved and he has good digestion. There is no more gas or bloating. Constipation has been relieved. He does not have to arise at night, and the pains are gone from his back. His kidneys seem to be working properly. He is free of dizzy spells and has more ambition. His nerves are stronger and he gets a good night's sleep. He is gaining in weight, and feels so fine that he does not hesitate to recommend Ten Herbs to the public."

The wonderful herbal ingredients in Ten Herbs benefit and invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. This new compound is a splendid spring tonic, as it gives the entire system a thorough cleansing.

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

BLAZE VICTIM SUCCUMBS IN HOSPITAL

Pneumonia which developed as a result of smoke inhaled during a fire in her home caused the death of Mrs. Julia Braun, 71, of 924 Orchard street, Knoxville, in the South Side Hospital last night.

She breathed the smoke in attempting to extinguish a blaze last Sunday.

WAR FOES CHEER EACH OTHER

Sixty-five defenders of the "German front" last night stood up and gave three crashing "hochs" for the United States. They were German and Austrian veterans of the World War—Uhlans, machine gunners, Prussian Guards, artillerymen, flyers—who were the guests of Pittsburgh City Post No. 59, American Legion, at a smoker and reception in the William Penn Hotel. Extending warmly hands from "across the Rhine," it was the first fraternal meeting here of the mortal foes of 1 years ago.

A great cheer from the Americans greeted the ringing "hochs" of the Teutons, and the address of welcome by Post Commander Ira M. Smith was as enthusiastically received by the guests. John E. Loibl, German vice consul in Pittsburgh, spoke on behalf of the German guests and predicted that ex-service men of the Kaiser would be as faithful and loyal in their American citizenship as millions of their countrymen of former generations who sought liberty and freedom on the shores of America.

The formal address was made by Dr. Heinz Langer, now a member of the staff of the West Penn Hospital, who was a medical officer in the German army. He said his comrades greeted their former foes as friends, and soon would claim the boast of being fellow citizens.

Julius C. Pierce, ace of the Twenty-seventh German Flying Squadron, related his experience in battling American fliers. Another aviator who entertained the good-will gathering was Maj. W. N. Breingan, who served in the British Royal Flying Corps, after having won the Mons medal in the cavalry of the "Contemptibles." He later saw service in Egypt.

JOHNSTOWN STUDENT, FRIEND HURT IN CRASH

HUNTINGDON, Pa., April 20.—(AP.)—Michael J. Reilly, 28, of Baltimore, and Frank J. Bradley, 23, of Johnstown, Pa., students at the University of Maryland, were injured severely near here yesterday when their automobile crashed into a stone abutment in the William Penn highway. They are in a hospital here.

Another Big Addition to the Richman Factory in Cleveland Now Under Construction

Keeping Pace With the Fastest Growing Sales in Clothing History

RICHMAN'S CLOTHES

We can offer no stronger evidence that Richman's Clothes are winning new hosts of friends, each week, than the fact that it is frequently necessary for us to increase our manufacturing facilities and production. THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH

Invasion of Screen Gunmen And Hi-Jackers Under Way as Studios Go Underworld-Mad

By MILDRED FILLMORE

TAKE advice—lock the doors and bolt the windows. Headed this direction is a young army of hi-jackers, gunmen, thugs and some old-fashioned second-story men—one of the finest collections of underworld specimens the movies have assembled to date. In fact, this crook invasion from movieland already has reached Pittsburgh. Right now we are harboring the immaculate killer, Edmund Lowe, and the gangster leader, Lon Chaney. It is but recently, too, that "Underworld" and some of Ralph Ince's gunmen-efforts were with us.

But what we have had and have in the crook line is nothing compared with what we are to get. Screen heroes, who were good Christian boys when we saw them in their last fadeouts, are swarming into the Kleig-light glare as criminals. Some of our nicest heroines have become ever so bad—before the cameras. Yes, they're underworld-mad—those movie makers—that's what they are.

Paramount studios, it seems, leads in turning out crook photoplays. "Underworld" came from there. Some others in the making and some which though completed, are yet to be released, including "Feel My Pulse," a bootleg story with Bebe Daniels; "Partners in Crime," a Wallace Beery-Raymond Hatton vehicle; "Something Always Happens," with a jewel theft background and Esther Ralston; "Fools for Luck," co-featuring W. C. Fields and Chester Conklin as fake oil promoters; Clara Bow's crook picture, "Ladies of the Mob," Emil Jannings', "The Street of Sin;" "The Dragnet," featuring George Bancroft, Evelyn Brent and Fred Kohler, and "The Big Killing."

Paramount also plans The "Canary Murder Case" and "Beggars of Life."

Lon Chaney, who has made many crook appearances on the screen goes straight in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Easy Money," portraying a police detective who unravels a baffling murder mystery. "Diamond Handcuffs," another M-G-M production, has the underworld element. And Karl Dane and George K. Arthur are doing a comedy crook story, "Detectives."

Fox Studios offer "Square Crooks," with Robert Armstrong, Johnny Mack Brown and Dorothy Dwan; "Thief in the Dark," which is heralded as an expose of fake spiritualism, and these two others, soon to go into production—"Me, Gangster," with Raoul Walsh, directing, and "The River Pilot."

Then there's "The Bellamy Trial," a modern mystery story. Leatrice Joy, Kenneth Thomson and Betty Bronson are in the cast.

Richard Barthelmess plays a dual role, that of two brothers, in First National's "Roulette." One of the brothers is a scarred-face gangster.

LENORE ULRIC COMING

Lenore Ulric is to be the headliner of the Keith-Albee vaudeville bill announced for the Davis next week. She is to offer a dramatic playlet, "A Legend of London," written especially for her.

Walter Hampden this week in New York ends a four years' occupancy of his own theater, and on Monday night in the Alvin he will inaugurate a brief tour of five cities before he begins preparations for his next season. "Hamlet" is to be his opening play in the Alvin.

Anne Forrest and Mabel Kroman are pitted against each other for the love of a college boy in "Young Blood," announced for presentation by the George Sharp Players in the Pitt next week. Ralph Morgan and Gus Forbes play other leading roles.

The third week of "Wings" in the Nixon opens next Monday matinee at 2:30 o'clock. At the matinees of the first five days of the week a large photograph of Clara Bow, the heroine of "Wings," will be given out to all women attending.

DOUBLE-BARREL DIVORCE ASKED

A double divorce via radio was asked at two hearings before Judge James H. Gray yesterday.

Mrs. Estella M. Myers, 429 Biddle avenue, asked severance from Ralph R. Myers, 3887 Bigelow boulevard while George C. Steffler, 1915 Howard street asked a divorce from Nellie M. Steffler, also of 3887 Bigelow boulevard.

Mrs. Myers named Mrs. Steffler as co-respondent while Steffler named Myers. Myer's own mother testified against him.

Back in 1910, Mrs. Myers, a comely milliner, married Myers, a salesman for the Stoddard-Dayton, an automobile that chugg-chugged before the radio was heard of. Now the Stoddard-Dayton is made no more and Myers installs radios and how.

According to the testimony Myers installed one for Steffler and the next thing Steffler knew his wife had gone with another man the radio installer, Steffler charges.

Mrs. Myers testified that prior to November, 1927, Myers had been remaining away from home "on business" from Monday until Saturday. She said she suspected nothing until one day Mrs. Steffler came to see her and asked if she was married to Myers. Mrs. Steffler told her, she said, that she had married Myers and exhibited a ring. The two women wept and compared notes, Mrs. Steffler finally agreeing to give Mrs. Myers letters she said Myers had written her.

Mrs. Myers employed Walter Hockworth, a detective, who reported finding Myers and Mrs. Steffler living at 3887 Bigelow boulevard.

Mrs. Steffler offered to take Myers to his wife and have him admit he cared more for Mrs. Steffler, Mrs. Myers testified, but this arrangement was never carried out.

Mrs. Charlotte Myers, mother of Myers, testified that Mrs. Steffler had tried to get her to influence her son in Mrs. Steffler's behalf. She said her son denied everything to her, but added that she had not seen him for several months.

Steffler testified that he did not know where his wife had gone until Mrs. Myers' attorney called on him to ascertain if Mrs. Steffler was married. Later he decided to ask for a divorce and the two cases were brought into court together.

Judge Gray will render a decision later.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

LOVE SYMPTOMS

THIS is the time of year when you have to diagnose yourself to find out whether it's the lovelight or the moonlight in your eyes that gives you that dizzy feeling.

Spring fever and the love fever are superficially so easily confused that you are in danger of skidding all the way to the altar before you discover whether it is your heart or just your pulse that is causing the vertigo.

But it's LOVE when you suddenly discover that all your old "affairs" were nothing but curtain raisers for the Big Drama.

HELEN ROWLAND

When something sings inside you all day long—and you actually feel happy before breakfast!

When you start at the sound of the telephone, and would rather sit at home and listen for his "ring" than go to the prom with somebody else.

When you can visualize him minus a collar and a shave, without shuddering.

When every topic of conversation leads to him, and you insist on quoting him until all your friends begin to hate him.

When you can look at his thin spot on top and reflect that a bald head is "nice and clean looking, anyhow."

When the erotic scenes in the movie plays no longer seem "silly" to you, and everything, from the latest love song to the furniture advertisements, has a new and glamorous meaning for you.

When you wonder how you ever managed to LIVE before you knew him!

These are some of the love symptoms. Watch your step!

Our greatest glory is not in never failing, but in rising every time we fall.—CONFUCIUS.

THE affairs generally on this day are under a fortunate rule of the stars, but new ventures had best be postponed and the attention concentrated on matters and contracts already established. New enterprises are subject to elements of treachery and fraud. With judgment finances should prosper and business generally bring satisfaction.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a year of success and financial satisfaction in old-established lines, but may find new projects subject to deception, fraud or misrepresentation.

A child born on this day should have a deep and penetrating mind and should succeed in its affairs if it will exercist due precaution against treachery and fraud.

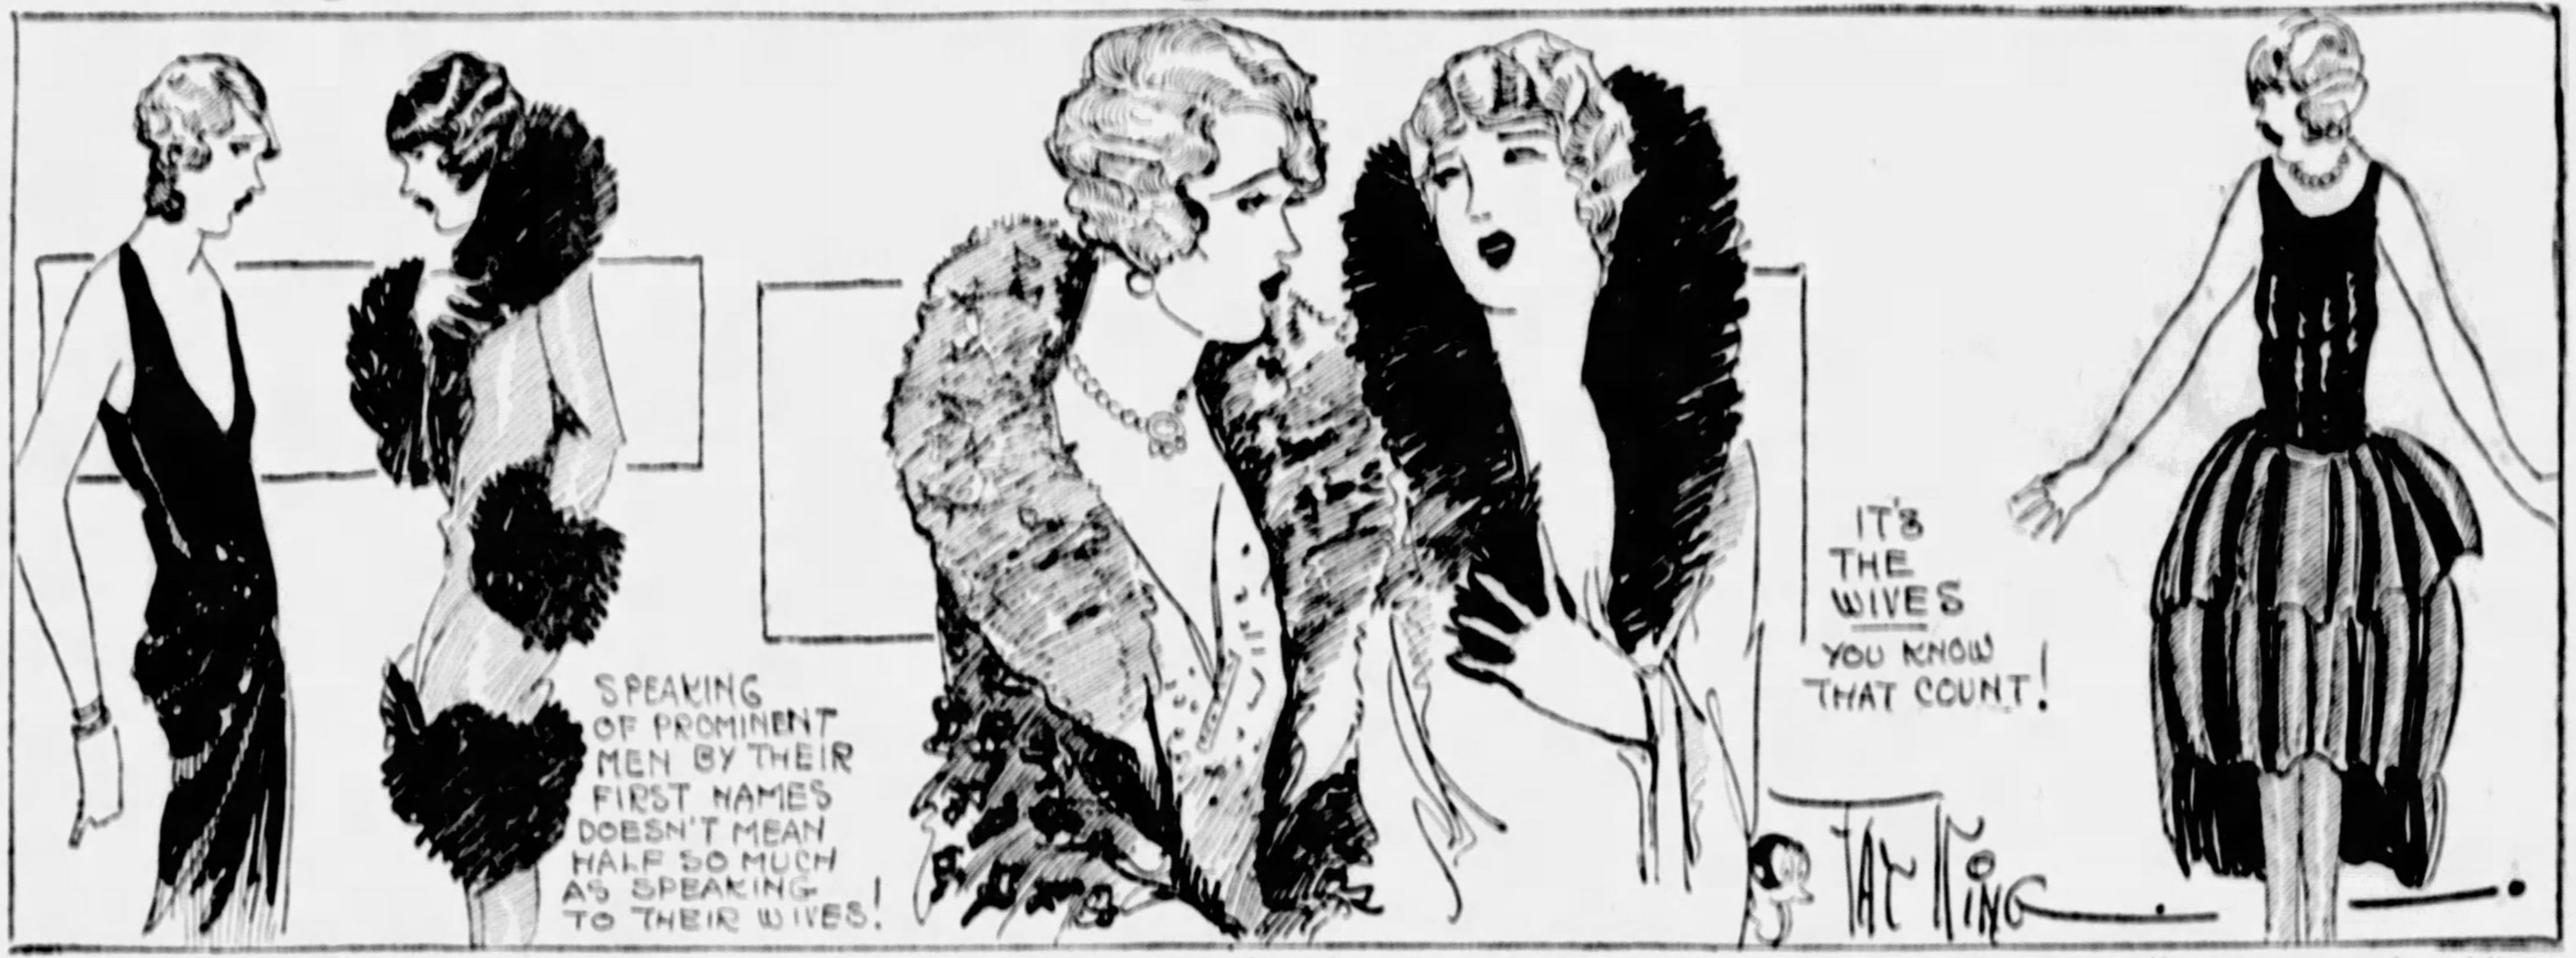
Big Men's Wives Important, Says Fay King



SPEAKING OF PROMINENT MEN BY THEIR FIRST NAMES DOESN'T MEAN HALF SO MUCH AS SPEAKING TO THEIR WIVES!
IT'S THE WIVES YOU KNOW THAT COUNT!
FAY KING

By FAY KING.

THE laughing ladies of the gay night life may call many prominent men by their first names,

But a girl knows that it is not how many prominent men you can call by their first names, but how many prominent wives you can call by their last name and receive a cordial response that really counts!

Prominent men are very often jolly and enjoy the diversion of a different sphere in their playtime. But they also have a way of never confusing the pals and friends of their playtime with the really important circle of their homes.

The wife of the prominent man is not disturbed by these good-fellowships. She knows that when he is in the really important places that count with the world in general and himself in particular, she is by his side!

One word from a worthy wife can mean more in a girl's favor than any attention to her by a man ever so important whose interests and friendly help are well known in all circles,

One often hears a pretty girl say she has ever so many men friends, but does not care for women. One wonders what kind of women she has known.

After all, it is the women who give the real rating in a community.

No woman can have any real standing in a community unless she is liked and accepted by the women of standing in that community.

Prominent men may introduce their playmates to their pals, but it's the woman they introduce to their wives that count!

Dicky Teases Mary Harrison About Young Veritzen

THE rest of that Sunday, the first of Dicky's visits to The Larches for the purpose of sketching Eleanor Lincoln, passed quietly and uneventfully. Worn out by the emotional storm which I had experience and knowing that Junior was safe in Katherine's care, I pleaded a headache which was, indeed, no subterfuge, and passed the morning in bed, appearing only in time for the early afternoon Sunday dinner which is always a feature of our household routine, and which gives Katie a chance for the rest of the day to herself, as we always make an impromptu picnic of Sunday night's supper.

I should have liked to keep to my room all day, but I was too proud to let Dicky perceive my real feeling toward his horseback ride with Eleanor Lincoln and his sketching of her. By the time we met at dinner, I had banished every trace of emotion from my face, and met him on our old footing of scrupulous unemotional civility.

That he was piqued and puzzled, I saw and guessed that he had expected I would be sulky or at least low-spirited. But I exerted myself to the last ounce of my resolution to join in the gay talk and laughter with which Lillian and Marion, exhilarated by their home coming and relief from work and study, set the conversational pace for the rest of the table.

There is a telepathy of misery, however, and I soon realized that another person at the table was indulging in an orgie of self introspection. One look at the shadowed eyes in Mary Harrison's piquant, lovely face told me that she was keenly disappointed by Noel's defection. Never before during his sojourn at the Ticer farmhouse had he failed to put in an appearance on Sunday morning.

It was Dicky who, with masculine obtuseness, voiced the question which each woman at the table was asking herself, but which consideration for Mary forbade her uttering.

"What happened to your shadow, Mary?" her uncle asked. "Man and boy I've been at this dinner table for 60 odd years, and never had Noel failed to slide himself into the chair next to you. Has Papa slapped him on the wrist and told him he's too young to be squiring the gals around?"

I shot a quick furitive glance at Lillian, wondering if she realized as I did how near to the probable truth Dicky had come with his burlesque comment. I expected her to interpolate some nonsense of her own in order to save Mary the embarrassment of a reply, but the young girl once more proved her histrionic power in the apparently carefree laugh she managed.

"Oh, Uncle Dicky!" she gurgled, "you are so funny! For I imagine that's just what dear old Papa Veritzen is doing. He doesn't approve of romance for his only son, I fancy. But I'm sort of glad. Noel's a good egg, but not hard enough boiled. I like 10-minute ones. And he was getting on my nerves a bit. But I shall miss him around the house, I've gotten sort of used to him."

"In other words, he's like an old footstool that you get tired of kicking out of the way, eh, Mary?" her uncle inquired.

"Exactly," Mary returned, laughing as she spoke. But she could not hide the shadows in her eyes.

Some Simple Ways to Avoid Bronchitis

THIS is the time of year when colds are common. If the catarrhal condition did not extend beyond the nose, it would not be particularly serious. Unfortunately, it does not spend its efforts in an attack upon the nasal tubes. Too many times it goes down into the bronchial tubes.

DR. COPELAND

When this happens we are dealing with a disease called bronchitis. It is an unwelcome affliction. In the acute form it may run its course in a few days, or it may become chronic, lingering on for months.

In children, adenoids and diseased tonsils have much to do with its occurrence. In some adults there seems to be a peculiar lack of resistance to it. Anything lowering the general health prepares the way for an attack of bronchitis. Among the things which bring on the attacks are colds, infectious diseases, exposure to chilling and contaminated atmosphere, any upset in digestion, and other debilitating things.

Bronchitis is a common accompaniment of measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, influenza and other infections. It frequently follows pleurisy.

The chronic form is more common in persons past middle life. The attacks may occur at stated intervals each year. The conditions of city life—smoke, bad air, indoor life, late hours, predispose to it. An uneven temperature is a contributing factor.

Whether chronic or acute, bronchitis is characterized by paroxysmal attacks of coughing and the expectoration of mucus. Sometimes this is streaked with blood.

There is always difficult breathing and "rales." This is the word doctors use to describe the rattling sound in the chest familiar to everybody who has come in contact with a case of bronchitis.

Science has not yet discovered anything that will prevent recurrences of the attacks in those who are susceptible to the disease. Uncomfortable as the attacks are to the sufferer, and alarming as they sometimes appear to the observer, there is usually little danger from them.

The best way to avoid bronchitis is to keep the general health in good condition. Overcome constipation, if it is present—as it nearly always is in this condition. Eat simple food and take your meals regularly. Live in as even a temperature as possible. Avoid chilling and overheating, dust, smoke and bad air. Take regular exercise, sleep with open windows, and above all, so far as it is possible, live in the sunshine and fresh air.

Answers to Health Questions

Pat. Q.—What benefit will be derived from drinking buttermilk? Does it make blood?

A.—It is good for digestion and very nutritious. It is not particularly a blood builder. Most of the green vegetables are helpful in this respect.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

With "Little Season" Just Started, Society Already Makes Plans for Weddings This Fall

IT IS exciting to plan things, isn't it? Society folks evidently think so, too, for they are always planning something—a benefit, a dinner, an announcement party, a trip abroad, or a sojourn in a winter or summer resort, or a wedding. Now that the wedding season is here—for April, May and June are especially popular with the victims of the god of love—young folks are already planning fall weddings

A very interesting fall wedding you'll find, I'm sure, will be that of pretty Sarah Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes, of Haverford, and Thomas Morrison, Jr., of Pittsburgh and Pinehurst. Their wedding date has been set for October 6.

Mr. Morrison is the son of the Thomas Morrisons and a brother of Mrs. John S. McKelvy, Jr., of the Schenley Apartments.

Varying the weddings that dominate Pittsburgh's "little season" are many bridge luncheons, which never seem to lose their popularity. Mrs. J. Harper Lyle, of Beechwood boulevard, entertained with a bridge luncheon this afternoon in her home in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Howard N. Deyo, of Montclair, N. J., and Virginia Corbus Patterson, daughter of the Harry H. Pattersons, of Beechwood boulevard. Mrs. Deyo, the former Elizabeth Armor Lyle, will spend about a fortnight with her parents. Virginia, you will recall, will wed Murray Bell Grimes, son of William Dermitt Grimes, of South Negley avenue, on June 26.

There are going to be some charming aides at the bridge benefit which the social service committee of the Homeopathic Hospital will give at the Longvue Country Club Wednesday. A buffet luncheon, by the way, will be served at 2 o'clock. Helen Murdock is in charge of the aides for the event. She has chosen as her assistants such well-known members of the younger set as Mrs. Lewis Park, the former Frances Schoen; Ellen McClay, Mary Carroll, Josephine Nicola Eleanor Munroe, Genevieve Bell, Mrs. C. Chester Bailey, Mary Mellon McClung, Virginia Furey, Eleanor Longenecker, Catherine Longenecker, Martha Green, Clarissa Reed, Mrs. Shirley Austin, Virginia Goldsbury, Rhoda Drew, Mrs. Sidney Stewart, Mary Louise Johnson, Mrs. John H. Follansbee, Mary Childs, Elizabeth L. Scott, Anne King Scott and Kathedine Syndam.

No matter how many social functions are going on, there are groups of society women who never forget their philanthropic work. The Woman's Auxiliary board of the Kingsley House is planning an all day sewing meeting at the Kingsley House for Tuesday, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning. A luncheon will be served with Mrs. W. F. Moreland, Marjorie Gethoefer, Anna M. Snow, Dorothy Nimick and Mrs. Charles S Wunder, members af the house committee in charge. The monthly business meeting, I understand, will follow the sewing.

The Ellis School Alumnae will hold a benefit bridge party Saturday, Ma[illegible] the Rittenhouse, with Mrs. Walter Irvin is chairman. Mrs. Irvin will be assisted by Mrs. Evan Jones, Miss Martha Arnold, Miss Elizabeth Daugherty, Miss Martha [illegible]inler, Miss Julia Ellis, Mrs. J. F. Welling, Miss Margaret Munroe and Miss Marguerite Payne.

PUPPETS WIN HONORS FOR AMATEUR PLAYERS

The Puppets of Pittsburgh have again won first prize and with it the Samuel French trophy in the Pittsburgh Drama League amateur players' contest. The awards were announced at a late hour last night by B. Iden Payne, one of the judges. Mr. Payne first had a word of commendation from the judges for the outstanding work of William C. Roe, Jr., of the South Hills Repertoire Players (which organization won second prize), Miss Margaret Murray, of the Puppets; Miss Amy La Follette and Miss Leah Durst, of the West Virginia University Dramatic Club; Robert Wilson, of the Associate Players, and William Miller and Alexander Hill, of the Gargoyle Club of Shadyside Academy.

Miss Olivia Kelly, Miss Rita Criste and Miss Murray comprised the winning cast, presenting Rita Creighton Smith's "The Rescue." The South Hills Players presented Edward H. Smith's "Release," and the remaining prizes were won by the West Virginia group, the Gargoyle Club and the Seton Hill College Players. High honorable mention was given to the Reading Community Players for their work in the tragedy, "In the Morgue," by Sara Cowan.

A special meeting of the Keystone Association for Historical Research has been planned for Monday and will take the form of a tea in the home of Mrs. R. D. Beardsley, Briar Cliff road. The principal feature of interest will be an exhibit of articles made by the native Indians in the Panama Canal Zone and a talk concerning life there by Mrs. Musa Hunter McKim, who was a resident of the zone for a number of years. The program will also include music. Mrs. Beardsley will be assisted by Mrs. P. E. Henninger, Mrs. Samuel Dempster, Mrs. Marc Darrin, Mrs. H. J. Newman and the association's president, Mrs. H. J. Fox.

The annual founder's day luncheon of the Alpha Xi Delta Sorority will be held at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association tomorrow under the chairmanship of Miss Lucille Fruit.

Fifty tables will be in play at the bridge party to be given in the Congress of Clubs tomorrow afternoon by the child welfare committee of the Dormont Mothers' Club for the benefit of the Pittsburgh Home for Babies. A musical program will be presented by Mrs. Edward Harper, pianist, and Jules Huehn, baritone. Mrs. R. C. Wickersham is chairman in charge.

2 HURT IN AUTO, INTERURBAN CAR CRASH

Pinioned under their machine when it was struck by a Harmony Route freight car last night, Miss Ruth Smith, 24, a school teacher at the Grant Street Public School, Bellevue, and Hugh Brown, 29, of the Saybrook Apartments, were seriously injured. Both are in Suburban General Hospital suffering from probable internal injuries and lacerations on the body.

The accident occurred on the Wexford-Bayne road, near Wexford, at 9 o'clock. Brown was driving the automobile and, it was reported, had attempted to cross the street car tracks. The street car struck the rear end and hurled the auto over a steep embankment.

C. OF C. TO USE VOTE MACHINE

An amendment to bylaws voted yesterday by Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce membership, will permit either use voting machines or the old type ballot in the election of the directorate of that body May 10.

Arrangements have been made with the Automatic Registering Machine Company, of Jamestown, N. Y., for the installation of a machine for the election.

F. R. Phillips, A. W. Smith, Jr., H. Stewart Dunn, Frank W. Conner and C. E. Malley were elected as a committee to nominate a ticket for the election.

ALUMNI TO BANQUET

The Millersville Normal School Alumni Association will hold its annual banquet and social meeting tomorrow at 1 p. m. at Webster Hall. More than 50 have already signified their intention of attending. T. E. Garber is president of the local branch.

FATHER J. F. BUTLER, 70, DIES AT CONNEAUTVILLE

CONNEAUTVILLE, Pa., April 20.—(AP.)—The Rev. John F. Butler, pastor of the St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church here and the Summit Roman Catholic Church of near Linesville, died suddenly here last night. He was aged about 70, and for the past 25 years had served both churches.

PARKING SIGNS LACKING, BALL FANS CLAIM

Holders of the city automobile towing concession in the Oakland district reaped a harvest during the opening game at Forbes Field yesterday when many cars were dragged into the New Allies garage, 3131 Boulevard of the Allies, taxing owners $4.75 for towing and storage.

Irate car owners, believing that their automobiles had been stolen, rushed to Oakland Police Station where they were told that they had violated the parking rules and the cars had been impounded. Answering this, many persons declared that they were certain that no parking signs had been posted. On the north side of Fifth avenue, between Bellefield avenue and the boulevard, 14 cars were picked up. Several persons declared that in this block no signs were displayed.

MUST NOTIFY CHAIRMEN OF OVERSEERS REQUESTS

"The Republican and Democratic city chairmen must be notified of all requests for overseers so that they may be represented at the hearing," announced Judge James H. Gray from the bench today, when application was made for overseers in five districts of the Twelfth Ward. The districts are the Sixth, Ninth, Tenth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth. A hearing on this and other applications will be held Monday.

Tender Aching FEET

Bathe Them in "TIZ"

The minute you put your feet in a "Tiz" bath you feel the pain being drawn out and comfort just soaking in. How good your tired, swollen, burning feet feel! "Tiz" draws out the poisons that cause tender, aching feet. Takes all the soreness out of corns and callouses, too. Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store for a few cents and keep your feet fresh, sweet and comfortable.

From Films to Pictures

Not a minute's delay

IT'S terribly disappointing to wait an unnecessarily long time to get prints of the pictures you've taken. It's equally disappointing, if, when you get them, you find they're not as good as they might have been.

Why not make certain you'll get your prints on time and that they'll all be the best prints possible? It's a simple matter.

Just leave them with us for developing and printing. They'll go through our plant without a minute's delay.

Our Etchcraft Enlargements give beautiful effects. Don't fail to see our exhibit.

Weird Dance of the Vanished and Mysterious Akowa

Amazing Show in Slave Town By Dwarfs Horn Thinks May Be Our True Ancestors

What Has Gone Before

Sent to make a survey of the Ogowe River for the trading company he represented in West Africa in the early seventies, Alfred Aloysius Horn, an English boy, 18 years old, has come to a large Galwa village, where there as a native Josh House, supposed to contain an Isoga, a sacred human who has never died. Winning the friendship of the tribe, Horn is initiated as a member of the sacred fraternity, the first white man so honored. The following is a continuation of Trader Horn's narrative of those days as written by himself at the age of 73.

The Multi-Flavored Pelican

By ALFRED ALOYSIUS HORN.

Edited by ETHELREDA LEWIS.

CHAPTER VI.

THIS portion of the river belonged to the Black Cammas or Nkomis. The king of these people, who were numerous, was Remb Injogu, the elephant of the Cammas; his younger brother was Isogi, which means the Buck. Isogi was a slender and sickly man, always complaining of his sufferings, whilst Remb Injogu was stout. Always in good humor and always half intoxicated. A regular King Lear. His wives and children were many. He was always laughing and passing jokes, had no cares or worries, and was greatly loved by his people.

He was a perfect opposite to his ever-wailing brother Isogi, who was always attended by witch-doctors whose incantations could be heard by night and day.

Calling on the various deities to ward off the evil spirits that bewitched the chief. I left him very early and after visiting Remb Injogu, I continued my way down the river, and by now had reached the first village of the Ceringus; here I saw the women making cord from the giant cotton tree called the Joungu.

These trees were very high and were a beautiful sight. They were 60 or perhaps a hundred feet high and their tops were loaded with beautiful white, long staple cotton. In the branches of these trees was a colony of pelicans. The legs of these birds projected out from their nests as they sat hatching. The males fed the females, who never seemed to leave their nests while hatching.

Show in Slave Town

Father Pelican is very good to his wife, and there was a continual procession to and fro of these huge birds. They are great fishers, and carry their catch in a yellow skin pouch which, when loaded, hangs like a bag under their bill. I shot four of these birds. Their breast taste exactly like beefsteak and the other portions of the body like chicken. The fish they carried in their pouches looked like salmon trout. Thus, for dinner we had fish, flesh and fowl.

I bought a number of cotton handbags and one large hunting bag. These were beautifully made and designed and would sell well in England. It was about sunset when we arrived at the old slave town named Angola, where we were received by the old chief and his people. The same evening we saw a native conjo, or theater. This conjo was held in the open air and we all enjoyed the performance.

The actors were the Akowa Bushmen, a strange race of natives. They were dwarfs, averaging about 4 feet in height. .They are splendidly built and are better looking than the average native and are lighter colored. They first gave an exhibition of conjuring.

Some of their tricks were wonderful. After making a bow to the assembled natives one of these dwarfs took a bow and arrow, shooting the arrow straight up; this he followed by a second arrow, which stuck in the end of the first missile. Of course, the second was fired with greater force, but was a splendid shot.

After this another arrow was fired at his comrade's head. The missile went in, piercing the left cheek and protruded out of the other side. The one with the arrow through the cheeks then paraded round the circle of visitors who loudly cheered the performance.

A Dagger Dance

After several other tricks had

"I'd Rather Fall in With Death On the Sea," Says Trader Horn

(During his narration, the "old visiter" made the following observations on death to Mrs. Lewis.)

"If only there was something at the end of life that isn't philanthropy. Something that, when a man's mapped out a wild river in cannibal country, it'll not be overlooked in the latter end, nor this record smothered under black philanthropy. Aye, if we'd think of Death as the hand of Nature it'd be no worse than lying down to sleep in a cornfield.

"The worst of it is, when Death has to walk through a doss-house looking for the number of your room, he'll not be wearing too kindly a look. He'll not like his company.

"Such a child of Nature as he is must surely prefer the country. Aye, I'd rather fall in with him on the sea itself than between four walls, even if it were the Pope's ante-chamber. 'Twould be a natural spot to every man that not Homo Stultus. Some get-away for the soul is necessary and that can only be found in the open, whether air or water.

"There's no denying that Death does his best for the sailors. There's less than half of them die in their beds. The undertakers'll never encourage a man to go to sea. The sea's the sailor's home, and it's there he'll be found on the ultimate day."

CAMERA RISKED -:- New County Dependent -:- TO 'SHOOT' BUFFALO

THEY'RE WILD

A photographer, sent to South Park, brings in wild and woolly pictures to prove that Allegheny county's buffaloes are just as wild as the ones Col. William "Buffalo Bill" Cody chased around the western plains It was with difficulty the photographs were secured.

ON ALL FOURS

Hunching his shoulders and mussing his hair to fool the buffaloes, in case they detected him, the photographer trailed Indian fashion around the herd for this photo of the newest arrival, barely an hour old. Mrs. Short Horn, as the lens clicked, grunted disapproval and kicked her offspring to its feet. This is that chappie's first time on all fours.

THEY'RE BAD

"Look out for those buffaloes, they're bad!" was the warning from Robert Nicholson, South Park custodian. The photographer gripped his camera tightly and crawled within 15 feet of the king of the herd. The bull's eye gleamed and he shook his head. He stamped an impatient foot and glowered. The cameraman beat it.

BARON TELLS OF FLIGHT

[Herewith is the second chapter of Baron Gunther Von Huenefeld's personally written narrative of the Bremen's historic flight. In the first chapter, published in yesterday's Sun-Telegraph the baron gave, in vivid detail a glimpse of the perils which he and his comrades, Major James Fitzmaurice and Captain Hermann Koehl, encountered in their battle across the storm-swept Atlantic. Now he continues his thrilling story, and tells how, hour after hour, the crew seemed doomed to immediate death.]

By BARON GUNTHER VON HUENEFELD,

Commander-in-Chief of the German Junkers Airplane, Bremen, on Her Trans-Atlantic Flight.

(Copyright, 1928, in the United States, Canada, Great Britain, South America and Cuba, by the Sun-Telegraph and the New York American, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part absolutely prohibited. Violation of copyright will be vigorously prosecuted.)

GREENLEY ISLAND, Que April 19.—(By Airplane to Seven Islands and Murray Bay and by land wire to New York.)—It is a matter of profound satisfaction to us that as a result of our determination, we have vindicated those heroes of science and aviation who took the risk and paid with their lives. Nungesser and Coli, the Princess Lowenstein, Minchin and Hamilton, Miss Mackay and Hinchliffe. Between these seven courageous pioneers, who counted their lives cheap beside the advancement of this aviation they loved so dearly, there is a bond of comradeship that stretches across the shades. We honor their memories.

Somewhere in these barren wastes of the North and beneath the billows of the Atlantic the story of these valiant attempts lies locked in silence. It is with deepeste reverence and with all humility that we bow in tribute and with no boastfulness that we find ourselves able to penetrate the veil of providence and to tell their story to the world. For their story is our story. We, too, Fitzmaurice, Koehl and I, have skimmed the anghy waves of the Atlantic with our wheels, when fog had driven our staunch little craft down from the heights. We too, have been buffeted by the raging tempest high above the ocean. We, too, have lost our way when the compass, its uncanny prowess rendered insane by the magnetic variations of the far North, seemed to sneer at our futile little human efforts to chart our course and steer to a haven of safety. Ours is the story of success, perhaps, but theirs the story of glorious failure that outshines such trifling things as success.

In our mind's eye we can picture the adventures and the hardships of our lost comrades. We can sense how, perhaps, Princess Lowenstein and her gallant companions dived to a grave beneath the waves in midocean, because in those awful hours when the Bremen had to be navigated through the impenetrable fogs of the Grand Bank, we three lived in the knowledge that any moment we might ourselves become another contribution to science.

Had it not been for the masterly navigation of Koehl and the airmanship of Fitzmaurice our story might have become their story, and the telling left to others who will follow.

It is easy for us to imagine how Nungesser and Coli may have roamed hopelessly above the stretches of snow, the ice-bound rivers and the endless forests of the hinterland of Labrador in search of human habitation as the precious drops of fuel were being exhausted, because we have sat tensely in our seats peering at those same wastes until all hope for success seemed gone, though an hour before the sight of land had lifed our spirits high.

Compass Useless

What happened to Hinchliffe? I thought of him and his passenger, Miss Mackay, when the compass became useless owing to the short distance between that area and the magnetic pole. It was not difficult to see how they probably were carried out of their course for a wretched death i. the cruel Arctic. Because for hours we were forced to fly without the assistance of this instrument so essential to aerial navigation.

Our great crossing began under the friendliest of auspices. This peace lasted through long, wonderful hours. Now and then we threw over smoke bombs to ascertain the speed and direction of the wind. Small disturbances, which every motor suffers, overcame themselves. The wind was favorable in part and never particularly unfavorable during this portion of the flight, and we covered mile after mile in good time. That was during the day on Thursday.

After a flight of 15 hours, as we flew into the West, enormous clouds and fog banks appeared suddenly before us. The thermometer went down. The ice zone of Newfoundland was reached. Now Koehl brought the machine above the clouds, which were of an ominous formation. An icy wind, howling out of the West, received us, but we were prepared for such apparitions and threats of disaster.

But while we flew through the mountainous clouds and fought against the wind I noticed Fitzmaurice trying to shout to Koehl. The noise of the motor and the storm drowned his voice. Fitzmaurice took out a pencil. I took note that Koehl was his usual calm self. He had become serious and anxious, but there was no alarm, no fear in his attitude. I tried to look at the note.

Oil Tank Leaks

Finally I succeeded. It contained this message:

"Approach land while it still is possible; our oil tank seems to leak."

The gallant captain smiled at Fitzmaurice and nodded his assent. We all three knew that if, what we all three feared, a leak in the oil tank had occurred, we were all lost. Fitzmaurice climbed from his seat and groped about the cabin floor of the plane. Providence was good to us. Our Irish companion discovered the fault and repaired it. The leak was stopped. The flight proceeded.

In the meantime the storm had become so terrific that the machine nearly stood upright in the air. It was dashed about like a frail little bird we have observed in a high wind.

We pushed through the clouds and fog banks and we saw the tumultuous ocean below. The airship ceased to fly any longer. She danced. But she withstood, she advanced. Hell seemed upon us. We steeled ourselves, forward. That was the word. That was the deed. Dawn always follows the dark. He who does not believe in the morrow had best stay at home. I cast a glance at the little golden cross which hung in my cabin.

It shone in the night like a beacon of hope. My thought flew home. What did they think of us? My mother who had lost my father three days before our first flight had put a little heart in my pocket before I started from home. I repeated to myself:

"Don't get soft; don't get weak."

We all three had been at the front and flew now, as then, for an ideal.

Night, fog and storm. The machine gasped and trembled. From 2,000 feet we go down to 300 feet in order to rise again.

Koehl, the founder of fog-flying in Germany, now had a chance to demonstrate his skill. He can even master the fog at night. The minutes seemed to be years. That went on for many, many hours.

Was there no end to this darkness?. Now and then we could see the stars. Then came a terrible period for me. Lights appeared. There came visions. The coast. A lighthouse. Deception after deception. Will o' the wisps to deceive us who hoped.

We were in the zone of the northern lights. It meant we must continue the flight. Fog, storm and night. Was there to be no end to it? Yet the polar star shines out in the most terrible night. Instrument board had been broken. Instead of light the pilots got icy fog water in their eyes.

Storm, fog and night. A few minutes of sleep now for Koehl, then for Fitzmaurice. Turn and turn about. Forward. Still no daylight, but it will come. But whether it would come for us, we knew not, but we hoped.

Bloody red the sun awoke. Still signs of storms Yet beneath us stretched the land. We had reached the other continent and we were flying.

Endless forests, white with snow, lonely and desolate. The flight proceeding. Labrador? Probably. The compass, due to the magnetic variation, laughed at our attemp's to read it. On that subject I shall speak later.

Fuel Runs Low

Then we were occupied with the storm beginning anew. The sun rose and beneath us always appeared the same picture. No house. No village. A dead land. Yet we were flying. Precipitous mountains bare, or white with snow, suddenly appeared and we were forced to fly over them in the howling storm. Enormous rivers, desolate and covered with ice greeted us. No trace of human work as far as the eye could reach.

We could no longer doubt that on account of the deviation of the compass we were lost and knew not our directions. Another point. The fight with the angry elements had cost us more benzol than we could safely spare. Our supply sank lower and lower in the tank. But why worry? Another pater noster. If we lost, we would be forced to land and become lost in the desert.

The brave Bremen did its utmost. She knew what she owed to her name and to her constructor. No less brave were the pilots, Koehl and Fitzmaurice. I had taken off my fur coat again and lay between the two tanks, petrified with the intense cold.

We turned and searched. The mountains disappeared. In front of us frozen waters glistened. Were we going to the North Pole? No answer came from the compass. The gasoline would be gone in a short time. Finish? Suddenly Fitzmaurice shouted:

"A boat."

We were on the lookout. What he mistook for a boat was a house on the coast. We still had some benzol. The house came nearer. A lighthouse appeared. Men and dogs were seen. We were saved. A few minutes later Koehl set the machine down on the ice with masterly skill. It was the shortest and the best landing I ever experienced. However, the ice cover gave in. The machine broke through and slowly the nose went down. Nevertheless she stands and was only slightly damaged.

We learned that we had wandered about above Labrador, and now we were on Greenley Island.

THERE recently came to the sidewalks of Pittsburgh Mr. Eppley, who heads the company which recently purchased the William Penn and the Fort Pitt hotels. He is another part of the American saga of rising from a lowly position to a commanding position.*

A SQUARE-SHOULDERED, fairly tall man, suggesting that once upon a time he might have played a guard on a football team, Mr. Eppley conveys the impression that his rise to a prominent place in hoteldom was not acquired with grease. Some place, there possibly was an obstacle or two which he laid his weight against. . . .

HE STARTED in hotel work as a boy who unpacked furniture arriving for the opening of a new hotel. He moved from this rough labor to a place in the kitchen. By degrees he rose to steward and then* in turn became manager and president of the concern which now operates a chain of hotels.

HIS rise, of course, does not represent an uncommon story in this country. It is, rather typical. What occurred here as he stood the other evening to tell something of his career was a fact we long ago appreciated about Pittsburgh—that this city can make welcome a newcomer in a second where possibly othe cities would engage years in accomplishing.

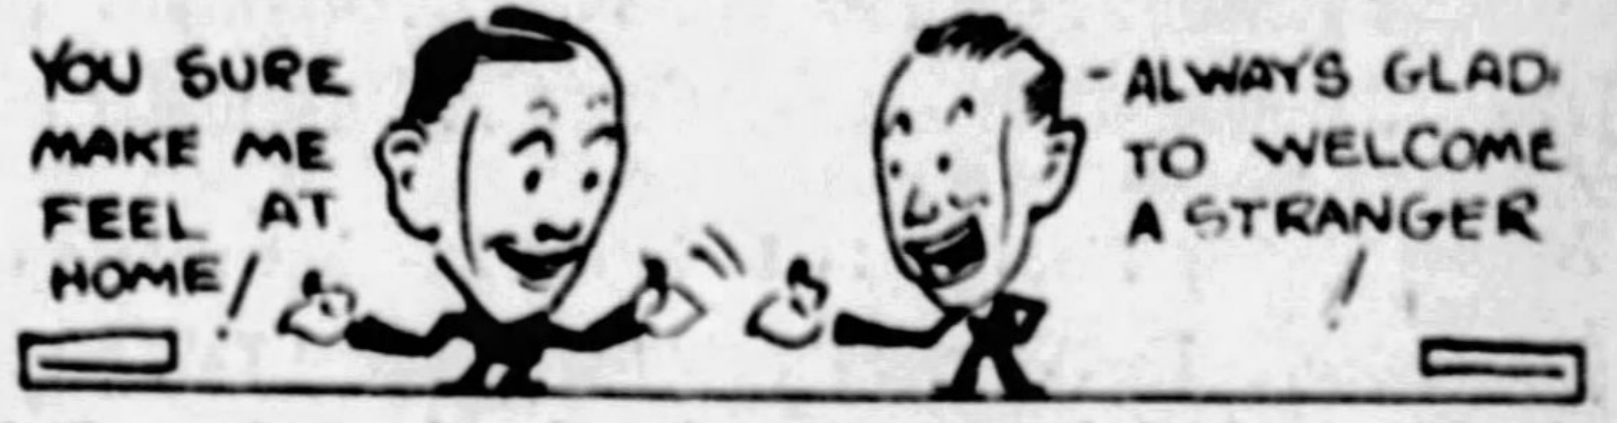
MR. EPPLEY told his story to a group of Pittsburgh men who had turned out to make him feel at home in this city which by far carries the major part of his hotel enterprises. You could see by the way this newcomer conducted himself after his first pleasurable*



YOU SURE MAKE ME FEEL AT HOME!
ALWAYS GLAD TO WELCOME A STRANGER!

thrill over the way his advent here was accepted that he seemed to feel he was almost a native and that he knew these men who sat around him for years and years.

Here was a side of Pittsburgh exemplified again. No stranger who ever came here would care to deny this virtue of our town.

THE men who turned out to greet the newcomer: Judge James Drew acted as toastmaster at the welcoming dinner. A tall gentleman, with a pleasing voice, and an eye for economy in words—a vision that not all toastmasters own. . . . Commissioner Babcock, who essays more masculinity, it seems here, than anyone in memory. One of the youngest judges in the state, Judge George Moore. One of the newest, Frank Patterson. Another one, Richard Martin. All of them are at home with words, figures of speech, metaphor and simile. They daily around with them in their work on the bench. Most of them are constant readers of enlightening books.

ON THE other side—we nearly said in the other corner—you see Jim Malone, head of City Council. He has a resonant voice, with some music interwoven in its texture and fiber. Close by, is Dan Winters, another of the city's fathers, with silvering hair.*

MAYOR KLINE is at the head of the table and he gets up to make a talk. One could take a close shave with the crease in his trousers. The lower button of the vest is opened, of course, a coat drapes his shoulders snugly, and, as a pennant, there is a gay handkerchief from a top pocket in the coat. His hair is gray at the temples, combed back smoothly.

Close by is the youthful Senator Harris. To his left is Barney Dreyfuss, head of the Pirates.

There were many others who had turned out to make Mr. Eppley feel that Pittsburgh knows how to say: "Welcome, Stranger."

GOOD BRAN MUFFINS REQUIRE HOT OVEN

A good recipe for bran muffins is as follows: One cup flour, 1 cup bran, 4 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon Blue Ribbon Malt Extract (hop flavored or plain, ⅝ cup milk, 2 tablespoons shortening. Mix dry ingredients together. Blend egg, milk and Blue Ribbon Malt Extract, then add shortening. Stir in dry ingredients until well mixed. Drop into well greased muffin tin, and bake in a quick oven at 425 degrees Farenheit.

BEST WHITE FISH COME FROM THE GREAT LAKES

Fish most commonly used are the pike family, yellow, green or blue pike, perch, lake herring, ciscoes, white perch and carp, the best white fish comes from Lake Erie and the other Great Lakes, although there is a small amount which comes from Lake Champlain.

Pike perch flesh is firm, flaky and white, has little fat, yet it is sufficiently oily to be rich and highly flavored.

Hints on Sandwiches

By PRUDENCE PENNY

THE sandwich is named after an early English nobleman, the Earl of Sandwich, so industrious a gambler that he wouldn't leave the gaming tables even to eat, so he devised this form of "portable" meal.

The sandwich is not only convenient, but when properly made, very delicious for afternoon teas, picnics and motor parties, not to mention a nourishing "square meal" when made of hot meat and a thick gravy.

When preparing a quantity of sandwiches always soften the spread by adding cream or salad dressing or by mixing the ground meat in a cream sauce. It will not only simplify the task of spreading, but it will prevent tearing the bread and make the spread go much farther.

SANDWICHES may be made in the morning for an afternoon or evening party, if they are kept in a cool place, tightly covered. A very satisfactory method of keeping sandwiches fresh is to cover them with a cloth wrung out of cold water.

To make sandwiches of the ribbon or layer variety, cut lengthwise slices from a large loaf. Spread the slices with the desired fillings, put together in the form of a loaf and slice across. Or to save more time cover the loaf and set it aside. Before serving cover it with cream cheese, like an icing, slice it at the table and serve with a fork.

SAVE left-over bits of meat, fish, cheese, etc., for sandwiches. Grind them while the chopper is being used for something else and then store them away in the icebox for the hasty sandwich for the children's lunch or the late evening "hungry time."

Dried fruit fillings, properly prepared, will keep fresh and moist for a long time. They are very convenient to have on hand.

Hot sandwiches are becoming more and more popular for replacing the main dish at luncheon.

TRY the following suggestions for hot sandwiches:

Baking powder biscuit, split and covered with creamed chicken or oyster filling.

Chopped ham and onion stirred into beaten eggs, made into cakes and fried and served between slices of rye bread. Cover with a milk gravy.

White bread covered with a slice of tomato, sprinkled with grated cheese, and strips of bacon. Broil under flame until bacon is crisp.

White, whole wheat or rye bread filled with grated cheese then toasted or fried on both sides.

WILD rice contains more of the bran than the polished rice and has a slightly different flavor. Pick over and wash carefully one cup of rice and put it on in rapidly boiling salted water. When tender, drain and toss in two tablespoons of melted butter. It should boil about forty-five minutes.

For baked onions in tomato sauce you will need six medium sized onions, one quart of canned tomatoes, two tablespoons of sugar (if desired), one bay leaf, two teaspoons of salt, one-quarter teaspoon of celery seed, two cloves, two tablespoons of flour, two tablespoons of butter and a dash of pepper.

Cook the tomatoes with the seasoning for 10 minutes. Blend the flour and melted butter, add the tomatoes and mix well. Cut the onions in halves and put them in a large baking dish. Strain the tomato sauce over them, adding more salt if needed. Cover and bake for one hour in a casserole.

FOR a salad, cut red apples in thick slices, spread with cream cheese and place a nut meat in the center. This is a delicious and different looking salad, as well as a pretty one. Place on a lettuce leaf.

For banana russe, line custard cups with lady fingers or sponge cake. Fill centers with slices of bananas and top with a fluff of whipped cream.

RABBIT FRICASSEE—Once you try a rabbit fricassee, I am sure that it will appear on your table often. Have the butcher skin and cut the rabbit into joints suitable for frying. Roll each piece in flour and season with pepper and salt. Brown the rabbit sections in bacon or salt pork drippings, having the fat very hot, that they may brown quickly. Then cover closely and set back to cool till tender in their own steam. When cooked, pour off the fat and add a

HONEYMOONERS HURT IN CRASH

An automobile crash occurring on their honeymoon last night injured Fred Lingertot, 28, and his wife, Mrs. Lillian Lingertot, 23, who were married Wednesday near Wilkes-Barre. The accident occurred in Penn avenue, near Fairmont street, Wilkinsburg, when a machine driven by Lingertot crashed against a parked automobile.

Lingertot and his bride suffered cuts and bruises. They were given first aid at Columbia Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson of Clark street, Wilkinsburg, who were in the other car, were not hurt.

S. M. Hershovitz of 500 McKean avenue, Charleroi, drove his machine onto the pavement in Carson street, near South Seventh street, yesterday to avoid hitting a child who ran in front of the automobile. Samuel C. Meyers, 60, of 619 Carson street, who was walking on the sidewalk, was knocked down by the machine. Hershovitz took Meyers to the South Side Hospital and later to his home. Meyers was bruised slightly. Hershovitz was not arrested.

FINE M'KEESPORT MAN FOR DISCHARGING GUN

Accused of firing a revolver in a Turkish bath he operates in Fifth avenue, McKeesport, John Halas, 45, was fined $100 in McKeesport Police Court yesterday. Halas barricaded himself in a room, filled the walls with bullets and threatened police who arrested him, police say.

MAN ENDS LIFE IN LEAP FROM HOTEL

LONG BEACH, Cal., April 20.—(AP.)—Herman L. Benz, 65, a retired St. Paul, Minn., business man, committed suicide here yesterday by jumping from the fifth floor of a hotel.

LARGE ALCOHOL STILL SEIZED

A large alcohol producing plant was confiscated early today, prohibition agents say, when they raided a dwelling on the Rasp farm, Kittanning pike, near the Pittsburgh Hunt road, O'Hara township. Charles Rasp, said to have been at work on a still, was arrested. Among the material seized were a 500-gallon alcohol still, six 500-gallon empty tanks, one 50-gallon drum of denatured alcohol and five gallons of alcohol, agents say.

In a raid on a restaurant at 606 College avenue, East End, prohibition agents arrested Jacob M. Holler, alleged proprietor, and Edward Hogan, a waiter. Three quarts of whisky were seized, the agents said.

Other places raided, materials confiscated and those arrested, according to the agents, follow: Dwelling at 1039 Lawndale street, 10 gallons of wine, quart of moonshine, owner unknown; dwelling at 366 Thirteenth street, Homestead, 15-gallon still, 11 gallons moonshine; dwelling at 583 Singer street, 1,100 gallon still, no arrests.

little water to the pan, cook off the glaze, pour over the meat and serve.

PREVENT MOLD—One way of preventing mold and decay in your food supply is to see to it that only washed food goes into the refrigerator.

GREENSTUFFS, such as radishes and celery and the outer leaves of lettuce are apt to be covered with a green slime, which means that spoilage is not far away. The edible parts may be perfectly good but the slime has formed on the stalks from excessive moisture deposited on them. They have been taken out of water and allowed to stand in a warm place for some time before delivery.

If these things are put in the refrigerator in this condition, the leaves will rub against other foods and they will become much more susceptible to decay than they would otherwise.

IT IS a good plan to cut the heads from the radishes and trim the celery stalks and lettuce leaves before putting them away. Remove the paper wrapping from the meat to prevent the formation of a sticky coating, and also to keep the paper from sticking to the meat. It is well, also, to run a damp cloth over the surface of the meat to prevent any foreign particles that might otherwise cling to its moist surface. Wash the milk bottles about the tops to remove germs from handling.

These things are small of themselves, but taken collectively, they mean all the difference between getting your refrigerator off to a good clean start, and struggling along with a maximum ice usage and rapid decay. In other words, your refrigerator is operating on a basis of absolute efficiency or under an unnecessary handicap.

EGGS WITH MUSHROOMS—Saute one-quarter of a pound of mushrooms in butter for 10 minutes, pour half a cup of cream into the pan and when heated through it is ready to serve.

In the meantime poach eggs, one or two to each person, depending on the appetites of the family, place the eggs on buttered toast rounds, pour the mushroom sauce around them and serve with a combination salad.

PIKE PERCH STEAKS—Two pounds pike perch should be boiled in water to which has been added salt and two tablespoons lemon juice. As soon as water boils, remove to back of stove and let it poach gently 12 to 15 minutes. Remove to hot platter and pour around caper sauce.

CAPER SAUCE—¼ cup butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1½ cups hot water or fish stock, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ cup capers.

Melt butter, add flour and cook about one minute, stirring constantly, add hot water or fish stock (water in which fish was boiled may be used), also balance of seasoning except capers, bring to boil, then add capers and serve.

BANANA FRITTERS — Six bananas, 1 tablespoon sugar, 3 tablespoons orange juice and fritter batter.

Cut the peeled bananas in two and split each half down the center. Place the pieces in a bowl with sugar and orange juice and let them stand for one hour. Drain the fruit, dip in the batter and fry in deep fat.

The batter requires 1 cup of flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 egg yolks, ⅔ cup milk, ½ teaspoon melted butter and the 2 egg whites.

Mix flour and salt. Beat in the milk gradually. Stir in the egg yolks, beaten until lemon-colored; add the melted butter and lastly fold in the stiffly beaten whites.

PREPARING MUSHROOMS — There is no need of scraping away the little black filaments beneath the cap of a mushroom. If the mushrooms are very fresh and white, it is not necessary to peel them.

Scrub them, if they are white separate the stems from the caps and scrape the stems. Plunge both caps and stems into cold water.

Lift them from cold water into frying pan in which has been placed two tablespoons of butter. Enough water will adhere to the mushrooms to prevent their scorching.

Many cook mushrooms too long. Twelve minutes is ample to bring out the best flavor, although some cooks prefer to leave them in the pan for 20 minutes.

If the mushrooms have begun to discolor when they come from the store, or if they cannot be made white by a good scrubbing, then peel the caps—and the easiest way is with the fingers. Scrape the stems, plunge them in water and saute in butter.

POLENTA, WITH CHEESE—One-fourth pound American cheese rubbed through a grater, one cup corn meal, two cups milk, two cups boiling water, one teaspoon salt, pepper and paprika to taste.

Heat the milk and water to the boiling point, add the salt, and stir in the corn meal very slowly. Cook in double boiler for one-half hour. Add the cheese, stir until melted, add the seasonings, and pour into a shallow pan. When cold and firm

MUSIC

St. Olaf Quintet

Carnegie Music Hall

South Hills Luther Leagues of Pittsburgh presented the St. Olaf Quintet in a miscellaneous program at Carnegie Music Hall last night. Osgood Westley, tenor; Matthew Lyders, baritone; Obed Grinder and Reuben Benson, basses, are members of the fine St. Olaf Choir and Luther Noss is the accompanist.

The audience had to listen to much drivel in order to sift out the real gold in the concert. Saxophone quartets, Fritz Kreisler's Old Refrain played on a saw, travesties on operatic music, and well-meant solo numbers by the members of the quintet we can pass over without comment, for they had no musical value whatsoever.

But when the quartet sang Hassler's O Sacred Head, Deep River, the Song of the Volga Boatman, the Norwegian and Swedish folk-songs, we recognized these singers as true offspring of the St. Olaf Choir. Their music then had dignity, no less spirit than in their nonsense, and all the refined qualities in tone, phrasing and rhythm which we associate with the parent organization. A return visit would be very welcome indeed, if we could hear more of their folk songs. They were genuine art.

'OTHER WOMAN' SHOT BY WIFE

BELINGTON, W. Va., April 20.—As her husband, Arnettis Ervin, 50, strolled down street with Mrs. Amanda Arbogast, 45, or Elkins, last night, Mrs. Ervin opened fire with a shotgun. Mrs. Arbogast was shot in the side and is in a local hospital. Ervin was shot in the right hand. Mrs. Ervin was arrested and is under bond for trial.

TRADER HORN'S STORY

been performed before a highly delighted audience, these Bushmen left the Arina, returning later dressed in raffia kilts. They then gave us the best exhibition of dancing to music I ever saw. They danced the native sword dance, then the native dagger dance, both of which are really wonderful. The dagger dance was the best. These long knives were placed, handle down, in the ground from which they protruded about a foot, each one being close, about a foot from the other.

After nimbly dancing around these daggers on toetip, keeping time with the music, the dancer quickens his pace, toe dancing in and about these dangerous weapons. The dancing bushman's feet move so quickly and gracefully in and about these knives that it seemed a miracle how he missed cutting his feet.

The next dance was a spinning ball dance. Spinning round on one foot the performer then danced on his hands, then hand and foot, running round a circle like a raffia ball or a ball of string. Looking on, one could not tell or see either head or feet. The performer was loudly cheered amid great laughter.

Now came the crowning feat. A hole about two feet in depth was hastily dug and in this was placed a stout banana leaf, chosen from a plan by my friend, the chief's son. I helped to plant it. The dancer now executed a pas seul. Firstly, he gave us a muscle dance, moving the muscles of his breast, first the right one, then the left one, always keeping time with the music of the native harp.

"Flower of Creation"

Then the breasts, first right, then left, began to pop in and out, the stomach began to keep time, after this the muscles of the arm, then the left eye, right eye, then left toe, right toe, all keeping time with the music seemingly without an effort. We all cheered. Now he turned adroitly half around, all the muscles of his body answered his wish without effort. Next he commenced to bob up and down from the ground, firstly, a four inches, then a foot, then he bobs up and down like an India rubber ball, always in time with the music.

He then spun like a top on his left toe, keeping the right leg extended at a perfect right angle. No lighter than a feather, one mass of motion, he leaped in the air and danced on the swaying banana branch until turning a complete somersault, every muscle in his body still moving, he lighted on the ground.

We all more than cheered him. Was he human or what was he? Some said wild cat; some said monkey. Myself, though I could never understand why, I came to the conclusion that like a man, he was a little bit of everything. As the bard says, the flower of all creation.

Our True Ancestors?

The performance ended, the Akowa left the town. We all made up a collection for them and they were pleased. Where did they go to? Nobody knew, nobody ever lived who knew. Once away they were never seen again. All I could bring myself to believe was that they were the survivals of the fittest, the paleolithic man from whom we are all descended.

I have furthermore come to the conclusion that these few men who live where nobody knows, are the only remnants of a race who are our true ancestors and probably these few dancers and conjurors are the only ones left on earth. If not, where are the others, they are light-skinned and have good European faces, although they are pigmies they are pretty nearly as intelligent as ourselves.

Their tricks are the result of thought, their weapons are more deadly than ours, viz the poisoned arrows which they can shoot pretty nearly as quickly as we can an automatic, and always with fatal effects if meant to be so. If I am wrong in my assertions concerning the Akowas I would be pleased to be corrected.

Pen Broadcaster Arraigned in Auto Case

Russel F. Metz, 32, of Philadelphia, who claims the distinction of having been announcer at the broadcasting station at the Eastern penitentiary, where he was known as "convict No. 915," yesterday was held for court for the United States commissioner on a charge of transporting a stolen automobile in interstate commerce.

He said that while serving a sentence in the penitentiary for breaking into a building, for which he was subsequently pardoned, he did the announcing and also entertained at the penitentiary's radio station. In the government complaint he is charged with transporting an automobile from Washington, Pa., to Wheeling, W. Va., that had been stolen in Chicago.

WALNUT Special

This WALNUT bargain offer won't last forever

Enjoy Them Now At These New Reduced Prices—Ask Your Grocer

The stores are full of "bargains" these days—odd-cent reductions on staple goods.

But you don't often see a bargain as outstanding as the one that your grocer is offering right now on Diamond Walnuts.

What woman doesn't like to buy a good product cheaply? And you'll readily agree that this bargain offer is too good to last long.

The Biggest Walnut Bargain in 12 Years

We know it's unusual to sell the finest Walnuts we've ever produced, at such seemingly impossible prices—and right at the height of the season, too, when Spring menus particularly need these flavory kernels.

But our crop this season was large. And, while you have bought 25% more Walnuts in the past 5 months than in any twelve-month period before, there are still some left.

So, we're doing what any department store does with its surplus stocks: we're "putting on a sale"—making a further reduction in our prices (which were already the lowest in 12 years); offering you a real Walnut bargain.

And leading grocers have made it a city-wide sale. They are co-operating with us—passing along to you the full benefit of this record low price offer. In fact, many leading grocers are so enthusiastically "for" this unprecedented Walnut bargain, that they're featuring still lower prices to you, on 2 and 3 pound purchases. At today's prices they are even more economical than shelled Walnuts!

Naturally, this bargain offer can't last long. So don't delay! Get your share—2 or 3 pounds, at least—while the supply lasts.

Just one thing to remember: look for the Diamond trade-mark branded right on each Walnut shell. Then you can be sure you've really bought the biggest Walnut bargain in twelve years!

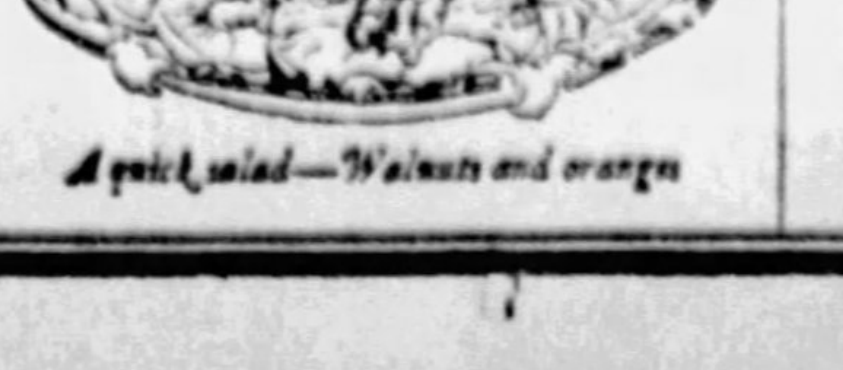
MAKE YOUR SPRING MENUS MORE TEMPTING WITH WALNUTS

Right now is the best time of the year to use Walnuts. They give that "new-life" touch that the Spring menu demands.

And how easily it is done! How satisfying the result! Walnuts do make so many other foods so much better.

Spring salads—crisp, inviting—glistening with your favorite dressing! Sprinkle them with Walnut halves and pieces—for a greater appeal to appetite.

Vegetables, too—stuffed, scalloped, creamed, or as souffles! No matter how you serve them, add Walnuts and they're lifted clear above the everyday average—as your family's praises will quickly prove to you.



A quick salad—Walnuts and oranges

Candies, cakes—or frozen treats! Such dainty foods need crisp, crunchy Walnuts—not alone for the extra flavor they give, but to give the teeth something to bite into, as well.

Every day you'll find interesting uses for Walnuts—a touch here, a touch there, to make your daily menus brighter.

Ever-popular Divinity—with Walnuts

Of course, only the finest Walnuts will do! So, to be sure you get them, look for our guarantee of quality—the Diamond trade-mark branded right on each Walnut shell.

JERRY

The Epic of a Girl Who Had to Wait

Inga and Sylvia Tell the News, Rod Porter and Nellie Spears, Married

"MONEY hasn't spoiled her, that's all. She's attractive, don't you think?"

"Very appealing. She's also lucky, isn't she? I heard she won $125 the other night after we left. I hope you didn't lose it, Saxon. The old adage—the rich get richer and the poor get poorer!"

"I lost $17—that's all. Mary plays a wonderful game. It's not luck but good head-work that wins for her. She's really brilliant in many ways. Wasn't that a clever thing she said the other night about sharing the immortality of the universe?"

"It was," answered Jerry in matter-of-fact tones. "He has many things like that—lighted arrows driving with fire into your thought."

"Who are you talking about?"

"The man she quoted—Will Durant in the 'Story of Philosophy.'"

Saxon gave her a blank look.

She went on amiably: "It's that part where he comments on Spinoza's religion."

"I've not read the book. I didn't know she was quoting."

"Oh, didn't you?" She turned abruptly in a whirlwind of emotion and began clearing up her table. Furious, angry words came blazing to her tongue. She found it hard to stem them.

"You didn't know she was quoting? Did you know she kept you up till four a. m. and robbed you of the next day's fervor! Do you know she's a selfish pig who doesn't give a damn if your work goes to pot so long as she has her rubber of bridge! Lord, you poor baby, you don't know enough to come in out of the rain, do you? Someone ought to tell you!"

She was pale and excited with the necessity of silence.

He said, rather startled at this sudden frenzy of action: "Why do you have to clean house when I come in for a ten-minute visit?"

"In three weeks from today I'll tell you why! I'll tell you exactly why!"

The wild statement proved a prophecy.

CHAPTER LVI.

AN hour after Saxon left, Jerry remained sketching. She worked with intent, exhausting fury. That was one beauty of anger—it got her brain excited; made all the cells blaze up. She finished the panel; felt grimly pleased and exceedingly tired.

Then she remembered that Marza would be out. Stephanie was alone and waiting for her to come. Perhaps getting dinner and over straining herself. "Hell and damnation," she thought irritably. "I wish he'd keep out of this shop."

Coming into the apartment, she was delighted to hear Inga holding forth. Inga and Sylvia had dirt to rake, so had taken it into their heads to come down and get dinner. A nice habit they had.

"Well, another good man gone wrong," said Inga, eating the peas as quickly as she shelled them.

"Meaning what and who?"

"Rod Porter has run off with Nellie Spear, the darling of Paris, and allowed her to marry him. Think of that stunning Belvidere place overrun by the likes of Nellie Spear!"

"I've made biscuits. They'll be ready in 10 minutes. Let the green peas go," said Sylvia coming from the kitchen and wiping floury arms on her apron.

"What I wish someone would answer," she went on, winging debonairly from the kitchen to the clouds, "is this—how is it that men, claiming the higher intelligence, are yet so easily snared even by stupid women—even by saw-dust dolls."

"Centuries of scheming on the part of the weaker wits has developed the go-get-him-and-keep-him-instinct, ole dear. That's your answer," said Inga infallibly.

"For centuries each individual woman of us has been pitted against all other women in the fight for the male not only to nab him, but to hold him as an exclusive possession — a necessary monopoly if we and our children would survive. Each other woman is a possible enemy—a possible home-breaker

"Can't you just feature the first cavewoman lying awake nights and aware of the very alluring debutante growing up in the neighboring cave? Aware of the omnipresent menace to her home and her brood?

"How she must have dug a hairy chin into a hairy hand and cogitated long into the dawn on the ways and means of brow-beating, without his guessing it, the precious and slumbering brute at her side. How she must have plotted to outshine the coy and tender Miss in the next-door dugout.

"To keep the very hide on her body she was forced to foresee and outwit; to be alert and sniffing the danger always.

"It's this craft, developed through 10,000 years in the midnight moodings of women and woven into the very instincts of all girl babies but you, Sylvia, that enables even a stupid woman to hoodwink the superior but unaware male. That enables the Nellie Spears of the world to marry the Rod Porters."

"But we're giving all the time-honored secrets away. Take comfort in this, Sylvia," fired Jerry, still warm with her recent encounter. "We're overdoing the siren stuff so heavily that even the deaf, dumb and blind males are getting wise to us. They know they're being baited wantonly, deliberately. And before very long, they'll cease to bite.

"Woman has just about reached the end of the use-your-sex-to-land-him cycle. In another generation the female gender will have to find new and deeper lures or go unmarried to the grave

"The kids of tomorrow will be as unlikely to marry because of mere sex attraction as to marry because both like tomatoes. An unnecessary and absurd reason for a life relationship. One can eat tomatoes without marrying.

"That's one good thing that's coming of petting and such. The sweet young things know beforehand just how much to expect from sex. They're not likely to rush into marriage in the fool trust that physical delights will guarantee the happy ever after. They'll know better than to base a life union on so commonplace and passing an interest.

"So there's hope for the couples of the future. They will make marriages that will stick, because, as you say, Inga, they won't be one-cylinder affairs. The man and the girl of tomorrow will go into it open-eyed: they'll ask more from each other and give more than the random thrills of the senses."

"Oh, shades of Madame du Pompadour, grin down at this!" mocked Inga. "Those random thrills were good enough for you. Worth the guillotine, ole dear, weren't they? Yesterday, today and tomorrow!

"Or perhaps, Jerry, your kids of tomorrow will know better than to get wet when they fall in the water, or hot when they sit by a fire? Shall they be enlightened enough to imbibe nourishment from the air and save us the necessity of cooking? That's also an overdone craft.

"As long as HE continues to make them male and female the little old game begun by Eve in the garden will go on. Unless you were counting on three sexes, as old Professor Woodworth used to promise. And only a few—a very, very few, shall be born women with the feminine hunger to be loved and everlastingly cherished. The rest shall be drones and workers. I'm glad I came in time!"

"And I'm sorry I'm a bit early for your world, Jerry," said Sylvia, drawing her sharp black brows together in a droll squint. "But I think you're right. Inga, as is her way, lost your point. Sex attraction will, of course, continue to operate. But it won't be the prime foundation of marriage, as it is today. This marriage is certainly passing. No one who reads the vital statistics can deny it. Two divorces for each wedding! Two divorcees against each maid as she angles for her man.

"Yet we long for companionship. And when put to it as we now are, we'll find some better reason for picking a lifelong partner than his curly lashes or his cute dimple. The biscuits are burning!"

Stephanie listened, shiny-eyed, silent—drinking up wisdom avidly. When Inga and Sylvia were gone, she sat at a desk writing. She was a forthright and matter-of-fact young person. Each Tuesday and Friday evening she wrote letters to the sisters in the convent.

Each Sunday morning she got up half an hour earlier than Jerry and with suspense-filled heart read the personal columns in the papers . . . expecting another message from the father of her father.

She was now writing her letters. Jerry was curious about these long messages written to holy women shut off in a convent. And amazed at the naive candor with which Stephanie reported whole conversations: gave detailed descriptions of all the attractive men she met and even discussed the pros and cons of petting with this Sister Rose.

"She looks so unearthly, I don't see how you have the nerve."

"She's not unearthly, and then she raised me since I was four. For fifteen years she was the closest friend I had. After Marza left in those early summers, Sister Rose used to come and sing me to sleep. She was an angel—to me—always."

"And she cried like anybody at the train when we took you away. After all, that's a sweet way to solve life, isn't it? Shut yourself off from it . . . a sweet, serene way. If I had it to do over again, Steve, I believe I would pray for a vocation."

"They're an awful problem—these men—aren't they? And it's too bad, girls like Sylvia are living too soon. They'll be the radiant catches in that next-generation world of yours, Jerry. The real mates for men."

Stephanie put down her pen and began walking lightly, slowly about the room. She exulted in her steps as though each one were a triumph. She now turned, eyes laughing, and shook the rich, raggy hair from her forehead.

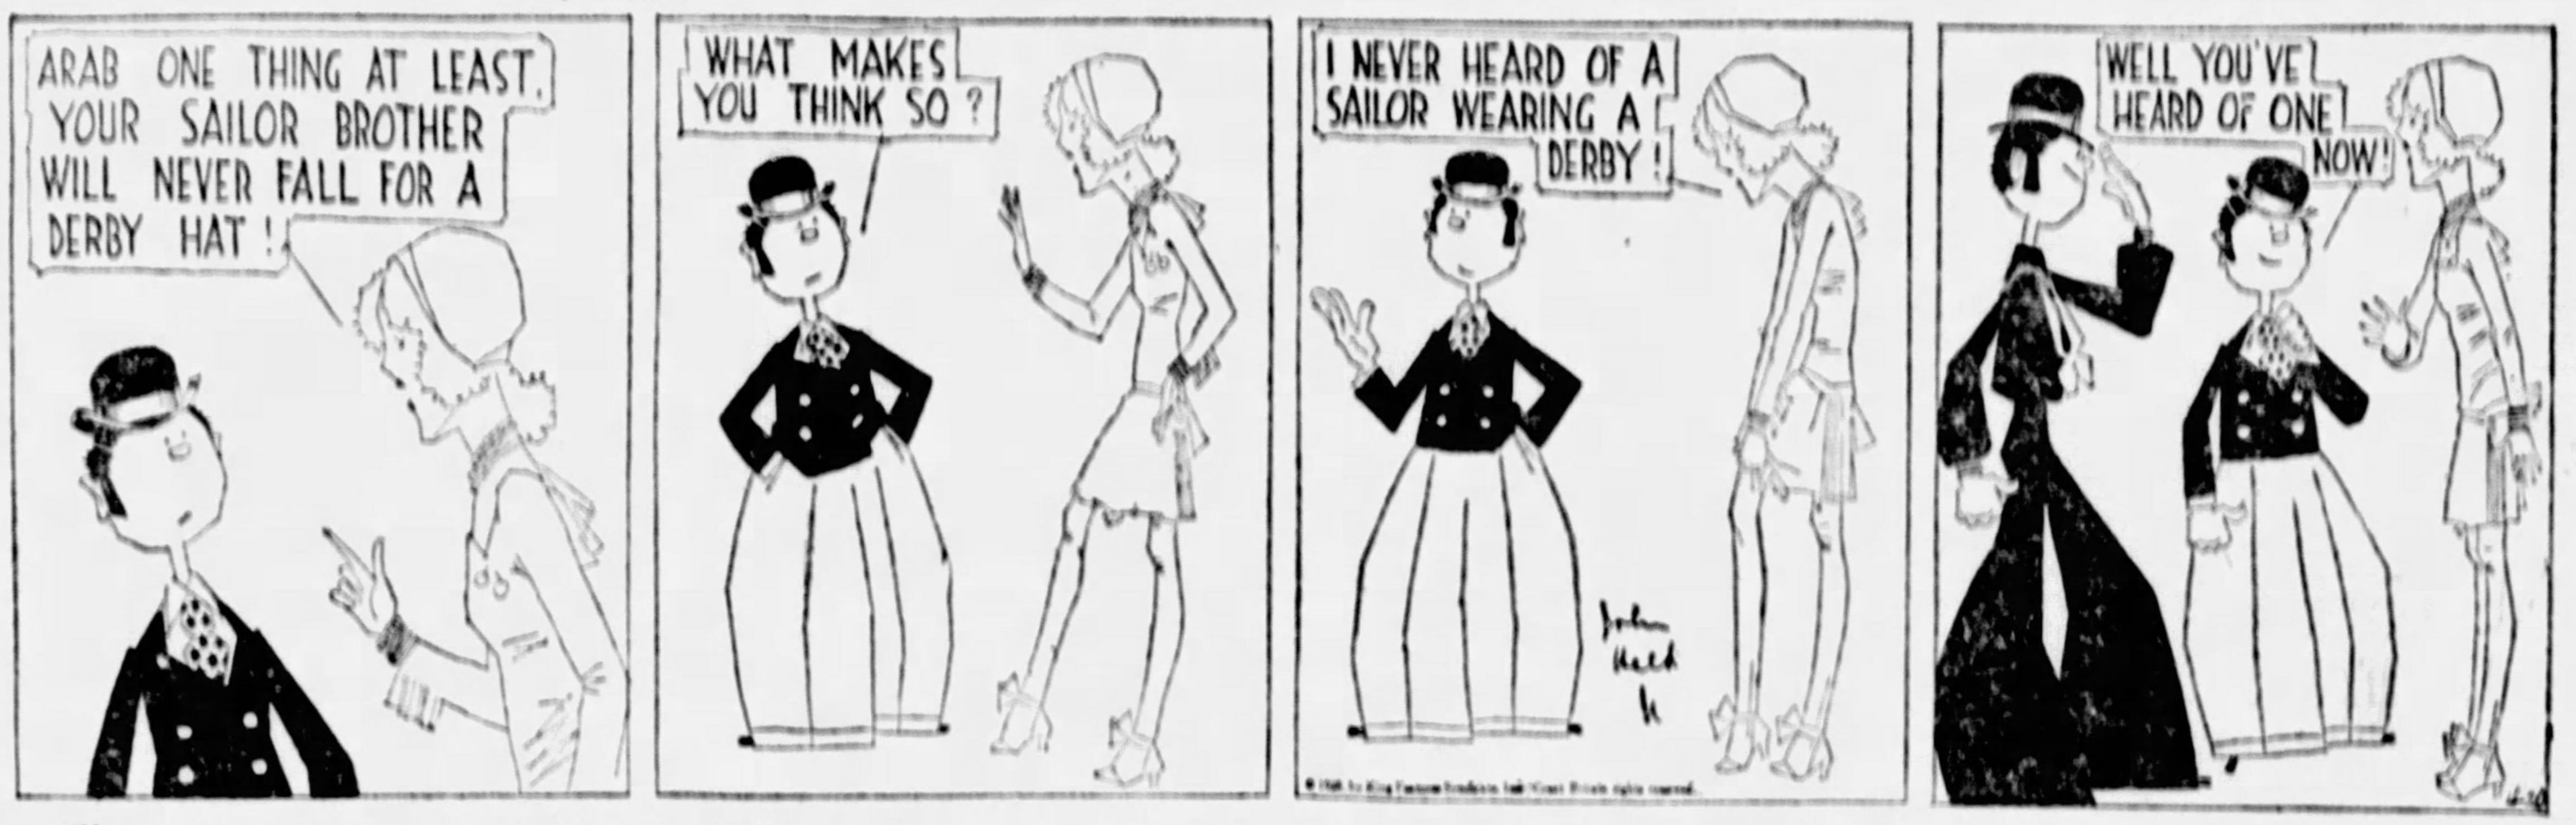
Story by Lloyd Mayer

By John Held, Jr.



ARAB ONE THING AT LEAST. YOUR SAILOR BROTHER WILL NEVER FALL FOR A DERBY HAT!
WHAT MAKES YOU THINK SO?
I NEVER HEARD OF A SAILOR WEARING A DERBY!
WELL YOU'VE HEARD OF ONE NOW!

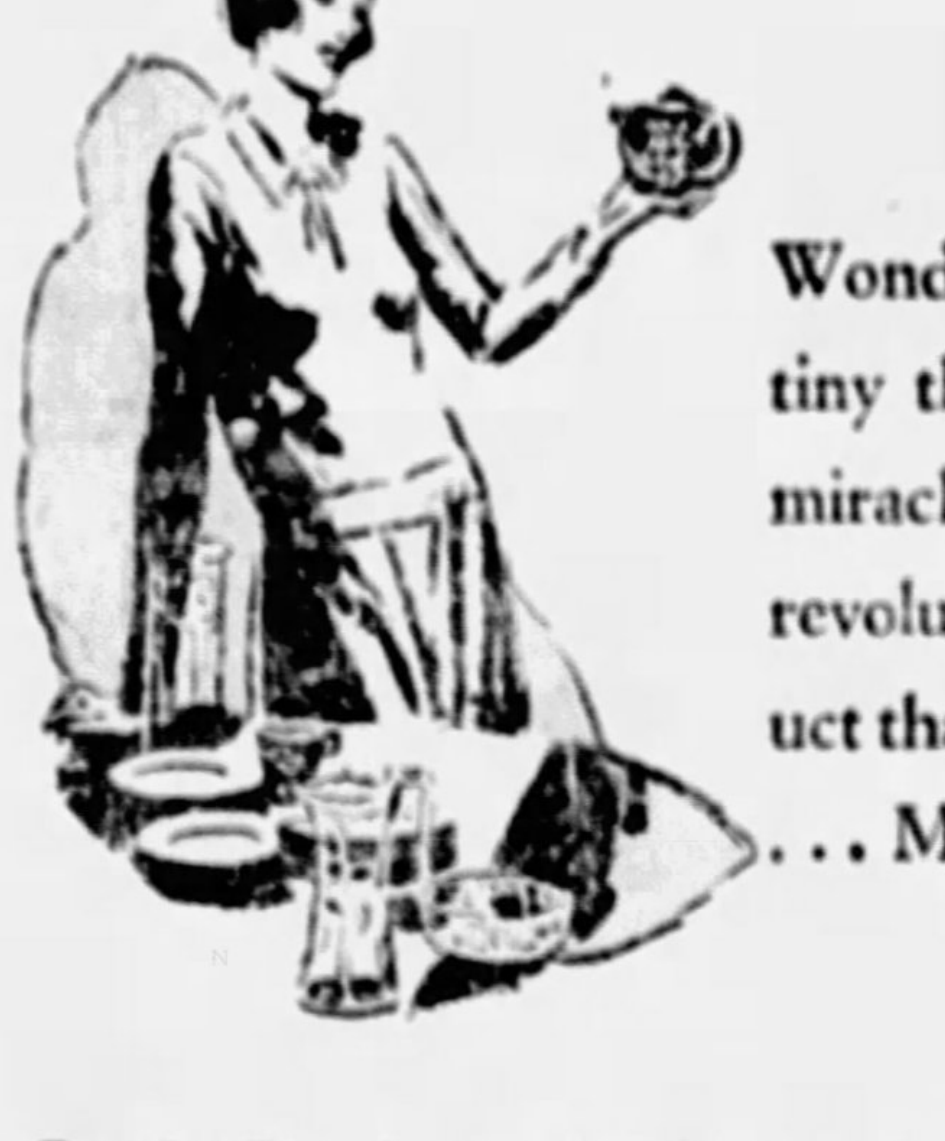
"My dear, I'm a WRECK! I mean I'm HONestly FRAYED down to my WARP and WOOF at this point, no less, because I mean simply EV'ry day is DERby day with ME since ARab inAUGurated this perVERted CUStom of wearing these POISonous iron LIDS, my dear, because I mean the situAtion is AB'slutely OUT of conTROL at this point because I mean I'm simply surROUNDED by DERbies and I'm comPLETEly BAFfled and nonPLUSSED because I mean I DREAM about them—can you BEAR it, my dear? Well, ANYways, I ACtually thought I'd go MAD and BITE myself SAVagely the other day, my dear, because I VOW I had the IDEA that at LEAST this strange SAILor BROTHer of ARab's would be an acCEPtion to the RULE but, my dear, JUST as I was triUMphantly telling ARab I couldn't iMAGine his BROTHer ever WEARing a hard hat, the SUBject under disCUSsion makes his Entrance arrayed in one—can you BEAR it? ACtually, my dear, I could have ROLLED over and aNOINted myself with PEAnut BUTter, no less, because the SIGHT was POSitively reVOLTing! I mean I ACtually FEEL that at any MOment I may dash MADly FORTH and arRAY mySELF in one of the foul things in SELF deFENCE or something—I mean I ACtually DO!"

Dishes Sparkle
Glasses Glisten

When you use these "Beads" of Soap
No reddened hands . . . no soapy film . . . wash dishes in less time with much less work

NEW!
Beads of Soap
Amazing new form of soap in tiny thin-walled "beads" now replaces chips and flakes. Patented* process makes it possible.



Wonderful new form of soap in tiny thin-walled "beads" works miracles in your dishpan . . . It's a revolutionary new Octagon product that replaces chips and flakes . . . Made by patented* process.

SMOOTH, lovely hands . . . in spite of three dishwashings a day. China, silver, and glasses . . . that sparkle in far less time.

That's what Super Suds offers you . . . a new way to wash dishes that's faster . . . easier . . . than any you've ever known before.

Super Suds is a new and entirely different type of soap made in tiny thin-walled "beads" by a revolutionary patented* process.

The minute these beads touch water —rich, foamy suds result. They dissolve instantly. Like magic! And they rinse off so easily that no film is left on glassware or china . . . just give them a hot rinse and let dishes drain and dry themselves.

New Form of Soap
A revolutionary discovery

No other type of soap is like Super Suds. No other type of soap can give you such astonishing results. We make this statement without reservation . . . for both bar and flake soap are Octagon products.

You can see the difference under a magnifying glass. See it in the whiteness of your clothes. See it in the lustrous polish on your dishes and in the velvet smoothness of your hands.

Scientists developed it. Found the way to make soap of microscopic thinness. Four times as thin as chip soap. By far the thinnest type of soap ever created.

That's why it dissolves so quickly . . . why it rinses instantly . . . why it saves so much time and energy too.

For every household need
Laundry . . . Dishwashing

And now comes the best news of all. Super Suds is not made for just dishwashing alone. It has been created for every household need.

Super Suds cannot harm the daintiest fabrics . . . washes lingerie with complete safety. And for the heavy work on washday, it is absolutely without a rival.

These facts are based upon highest scientific authority . . . the result of test after test in laboratories and countless American homes today.

Super Suds dissolves more rapidly than any soap you've ever used before. Its lively suds penetrate every fold of cloth . . . seep around every fibre . . . wash away all grease and grime.

There's no need to use your washboard now. No need to scrub and rub until your back just aches from the strain. Leave it to Super Suds to soak out the dirt.

And with Super Suds you'll save at least one rinsing.

That's because it dissolves so completely that there's never any soap particles left clinging to fabrics.

Your wash dries out snowy white. There's never a trace of soap stain . . . no dingy, yellow look.

You simply won't be able to realize that a laundry soap can make such an amazing difference in the whiteness of your wash.

Try it, please . . . then note the difference

Now that we have told you the remarkable story of Super Suds . . . will you please try it in your own home?

Test it in comparison with any soap you have ever used before. See how much whiter it makes your clothes . . . how clean without the usual drudgery.

Try it . . . we know you'll like it . . . and when you do, please tell your friends . . . For we are anxious to spread this good news among the women of America quickly.

Super Suds is surprisingly inexpensive . . . its 10-cent price is based on quantity production. If for no other reason, you should buy it for economy . . . it's the biggest 10-cent box of soap on the market.

Simply in fairness to yourself, find out what this latest soap discovery offers . . . Put it on your grocery list today.

["Just look how that china sparkles! There's no sign of soap film there. And all I did was rinse them off and let them drain and dry."]

Now hands keep their dainty softness in spite of three dishwashings a day.

An Octagon Soap Product. Every box of Super Suds carries a valuable coupon right in front. Cut it out, save it, and redeem it with coupons from FAB and other Octagon Soap products for desirable premiums. Here's an easy way to get—without extra charge—many of the beautiful and useful things you've always wanted.

*A PATENTED PROCESS. Super Suds is made by a process covered by exclusive patents. (Product, process and apparatus covered by U. S. Letters Patent Nos. 1,031,441; 1,090,740; 1,600,503; 1,634,640, and Reissue No. 16,749.)

ABOVE—Amazing beads of soap shown under the lens of a powerful magnifying glass. Note the unbelievable thinness of their walls.

CABLE STOPS PLUNGE OVER HILLSIDE

Joseph Heyl, a painter, of 215 Republic street, told in South Side Police Court today how he had saved himself from serious injury by grasping a cable as he slid down Mt. Washington hillside below Gandview avenue last night.

Heyl, who was arraigned with R. I. Leasue, 29, of 147 Amabelle street, said Leasure had knocked him down during an argument over Leasure's son. Heyl testified boys had been throwing stones at a sign he was painting. Magistrate John J. Sweeney discharged Heyl and fined Leasure $5.

M'GOVERN WILL AID MAGEE

Commissioner Charles C. McGovern will join the speaking forces of James M. Magee, congressional candidate in the Thirty-fifth district, making his first appearance tonight at a meeting in South Hills High School. Former State Senator C. M. Barr, Magee and independent candidates for Legislature in the Sixth district also will speak.

Barr spoke last night in behalf of the Good Government League candidates for Legislature in the Twelfth district, urging that every district be organized to beat the "machine." Mayor Charles H. Kline was the principal speaker at an organization meeting in Morse school last night.

THUG SUSPECT SEIZED IN CHASE

Overtaken after a chase of almost four blocks, during which he was pursued as a footpad suspect, John Laslavia, 23, of Saw Mill way, was arrested last night in South avenue near Cremo street. Patrolmen John Poland and J. W. Greeney, who captured Laslavia, lodged him in the North Side Police Station on the charge of being a suspicious person. Laslavia and a companion for whom police are searching are accused of having beaten and robbed Israel Tahlun, 38, of Colwell street, of $15. No money was found in Laslavia's possession.

BROTHERS HELD IN AUTO THEFT

Arrested yesterday by Mt. Washington police, John Montgomery, 14, of Cochran road, Mt. Lebanon, was turned over to Dormont police last night for alleged complicity in the theft of an auto from M. C. Moore, of 1134 Illinois avenue, Dormont.

Thomas Montgomery, 16, a brother of the youth held, also arrested as a suspect, is being held by South Brownsville police.

PITTSBURGHER RE-ELECTED

ALTOONA, Pa., April 20.—Mrs. C. W. Dierks, Pittsburgh, was re-elected president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Music Clubs here today. Mrs. T. C. Donovan and Mrs. William Earhart, also of Pittsburgh, were chosen, respectively, secretary and a member of the board of directors.

TRAIN KILLS MAN PICKING COAL

As he picked coal from the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad, near South Thirtieth street this morning, Martin Kurszaski, 75, of 2928 Harkins way, was killed by a light passenger engine.

DRIVER HELD WHEN CAR ENDANGERS CHILDREN

Children at play in Tunnel street last night scurried to safety when an automobile turned into that street in a broad zig-zag course. Officer David McDonald hailed the driver in stentorian tones and the latter drew up in an abrupt stop. The driver, U. S. Henry, 28, of Corothers avenue, Carnegie, was lodged in the Central Police Station charged with violating the automobile laws. Dr. Samuel J. Marcus, city physician, said he had been drinking.

6 BARRELS OF WINE SEIZED, 4 ARRESTED

A truck and six barrels of wine were seized at 418 Virgin way this morning by Patrolmen W. B. Peetz and John Hess. James Steegan, John Mauss, Harold Patterson and Andrew Brassbuds, alleged to have been loading the wine, were arrested.

Tourney Bids Are Slated

By VERNON A. SWARTSFAGER

TOURNAMENT dates were tentatively set for this season, officers were elected for the year, and several interesting discussions arose at the annual meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Golf Association held in the ballroom of the Pittsburgh Athletic Association last night.

Chester H. Lehman, of the Westmoreland Country Club, was formally installed in office, succeeding Thomas Jamison, of the Hannastown Country Club, Greensburg; John Graham, of the South Hills Country Club, was made vice president, succeeding Lehman, while George A. Ormiston, of Oakmont, secretary, and James W. Barber, of Chartiers Heights, treasurer, the W. P. G. A.'s "old stand-bys" were welcomed back to the offices they have held for a number of years.

Twenty-one of the 53 member clubs were represented by at least one man, and, in the instance of several clubs, four or five were present.

MAKES SUGGESTIONS

Upon taking office, President Lehman, in his opening speech, lauded the past administration and then spoke directly upon suggestions made him for the forthcoming season. He deplored the fact that invitational tournaments were falling off due to the heavy expenditure caused by prizes, and advocated that the cost of the prizes be held down so that more tourneys might be held. He also offered the suggestion of tournaments for men of certain handicap, which would tend to cut down the larger fields and make playing conditions more agreeable. Inter-club team matches, he said, also had been suggested, but inability to get a number of business men together to play them almost pre-doomed the project.

TOURNEY DATES

While a number of "bids" for tournament dates this summer were presented for ratification, the entire slate was turned over for final decision to the executive committee, which is to meet in the near future. Until the executive committee finally decides on the card, the following dates as a whole will remain tentative:

June 11 — Sectional qualifying round for National open at Oakmont.

June 14-16 — Allegheny Country Club invitation.

June 25—Fathers and Sons championship, Allegheny.

July 2-3—Pennsylvania state open at Oakmont.

July 9-11—Pennsylvania state amateur at Oakmont.

July 18-20—Junior championship at Shannopin.

July 31-August 2—Stanton Heights Golf Club invitation.

August 6—West Penn open at Westmoreland.

August 8-10—West Penn amateur at Westmoreland.

September 10—Professional invitation at St. Clair.

September 25-28 — Cambridge Springs invitation at Riverside Golf Club.

September 12-14—Pittsburgh Field Club invitation.

It is understood that the Hannastown Country Club, home of the retiring president, is anxious to secure the junior championship, although it made no official bid at the meeting.

The first annual senior's championship, cancelled last year because of heavy rain on two occasions, will be played some time next month, it is anticipated, at the Pleasant Valley Country Club, near Connellsville and Scottdale.

Edward E. McCoy, of Oakmont, former president, was re-appointed chairman of the caddie welfare committee, a position he occupied very admirably last year.

In his report he cited the great progress of the committee last year, and said it expected to do even more work this year. He mentioned the success obtained at many clubs through the installation of the A and B class system among the caddies and deplored the lack of interest along this line at one particular club.

The other members of the committee this year will include J. Bernd Rose, Allegheny; Samuel M.

CHILLY SAUCE

By CHILLY DOYLE

THE biggest day Pie Traynor has ever had since joining the Pirates came when he was supposed to be all out of whack. The truth seems to be that Traynor, aside from having a sore arm, is a big healthy young man who can feel a bit off and still be many strides ahead of his competitors.

PIE rapped out five clean hits, including a triple and a double and he was robbed by Hafey in a sixth attempt. It is true that Pie is lighter than he generally is at this time of the season, but he acted much like a strong race horse in the jump-off game at home.

THE Pirates have had much work and should be getting close to top condition. The loose ends of yesterday was not due to the poor condition of the players. The Cardinals are supposed to have reached a desirable point of preparation for strenuous tests and they were loose as ashes in their play at times.

A HARD field, wind favoring the batters, pitchers in the hole and other twists were as much responsible for the football score as anything. It is true that the team lost five days of action in a row in San Francisco, but they ran into fine weather in Los Angeles, and although the Buccos were trimmed by the Cubs they were approaching a nice form when they headed East.

LITTLE can be told about the various clubs in the first two weeks of play as a general thing. By May 1 it will be easier to get a line on the respective strength of the flag contenders. The members of the Pirates' hospital squad should all be ready for swift action by the time May arrives.

VIC ALDRIDGE TALKS TERMS

NEW YORK, April 20.—(INS.)—Vic Aldridge, obtained from the Pittsburgh Pirates in exchange for Burleigh Grimes, was scheduled to confer with officials of the New York Giants here today with a view to settling difficulties. The holdout pitcher asked for an interview.

GRAYS WIN ANOTHER.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., April 20.—The Homestead Grays blanked the Huntington Quick Steps, 13-0, here yesterday to score their fifth consecutive victory and third shutout of the season. The Pittsburghers tallied 20 hits.

SPORT COMMENT

by JAMES J. LONG

Local Baseball Opener Weirdest and Wildest in History — Full of Odd Plays — Injury to Hill Turns Tide Against Pirates — Record Almost Equaled in Number of Players Used.

OWING to the in-and-out ball that both clubs had played in their previous games this season, the strong wind that was blowing and the effect that the cool weather might have upon the pitching sooner or later in the proceedings, the expectations of the fans as to what was likely to happen in yesterday's baseball opener were widely varied.

Carmen Hill.

But even at that, the wildest imagination could not have pictured in advance the exhibition that was inflicted upon the big gathering of first-day customers. It was not only the weirdest opening game ever played here, but one of the weirdest and wildest ever played at any time in Pittsburgh or anywhere else.

UMPIRE CY PFIRMAN, who handled the game behind the bat, fairly collapsed when he reached the umpires' quarters after the game, and expressed the hope that never again during his days as an arbiter would he be called upon to officiate at such an exhibition.

"A nine-inning game lasting three hours and four minutes was unusual enough in itself," he said, "with its 18 bases on balls, and nearly every batter getting three and two on him before he hit, but on top of that there were unusual plays in nearly every inning and something happening all the time to keep things in an uproar."

"That beat any game I ever saw in all my career," said Grover Alexander, the Cards' veteran pitching ace, as he summed it up from the complete account of it published in The Sun-Tele extra. "I became so dizzy looking at odd or freakish plays that I quit counting them."

THE only thing that the home fans learned about the Pirates of 1928 was that there are a great number of them. They saw an average staff used in one game when Manager Bush sent a total of seven hurlers to the mound, and they saw a total of 21 Pittsburgh players in action during a game. The latter came within one of equaling the National League record, which is 22 players in a game, used by the Phillies in the first game of a double-header at St. Louis on September 16, 1926. The American League record is 23, used by Cleveland against Detroit on April 26, 1921.

EVERYTHING would have been different if Bottomley's wicked smash in the fourth inning had not struck one of Carmen Hill's legs.

Until then the bespectacled flinger had been going in fine form and was giving every promise of winning the game by a comfortable margin.

But the blow forced him to retire and then things began to happen adversely for the Bucs in such rapid order that the game was soon gone beyond recall in spite of the terrific hitting of Pie Traynor, George Grantham, Joe Harris and others.

Pie Traynor

SOME plays were seen during the wild afternoon that will not be seen again in a hurry.

There was Douthit's dash home from third, for instance, on a pop fly which Adams caught.

When Gooch apparently failed to touch Douthit at the plate and Douthit proceeded to dash back to third, only to be touched out by Traynor on an assist from Gooch, the fans were mystified as to what had happened.

The explanation is that Douthit failed to go back and touch third base before starting homeward when Adams caught a fly back of second and made the foolish play of rolling the ball toward third when he was not in position to throw.

The majority of the Pirates seemingly had not noticed Douthit's failure to return and touch third after the catch and might have lost the out when Gooch failed to touch the runner at the plate, but Manager Bush had both eyes open, as usual, and called for the play that cought Douthit trying to get back to third, Douthit realizing his oversight when he heard Bush's shout from the bench to Gooch.

WHILE on the subject of oddities, don't overlook the play that in a sense amounted to two runs being knocked in by a batter on a strikeout. With men on first and third in the sixth inning, Roettger fanned. The runners attempted a double steal on his third strike. Adams made a wild return of Gooch's throw, his first error of the season, and not only did the first man score, but the second followed him over the platter. It was contended by some that the batter actually must be given credit for knocking in two runs, even though he had struck out, just as a man who draws a base on balls with the bases full and forces in a runner is given credit officially for knocking in a tally, but the rules do not provide for anything of the sort on a strikeout. The first man scored on a steal and the second on Adams' wild throw.

IF Pie Traynor is in such bad physical shape as reported, suffering from a stiff neck, a sore arm and other ailments, the St. Louis pitchers probably will not be very eager to encounter him when he is feeling well.

What Pie did to them yesterday with his bat was one of the few bright spots for Pittsburgh fans. He cracked out a triple, a double and three singles, and was robbed of an extra base hit in right center on a shoestring catch by Hafey.

HAFEY was one of the loudest in praise of Traynor after the game. "Pie sure had a big day, and if there was anything our pitchers threw to him that he did not murder, I can't imagine what it was," said Chick. "That boy certainly is a credit to the game. He is a wonderful fellow in every way and I have never seen a third baseman who compared with him.

Glenn Spencer

Hafey reports himself in good shape now after his operation during the winter for sinus trouble. He says his eyesight is as good as ever, but he is prohibited from going to moving picture shows and still is taking treatment daily from a specialist, when he is in St. Louis.

IN their opening games abroad and at home this year the Pirates were beaten by the largest scores ever made against them in curtain-raisers, the Cards scoring 14 runs in the St. Louis lid-lifter and 13 in the local

PIRATES' CHANCES FADE AS PITCHER HILL IS STRUCK ON LEG BY BATTED BALL AND FORCED TO RETIRE ◆◆◆

BUT FOR THIS ACCIDENT BUCS MIGHT HAVE WON

Carmen Hill was struck on the leg by a liner off the bat of Jim Bottomley to start the fourth inning of the opening game nightmare at Forbes Field yesterday, and, although he finished the inning without being scored upon, fanning two of the visiting batters, Hill had to leave the game. Six other Pirate pitchers had to be called upon before the shades of night blotted out the scene with the St. Louis club ahead, 13 to 10. It was a costly accident for the Buccos and a ghastly joke on the fans.

DRINKING CHARGE MADE

BOSTON, April 20.—(INS.) — Accepting a trophy as the winner of the national marathon in the Boston Athletic Association gymnasium yesterday Clarence DeMar delivered a speech blasting A. A. U. officials.

"We will call their bluff this year," announced DeMar, speaking of the 1928 Olympics in Amsterdam. He declared that conditions in 1912, 1920 and 1924 for the Olympic runners were "impossible." He said the runners were told to train on the steamship en route to Europe and were called "yellow." In 1924 DeMar said he refused to train except when he knew he should do so.

Speaking of a meeting in New York by A. A. U. officials to arrange a coach for the Olympic team, DeMar said: "I think the eighteenth amendment is being violated throughout the meeting."

"We will have a real Olympic team this year," he concluded. "We are going as a team and not as individuals to win for Uncle Same."

PIRATES OUT FOR REVENGE

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

"WELL, we're glad that's over," was the unanimous verdict of Donie Bush and Bill McKechnie this morning as they bounded out of bed, their positive reaction having to do with a certain spectacle that took place yesterday afternoon in the Oakland Orchard. The keeper of the records of the grand old game collapsed about the fifth inning, but the Pirates and Cardinals carried on in the matter of establishing new marks. When the battle ended three hours after the start no statistician could be found who had an accurate account of the astonishing happenings that were crammed into the struggle.

Players, fans, umpires; in fact

ONE FOR THE BOOK

You've heard of no-decision fights. Well, here's a no-decision play in baseball. It happened in the third inning of the Pirates-Cards opener at Forbes Field yesterday. With Douthit on third and Holm on second, Frisch skied to Sparky Adams and the latter threw home to catch Douthit. The latter slid in under the throw and Umpire Pfirman made no decision, as Douthit had left third base before the catch. Realizing his error, Douthit beat it back to third, and Holm, who had gone there, raced back to second, but it was too late. Gooch pegged to Traynor, who retired Douthit to put out the side. Another freak play occurred in the sixth inning, when Roettger struck out with men on first and third. The runners worked a double steal on the final strike and both scored when Adams' relay of Gooch's throw to second went wild over the catcher's head. Some of the scorers credited Roettger with batting in two runs, although he struck out for the first half of the double play.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

by HARRY KECK
SUN-TELEGRAPH SPORTS EDITOR

OPENERS may come and openers may go, but yesterday's Pirates-Cards opener always will remain a memory, along with the Zivic-Katkish fight.

Seven Pirate pitchers made their appearance and only two of them, Hill and Spencer, looked the part. The others were throwers.

Five men faced Miljus and all of them hit safely. Which proves that John at least could get the ball over the plate.

WHAT WOULD HAVE HAPPENED IF THEY HADN'T TAKEN OUT THE LIVELY BALL? OR HAS IT BEEN TAKEN OUT?

Movement is on to start the games earlier at Forbes Field. What we want is earlier closings.

Lots of fans stayed there for the intermission before today's game.

WE JUST KNEW THEY'D MISS EMIL YDE FOR THAT OPENER.

The fans hadn't seen so much hitting since the Dempsey-Firpo fight.

One swallow may not make a summer, but one ball game like that is enough for a lifetime.

You can tell the fans are groggy

LEADERS remained unchanged after last night's rolling in the American Duckpin Congress tournament which is completing it's final week on the Haus alleys, North Side.

In the five-men event, the Union Alley five of Pittsburgh turned in the best score and placed high in the standing by turning in a 2,462 score. The second best mark was a 2,586, bowled by the Grand team of McKeesport. The Gascos of Pittsburgh were third with a 2,374.

In the doubles, E. Deitz and H. Anderson rolled a 1,012 for the best tally of the night. E. Schofield and Vogel missed getting into the 1,000 class by a single pin, rolling a score of 999. C. Evanik and Wansuch rolled 942 and C. Lens and Michel a 938.

Only six bowlers were able to clear the wood for scores above 500 in the singles. Hawkey's 571 was the best mark of the night. Labby was second with 542 and List third with 538. J. Sam rolled 516, L. Woods 514 and M. Patton 516.

R. Flemming fell three pins under the 500 figure with a 497.

Gourley Signs Lafayette Contract

Herb McCracken, head football coach at Lafayette College, announced today that he had received word from Cullen (Fats) Gourley, local attorney and, like himself, a former Pitt star, to the effect that the latter had accepted terms and signed a new one-year contract to return to Lafayette as line coach next fall.

Gourley has been with McCracken at Lafayette the last four seasons. McCracken will work out the last year of a three-year contract next fall.

Fred Parnell, former Allegheny College star, will return to Lafayette in the fall for his third season as freshman football coach.

Keep Fans Off Jury

NEW YORK, April 20.—(AP.)—The legal extravaganza of Jack Dempsey and Jack Kearns, featuring an argument over $701,026.66, which opened yesterday with a dress rehearsal will get under way today before a jury and Judge John C. Knox in the United States District Court here.

Fistic luminaries will throng the courtroom. Kearns, who piloted Jack to the championship, charges breach of his contract with Dempsey and seeks to recover one-third of the former titleholder's earnings from 1923 through Dempsey's losing title fray with Gene Tunney in 1926.

The judge, busy on another case, kept the contestants fidgeting in their corners almost three hours. During the wait Dempsey autographed countless cards, talked with reporters, chatted with Tex Rickard; swapped surreptitious glares with Kearns, once his inseparable pal.

The jury was chosen within 50 minutes after Judge Knox appeared. Only two challenges were made, both by Kearns' attorneys. One man rejected was a fight fan who had seen Dempsey in action. The other dealt in stock of the Madison Square Garden.

DONAHOE BOWLERS STAGE BANQUET

The members of the Donahoe's Stores Duckpin Bowling League whooped it up at their first annual banquet, marking the close of a successful season, at Webster Hall last night. Some 70 bowlers attended. P. C. Rathert acted as toastmaster and the team trophy was presented to the Warehouse champions by Harry Keck, sports editor of The Sun-Telegraph.

Entertainment was presented by William Barnett, brother of Luke; Ukelele Pat Haley, the Magidson Twins, Eddie Masten, the minstrel, George Waters and others, and speeches were made by the captains of the various teams as follows:

Edward Garrity, Warehouse; Jimmy Lucenti, Fifth Avenue; Matt Gill, Garage; Crea McClintock, Dormont; Chuck Wingerson, Butchers; Norman Case, West Park; Harry Barclay, Groceries, and Bob Apple, Smithfield.

The Warehouse champions consist of the following rollers: Edward Garrity, captain; Michael Petrick, Aaron Robins, Edward Reott, George Bendig, John A. Powell and George Perry. The large, ornate trophy was the gift of Donahoe's.

everybody was "down" and out, feeling the pangs of hunger when the last putout was made. Donie Bush had called on seven pitchers and was looking around for Yellowhorse. The Pirates had used up 21 players and darkness was not far in the offing as the last batter was retired. The Reds won, 13 to 10, with all missing districts in.

In some respects the opener was the most remarkable game ever staged here. It is true that many of the 30,000 folks in attendance left the scene, but there were hundreds who, after having felt the urge to get home, surged in the runways as Pie Traynor, George Grantham or some other home favorite rapped out a homer, triple or double to put the Freebooters back in the old ball game.

18 WALKS GIVEN

Smart plays, stupid plays, plays that weren't plays at all; runners hit with throws, others swatted with batted balls, pitchers knocked flat on the mound, base hits deflected into startling putouts, runners forgetting to touch up on the bags before advancing on fly balls, 18 free gifts of first base—these were some of the eventful developments as the curtain was lifted for the edification of Pittsburgh fandom.

Bush gave Carmen Hill the slab ticket for the afternoon, and it is timely here to state that if Bunker had not been kissed on the leg with a vicious wallop, there might have been no need for the injection of 21 athletes. Hill was going along in the even tenor of his way when Sunny Jim Bottomley all but knocked him out of the game literally. The Buccos had a comfortable lead at the time. Hill tried to stay for the remainder of the game, but he was forced to abdicate in favor of John Miljus.

MILJUS WALLOPED

Penn Avenue John seemed to take quite a lot of stuff to Fogarty Knoll, but the Redbirds fluttered up to the plate and uncorked a salvo that sent the Pittsburgher a-flyin' to the showers. Ere the contest ended, five other sharpshooters had seen action of some sort. Dawson, Brame, Fussell, Tauscher and Spencer followed in the order named.

Skipper McKechnie of the Cardinals nominated Fred Frankhouse for the Pittsburgh inaugural. The youngster could not make the riffle, he giving way to Carlisle Littlejohn. The second right-hander was able to hold his own until the eighth, when Lefty Sherdel had to hurry to the scene. Sherdel stemmed the attack of the Bushwhackers and eventually the unique battle was brought to a close.

But this is another day, and the disappointed Pirates will be out there looking for revenge. It looks like a slab duel featuring Jess Haines and Burleigh Grimes, two sterling righthanders who have been heroes of many a fight.

SHOOTERS TO COMPETE AT CHARTIERS HEIGHTS

Tomorrow afternoon members of the Western Pennsylvania Trapshooters League will hold a preliminary shoot at Chartiers Heights Country Club.

PIRATES SHOULD HAVE HOLLERED FOUL WHEN BOTTOMLEY HIT HILL LOW.

The Bucs' pitching staff made Jack Sharkey look good in comparison.

Best pitch of the day was Sparky Adams' throw to the plate that let in two runs on a strike-out.

TOUGH LUCK WHEN YOU CAN'T WIN ON 10 RUNS AND 14 HITS.

Only casualty was the murder of a gent in the press box who was hoping the Pirates would tie it up in the ninth and the teams then would play seven extra scoreless innings.

That fellow who walked out disguised as Lon Chaney at the finish was John Heydler, president of the National League, who later left on a fast freight under cover of darkness to avoid arrest as an accessory to the crime.

Julius Levin, our box score keeper in the office for the baseball extra, contracted grippe from the breeze and is confined to his bed at home. He can stand just so much.

TODAY'S ANOTHER DAY. HERE'S A PRAYER THAT THE BOYS REFORM. OTHERWISE THEY'LL BE PLAYING CRICKET.

Gordini tried hard and fought gamely, but Gans excelled at boxing and at work in close quarters.

In the semi-final, Frankie Porte, Glassport, won Referee Deitz's decision over Ken Hargrave of New Kensington after the judges had disagreed. The bout went eight rounds. Referee Deitz called the six-round bout between Jimmy Belmont of Braddock and Young Guidlo of Niles, O., a draw after the judges had disagreed.

Charley Brodd won via the technical knockout route over Eddie Gibbons in the third round of the opening bout when the referee stopped the bout with Gibbons helpless on the ropes. The men were heavyweights and both hail from McKeesport.

FIFTH, LATIMER WIN.

Fifth Avenue High School set down South Hills High, 5-4, at Warrington Park, and Latimer High opened the Junior High School League by defeating Knoxville, 10-1, at Fineview Park yesterday.

GENERAL BALLOON
OUR 3RD Annual
Special TRADE IN Sale
CORD

Now in Full Swing and Ready for Another Big Saturday

MOTORISTS BY THE SCORE took off their old tires last week and are riding now on safe, new Generals.

THEY SOLD US THEIR OLD TIRES at flattering prices. We took in undersized tires from brand new cars — partly worn tires from others — some aged "blowout prospects" from some more.

LOW LEVEL PRICES on new tires—full allowances for worn tires. A tire buyers' event auguring easy sailing for the motorists and hard going for the makeshift bargain tire boys.

STOP FOR THREE MINUTES at our store and learn how little it costs to equip with Generals and know the trouble-freedom and extra mileage that other people enjoy.

INCREASES in the use of General tires exceeded that of any other tire in the world last year. Annual statements of General and the country's other great rubber factories showed this.

Aside from the top quality reputation, a big factor in General's achievement in leading the field last year was the low price of rubber which made it ridiculously foolish to look for cheap tires the way prices for good tires were—and are today.

Thousands of motorists who have always wanted Generals but believed they could not afford the slightly higher first cost, are taking advantage of present low rubber prices and this special Trade-in opportunity and buying Generals for less than they had paid for other tires, good and bad.

Trade in Every Make, Every Size--Old or New

With Our Full Value Allowance and Today's Low Rubber Prices, What's the Use of Worrying Along With the Ordinary Tire

The General Tire goes two, three and four seasons—more uninterrupted miles, two to one, than any other tire — This is because it is built from the ground up of pure new rubber and first grade fabric. A tire large and strong enough to do the job.

There are tires as bulky as General—made partly of reclaimed rubber, lubbery, loosely put together tires of inferior quality, but they are not the tires that give you the second ten thousand uninterrupted miles.

The experienced motorist knows the General is the correctly built, properly proportioned tire that makes driving safer—traveling more comfortable—that saves clothes, nerves and patience because it doesn't give out with a pinch against the curb or a bump in a bad hole—that doesn't merely protect against accidents or abuse but furnishes unlimited protection—the kind that can be had only when built into the tire itself.

This is the kind of tire you need this year, above all years—with faster speeding cars, shorter stops and more of them, and hurried get-away, you need the big, safe Dual Tread, proper size General—always the preferred tire of the big car owners who want everything the best that money can buy.

This is the tire you need today even on the lighter cars — and can buy — for your car — at less than your usual price for tires by taking advantage of this Trade-in Sale.

Panthers Weakened

By JESS M. CARVER

KEN WEBECAN, Jimmy McCullough and Vic Pickard, who will represent the University of Pittsburgh at the Ohio State relays at Columbus tomorrow, left Pittsburgh last night for the Ohio capital.

The Pitt contigent was considerably smaller than the one that was originally scheduled to invade Ohio State's campus. Capt. Gibby Welch, Don Gwinn and Ed Knoblock were left at home, quarantined in their fraternity house and Pete Bowen and Comfort, dash man and middle distance runner respectively, were declared ineligible because of scholastic difficulties.

Pickard will defend his pole vault title and will attempt to set a new record in the event. He holds the present relay record of 13 feet, which he set last year. Webecan and McCullough, sprinters, will compete in the 100 and 200-yard dashes.

It was originally planned to enter a relay team, but the loss of Bowen put a crimp in that plan.

The location of the Pitt, Wash-Jeff varsity tennis match, scheduled for tomorrow, has been shifted from the Pitt Stadium courts to the Washington courts and the matches will be held there.

The engagement will be the opening one of the schedule for the Pitt team.

The outdoor track and field program for 1928 will be inaugurated tomorrow at Lawrence, Kansas, where the sixth annual Kansas Relays will be run off.

Stars from three major college conferences are entered in the meet, including athletes from the Big Ten Missouri and Southwestern conference.

starter yesterday. But pennants are not won or lost on opening days. Stick to the Bucs and keep on rooting, and by the end of another week, if not before, they will show you a club that will be a real pennant prospect.

ANOTHER bright spot in the gloom of defeat, aside from the continued great hitting of Grantham in addition to that of Traynor, was the manner in which a Pirate rookie, Glenn Spencer, performed, when sent to the mound as Pittsburgh's seventh pitcher in the ninth inning.

He disposed of Holm, Frisch and Bottomley in rapid order, and acted like a coming pitcher, though it may be necessary to send him away for a time for little more seasoning. This is only his second year in baseball.

Parks, Highland; Harry Wilhelm, Edgewood; John W. Carr, Pittsburgh Field Club; C. L. Pierce, Jr., Longue Vue; John M. Hepwood, St. Clair; Dr. W. H. K. McDiarmid, Alcoma; J. Hollander, Westmoreland; Walter Williams, Stanton Heights; Dr. T. C. Craig, South Hills; A. O. Pearce, Shannopin; Harvey Dauler, Pittsburgh Field Club, and L. O. Robertshaw, Greensburg.

John Graham, newly elected vice president, in the absence of the secretary of the Pittsburgh Branch Service Bureau of the U. S. G. A. green section, read the report of that body. It was pointed out that while in 1926 member clubs had saved twice the amount of the total dues, in 1927, three times that amount had been saved. There was an increase of $15,000 over 1926 last year and the actual savings amounted to about $6,000. Twenty-nine clubs are now enrolled.

Harmar J. Denny, Jr., of Fox Chapel, executive committeeman elected for a three-year term along with John W. Carr of the Pittsburgh Field Club, and Robert Smith, of Hannastown, said that the Boy Scouts of America were willing to co-operate in every way with the caddie committee. He forsaw the day when all caddies would be given Boy Scout training. The idea was applauded.

Westmoreland was complimented on the success of its system providing college educations for its top-notch caddies each year, and a representative of the Pittsburgh Field Club said his club was trying to work out a similar system there.

John Graham suggested inter-club matches between a pro and an amateur from each club. Richard C. Long, of Stanton Heights, advocated its adoption in a little speech in which he also urged more competition, while George Ormiston, Harry H. Hunter and several other gentlemen also entered the debate. Nothing definite was decided upon, however.

Following adjournment, members turned to the silver screen and watched pictures of star golfers, men and women, play their various shots in front of a slow motion picture camera. It was one of the most interesting features of the night. The outlook for the W. P. G. A. this season is exceptionally bright.

NOTES of the BOXERS

SANDY SEIFERT boxes a tough one in K. O. Christner at Dayton, O., tonight. Christner has hung up a big list of knockout victories and is regarded as one of the best young heavyweights in the business.

Midget Mike O'Dowd boxes Willie Gordon of Seattle at San Francisco tonight. Lew Chester, Philadelphia middleweight clashes with Bert Colima at Hollywood, Cal.

Andy Charlton, of Wellsburg, and Happy Childs, of New Kensington and formerly of Wilkes-Barre, meet in a 10-round bout at Clarksburg, W. Va., tonight.

BARTLEY & SONS, London Bootmakers for more than a hundred years, have actually made shoes for the present Prince of Wales, his father, the present King of England, and his grandfather, King Edward, and other members of the Royal Family, past and present. That's why we went direct to Bartley.

Bartley describes the Sole of this Shoe as an oak bark tanned "middling substance," and that is what we used. The Upper Leather in Bartley's original is an Imported Calfskin tanned in Osterwik, Holland, and we are using the same tannage. The lasts are identical in both measurement and appearance, and the design is the same.

One reason is, Bartley averages Three pairs a day, and we average Three Thousand

'Reforms' U. S. Socialists Urge; Employers Take Note

By B. C. Forbes

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER once observed to me, "Next to knowing all about your own business, the best thing is to know as much as possible about what the other fellow is doing."

It has been aptly said, "The radical of today is the conservative of tomorrow."

Perhaps it will be well for business men and others to take note of what the Socialist Party of America urges on its presidential platform. The writer is not a Socialist because he does not believe in either the desirability or the feasibility of their cardinal principle. But, on the Rockefeller theory, and having in mind the axiom already quoted, let us consider the different steps they are advocating.

HERE are the main planks adopted at the Socialist National convention:

Public ownership of all natural resources and public utilities, including oil wells, coal mines, power plants, railroads, telephone and telegraph systems.

Old age pensions.

Farm relief.

Adequate flood control.

Withdrawal of armed forces upon Nicaragua.

Entry into the League of Nations "under conditions which will promote the peace of the world.

Nation-wide employment agencies.

Federal loans to states and municipalities without interest to promote public works.

Unemployment insurance.

Shorter work day.

Abolition of convict labor under the contract system.

Modification of the immigration law.

Abolition of the power of the United States Supreme Court to pass upon the constitutionality of congressional legislation.

Repeal of the espionage act.

Abolition of detective agencies and the restoration of citizens' right to those convicted under war-time law.

Legislation guaranteeing the constitutional rights of free speech and assembly and of the press.

Proportional representation.

Acquisition of grain elevators and stock yards and other agencies by the government or bona fide societies.

The creation of co-operative purchasing, marketing and credit agencies.

Cancellation of all United States and other war debts and the remittance of reparation demands.

All private loans and investments of American citizens abroad be "at their sole risk" without resort to military or other coercive aid by the government.

Autonomy for Porto Rico.

Civil government for the Virgin Islands.

Increased taxes on large incomes.

A tax on land held for speculation to the equivalent of its rental value.

AFTER heated discussion a resolution was adopted declaring that:

"The Socialist party now, as always, is ready and eager to cooperate with any united political effort and with any and all groups honestly seeking to establish a party of the purchasing class on the basis of relief in political and industrial democracy."

This, it was admitted, was a bid for the support of organized workers not out-and-out Socialists. One report submitted declared that from 1920 to 1926 the American Federation of Labor lost approximately 123,000 members a year, while company unions were gaining about 125,000 members annually.

NAPOLEON usually could checkmate an enemy when he could learn of its plans in advance. It is well, therefore, that all who are opposed to Socialism should inform themselves concerning the various "reforms" that the Socialists are striving to bring about.

Happily, the trend in this commonwealth has been distinctly away from Socialistic measures and movements. But a recrudescence would be inevitable were corporations and other employers and other interests to allow themselves to be lulled into the belief that all need for bringing about further betterment of the working classes has passed. The seven-day work-week, and the 365-day work-year, for example, cannot but breed Socialists.

The best way to prevent a destructive conflagration is to make a buildi throughly fireproof. The best way to prevent a social-political conflagration is to do everything humanly possible to make our existing social system fireproof. A good deal remains to be done.

EX-ALLEGHENY EDUCATOR FALLS DEAD NEAR BUTLER

BUTLER, Pa., April 20.—James A. Rowan, 71, veteran educator, dropped dead on his farm in Middlesex township yesterday. He was a singing teacher in Allegheny county for 12 years and the last 20 taught in Middlesex township.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

S. O. N. Y. Gets Soviet Output.

The London Daily News announces that Standard Oil Company of New York has acquired a yearly monopoly of Soviet oil fields output, completion of deal only requiring another conference at Paris. The Standard Oil Company proposes to establish an indemnity fund to compensate former owners of confiscated oil fields including those formerly held by British companies. Commenting on the deal, the Daily News says: "An open rupture between the Standard Oil and Royal Dutch interests seems likely as a result of the deal and it is probable that the 'price war' between these companies will become more widespread."

Coast Production Steady.

Total production of crude oil in California for March was 19,118,324 barrels, compared with 18,035,459 barrels in February. Total stocks in Pacific coast territory at the end of March were 140,798,874 barrels against 141,215,365 barrels at the end of February.

Export Refined Oil Advanced

Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has advanced U. S. Navy gasoline for export ½ cent a gallon and refined oil and water white for export also ½ cent, effective this morning. New price for refined oil is 17.40 cents, whater white, 18.40 cents, and U. S. Navy gasoline, 25.40 cents.

Texas Gulf Sulphur.

Texas Gulf Sulphur Company reports for the March quarter net income of $3,087,639, after charges, equal to $1.22 a share on 2,540,000 capital shares, against $3,046,277 in the preceding quarter, and $2,854,631 in the March 1927 quarter.

Electric Bond Rights.

Directors of Electric Bond and Share Security Corporation are offering common stockholders the right to subscribe to new common at $80 per share, in ratio of one share for each three held. Stockholders of record April 30 have the right to subscribe. The entire issue has been underwritten by Bonbright and Company at the offering price without charge. Rights expire May 31.

Week's Structural Orders.

Structural steel contracts the last week increased to 35,500 tons from 32,000 the week before. New inquiries were in the market for 51,000 tons.

Mack Truck Dividend.

The current $6 annual dividend on Mack Truck common is in no immediate jeopardy, according to those close to the company, despite the fact that the first quarterly payment of $1.50 a share was not fully earned. Mack is in excellent financial condition, especially since retirement of its preferred stock and it will prove no strain on its surplus to maintain the dividend for a reasonable period, which it is expected will be required to regain sufficient earning power to cover the disbursements. It is rumored that the coming quarterly report will show less than 75 cents a share earned for the period.

March Glass Output Gains.

The American Glass Review tomorrow will say: "The demand for plate glass is holding up very well and production continues at a high figure. Production of polished plate glass in March aggregated 11,297,175 square feet, the highest total reached since that month of last year and a gain of approximately 1,200,000 square feet compared with the production of the preceding quarter. Production figures for the quarter showed a moderate recession, however. Marketing conditions in the flat glass industry did not change to any appreciable extent during the week and production schedules were being maintained on substantially the same basis as throughout last month."

The Copper Market.

Trading in non-ferrous metals was rather quiet in the past week, yet prices held on a steady basis. Requests on the part of some manufacturers that shipment dates on copper be advanced indicate that current rate of consumption is on a somewhat larger scale than had been anticipated, Engineering and Mining Journal reports. Copper that was available at 14.125 cents a pound a week ago has disappeared and the lowest quotation heard since then is 14.175 cents, Connecticut. The asking price of producers is 14.25 cents, delivered in the East. In the so-called Middle West fair sales went through at 14.375 cents. Foreign sales of copper at the exporters' price of 14.50 cents, c.i.f. have reached about 30,000 tons thus far this month.

Loans Cause Early Selling.

Loans to brokers and dealers by the New York Federal Reserve Bank members aggregated $4,129,000,000 on April 18, an increase of $134,531,000 over the previous week and a new high record. The increase was a surprise to the trading community which had expected a decrease in view of the fact that the market had suffered two distinct reactions during the period covered by the report. Coupled with the raising of the rediscount rates to 4½ per cent by the Boston and Chicago b the loan bulge caused a flood of selling at the opening today with the result that leading industrial and rail shares started the day from one to seven points under last night's closings. There was a quick rebound, however, and while the full opening loss was not immediately regained, it was apparent that buyers had been waiting for just such developments to purchase their favored stocks.

Fewer Cotton Spindles Active.

According to preliminary figures 34,012,262 cotton spindles were in place in the United States on March 31, of which 31,412,820 were in operation at some time during the month, comparing with 31,687,012 for February and 29,920,164 for March 1927, the census bureau announced.

Byers Buys Iron.

A. M. Byers Company has purchased 10,000 tons of No. 3 foundry iron for the Girard works, and 10,000 tons of Bessemer iron for the Warren plant.

Lumber Ahead of Last Year.

The lumber manufacturing industry during the week ended April 14, while apparently a little less active than the week before, continued much ahead of a year ago, says the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association. Reports from 706 mills gave total production 9,500,000 feet less than the 716 mills the preceding week, shipments were 20,000,000 feet less and orders were off about 13,500,000 feet. Decreases in all factors were absorbed by the softwood branch, although its output was much larger than at this time last year. Unfilled orders of 217 southern pine and west coast mills were 733,447,506 feet, against 714,431,360 feet the previous week.

Budd on Great Northern.

Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern Railway, expects March gross revenues will be $560,000 ahead of the $7,934,588 for March last year and net operating income about $336,000 more than last year's $1,123,742. The season was a little backward, he said, but it was too early to say anything about crop acreage of prospects, as seeding was only beginning in the road's territory. He did not expect business the next few months to be very different from last year.

Lead Output Increases.

Production of lead by countries supplying 90 per cent of the world's total was 139,327 tons in March, against 131,233 in February and 144,411 in March, 1927, the American Bureau of Metal Statistics reports. Output of zinc by countries supplying 97 per cent of the world's total was 133,243 tons, against 121,254 in February and 123,852 in March, last year.

Standard Gas and Electric.

Total income of Standard Gas and Electric Company for the year ended February 29 was $64,918,780 before depreciation, compared with $61,414,337 the year before.

Mathieson Alkali.

The Mathieson alkali works reports net income of $429,463 for the quarter ended March 31 after depreciation, depletion and Federal taxes equal, after preferred dividends, to $2.62 on the common, against $446,268 or $2.74 a share in 1927 quarter. E. M. Allen, president, says earnings from electrolytic alkali operations showed a material reduction in profits.

Orders for Baldwin.

The Baldwin locomotive works has received an order for 275 cabs for mail cars for the U. S. Postoffice Department. Manufacture of these cars is a new departure for Baldwin. The company has also received orders for three locomotives for the Southern Pacific; five for the Texas Pacific and eight switch engines for the Chicago and Northwestern.

Call Money Plentiful.

Call money at the opening was in good supply and light demand at 4½ per cent renewal figure. The tone was easier. In time money, there was a disposition to await developments. A large amount of money was placed at 5 per cent on Thursday. The principal demand has been for shorter maturities. National City Company has advanced its bidding rates ⅛ per cent to 4 per cent for 60-day acceptances and to 4⅛ per cent for 6 months. National City is one of the largest dealers in prime bank acceptances.

Yellow Truck Strong.

Yellow Truck fell away with the general market on the opening but the stock met strong buying on the dip and rallied easily to new high ground for the current markets. The Cutten group is rumored active on the long side of this stock and while the company is said to have turned out 3,000 units in March, the influence behind the current rise is the news that the Chicago operator and his friends are on the buying side. For the long pull prospects, however, the Cutten influence is overshadowed by the fact that General Motors interests control the company. The DuPonts, incidentally, are apparently not so dissatisfied with the management of United States Rubber as some Street commentators indicated in their gossip over the past several weeks. At the recent rubber meeting all of the officers and directors were re-elected with one exception and that was the election of a new board member to fill the vacancy caused by the death of a director during the year. The DuPonts as individuals are large holders of U. S. Rubber shares. In the case of Yellow Truck, it is thought most of the stock regarded as "DuPont stock" is held by General Motors as a corporation. White Motor was strong today but there was no particular news bearing on the issue. Several months ago, when dividends were cut, it was reported that some strong people had taken a long position in White with the intention of holding on for a year or more.

Week's Gold Exports.

Gold exports in the week ended April 18 aggregated $30,612,000 of which $23,931,000 was "ear-marked" gold for France. Italy took $4,000,000; Brazil, $1,680,000, and Venezuela, $250,000. Gold imports were $86,000, chiefly from Latin America.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, April 20.—Unexpected weakness of Liverpool quotations, together with rain in Kansas, led to a sharp early setback today for wheat values here. General selling of wheat took place and there was evident lack of buying support. Opening at 1⅛c to 1⅜c off, Chicago wheat rallied somewhat, but subsequently dropped lower than before. Corn and oats were also weak, corn starting at ⅜c to 2c decline, and then keeping within their initial range. Provisions tended upward.

At noon wheat was 1⅞ to 2⅛c net lower and corn ⅞ to 1c off.

Rain reports that came today not only from Kansas, but from Oklahoma and Nebraska, did much to dispel drought fears and to turn wheat traders from the buying to the selling side of the market. Meanwhile, an unlooked for break in wheat values at Liverpool was accompanied by word that Argentine wheat was being offered more freely at lower prices.

Enlargement of Argentine wheat offering on a cheaper basis today was emphasized by an official estimate placing the 1927-28 Argentine wheat yield at 239,000,000 bushels, against 221,000,000 bushels the previous year. On the other hand, the Argentine surplus remaining for export was officially estimated at 80,000,000 bushels, compared with 110,000,000 bushels last year.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, April 20.—No sales were reported in the raw sugar market early today and prices were unchanged at 4.43c duty paid.

The raw sugar futures market was steady and after opening 1 point lower to 1 point higher, prices rallied on covering and some trade buying, owing to the steadiness of the spot market. The opening irregularity may have been due to rather disappointing London cables, but offerings were not aggressive and at midday prices showed net gains of 1 to 2 points. Trading, however, was not very active and it looked as if operators were inclined to limit operations and await developments in the refined market.

No changes were noted in refined sugar prices, fine granulated ranging from 5.90c to 6.00c. Withdrawals on old contracts were again of liberal proportions, but new business showed no improvement. Some second-hand sugars still were available at below refiners' list quotations.

STOCKS BREAK BUT RECOVER LOSSES

NEW YORK, April 20.—(AP.)—Prices on the New York Stock Exchange broke sharply at the opening on selling inspired by higher rediscount rates and the huge increase in brokers' loans, and then staged a remarkable recovery which wiped out most of the losses and sent a score issues to new high ground. Early losses ranged from 2 to 7 points, but strong buying support quickly appeared and by early afternoon more than a score issues were selling 2 to 6 points above yesterday's final quotations.

Trading was in tremendous volume, with blocks of 1,000 to 10,000 shares appearing on the tape at frequent intervals throughout the day.

The recovery was stimulated by the lowering of call money rates from 4¾ to 4½ per cent, and the fact that speculative accounts were strongly margined. Weekly mercantile reviews reported that the normal spring expansion of business was being retarded by unseasonably cold weather in some sections. Extension of recent gasoline price advances helped to revive bullish enthusiasm for the oil group, one block of 10,000 shares of Standard Oil of New York changing hands at 33.

Radio, which broke 7 points to 175½ on the first sale, had snapped back to 185, a new high on the current move, by early afternoon. Delaware and Hudson rallied from an early low of 190 to a new 1928 high at 197. American Railway Express, Standard Milling, Warner Brothers Pictures, Atlantic Refining, Lambert, Advance Rumely common and preferred and Martin Parry were among the many issues to sell 3 to 6 points above yesterday's final quotations.

New York tractions were again heavily bought in anticipation of a favorable Federal Court decision on the application for a 7-cent fare.

New peak prices for the year or longer were registered by United States Leather common and preferred A, Container Corporation, Otis Steel prior preferred and several others.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 20.—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 3 points to a decline of 3 points. Some buying on reports of rains or showers in the South and relatively firm Liverpool cables appeared to be readily supplied by realizing, and while showers were expected in the South, the prospect for warmer weather was considered favorable.

Business was moderately active, but fluctuations were narrow and rather irregular, prices working off to about 19.97 for May and 19.63 for October, or 3 to 4 points net lower by the end of the first hour.

Private cables said local and Bombay buying on adverse weather reports from the South had been supplied by continental liquidation at the advance in Liverpool, and the Liverpool market had eased off a few points after the local opening.

The market later became steady and more active on a bullish interpretation of the Washington report on the pink bollworm situation in the Southwest. Prices advanced sharply with May selling up to 20.14c and October to 19.80c early in the noon hour, or about 13 to 14 points net higher.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, April 20.—(AP.)—Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (000 omitted in sales column in bond list):

STOCKS.

FOREIGN BONDS.

SCREW AND BOLT DIPS LOWER

The opening weakness in the New York market had no visible influence on securities on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today. The list here was steady at all times during the session, and price movements in the general run of stocks held to within a point or so of last night's final figures.

Lone Star Gas started the trading at a small fraction away from the previous close with demand maintaining the quotation around the opening level. Other fuel issues were dull.

Harbison-Walker opened again at 203, the highest record for the shares up to today, but subsequent orders were closed at higher prices. Richard K. Mellon was elected a director of Harbison at the annual meeting a few days ago.

Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt showed further weakness today and after opening off a point at 53, sold down later to 52, a drop of more than 5 points from the top reached on the recent spurt when the Street heard rumors of a favorable earnings statement for the first quarter.

May Drug Stores held steady around the recently established high record while Armstrong Cork firmed up to 60 as compared with sales yesterday at 59. Witherow Steel at 27 was at a new high and a point above the last previous sale price.

DRIVER OF DEATH CAR ABSOLVED BY CORONER

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 20.—R. A. Harrison, 30, of Mount Gilead, O., who gave Dominick Natase, 61, 29 South Ruple avenue, a "lift" as the aged man was plodding along a highway several miles north of this city and an accident occurred later in which Natase was killed, was exonerated of any blame at an inquest conducted here yesterday by Coroner William B. Baker. The car got beyond Harrison's control on a steep grade and when it crashed into another machine, Natase was hurled off against a curb.

WHAT'S ON THE AIR

SELECTIONS from Victor Herbert's compositions will be featured on the air tonight. Excerpts of Mr. Herbert's "The Enchantress" and "American Rhapsody" will be part of the Cities Service hour to be heard through WCAE at 8 o'clock. A group of saxophone solos also will be on this program. Selections from Mr. Herbert's operettas, "It Happened in Nordland" and "Naughty Marietta," will be played by the Caruso Orchestra in the White Rock concert from KDKA at 8:30 o'clock.

Olive Palmer, soprano, will be heard on the Palmolive hour broadcast from WEAF at 10 o'clock. Among her numbers will be Strauss' "Voci de Primavera." A male quartet with the Wrigley review, to be heard over KDKA at 9 o'clock, will sing "The Grass Grows Greener." A selection from Friml's "Firefly" will be rendered by a mixed quartet.

The Columbia Chain program, "At Home With the Masters," will present, among other classical numbers, the Allegro movement of Grieg's Sonata in A Minor, Op. 36. It will be played by Ossip Giskin, cellist, and Alexander Semmler, pianist.

Other highlights on tonight's programs will be music by the Anglo-Persians at 9 o'clock and the La France Orchestra at 9:30 o'clock—both over WEAF; a concert by Godfrey Ludlow, violinist, and Mme. Lolita Cabera Gainsborg, pianist, at 8 o'clock—over KDKA, and True Story Hour at 9 o'clock and the La Palina Smoker at 10 o'clock—over WJAS.

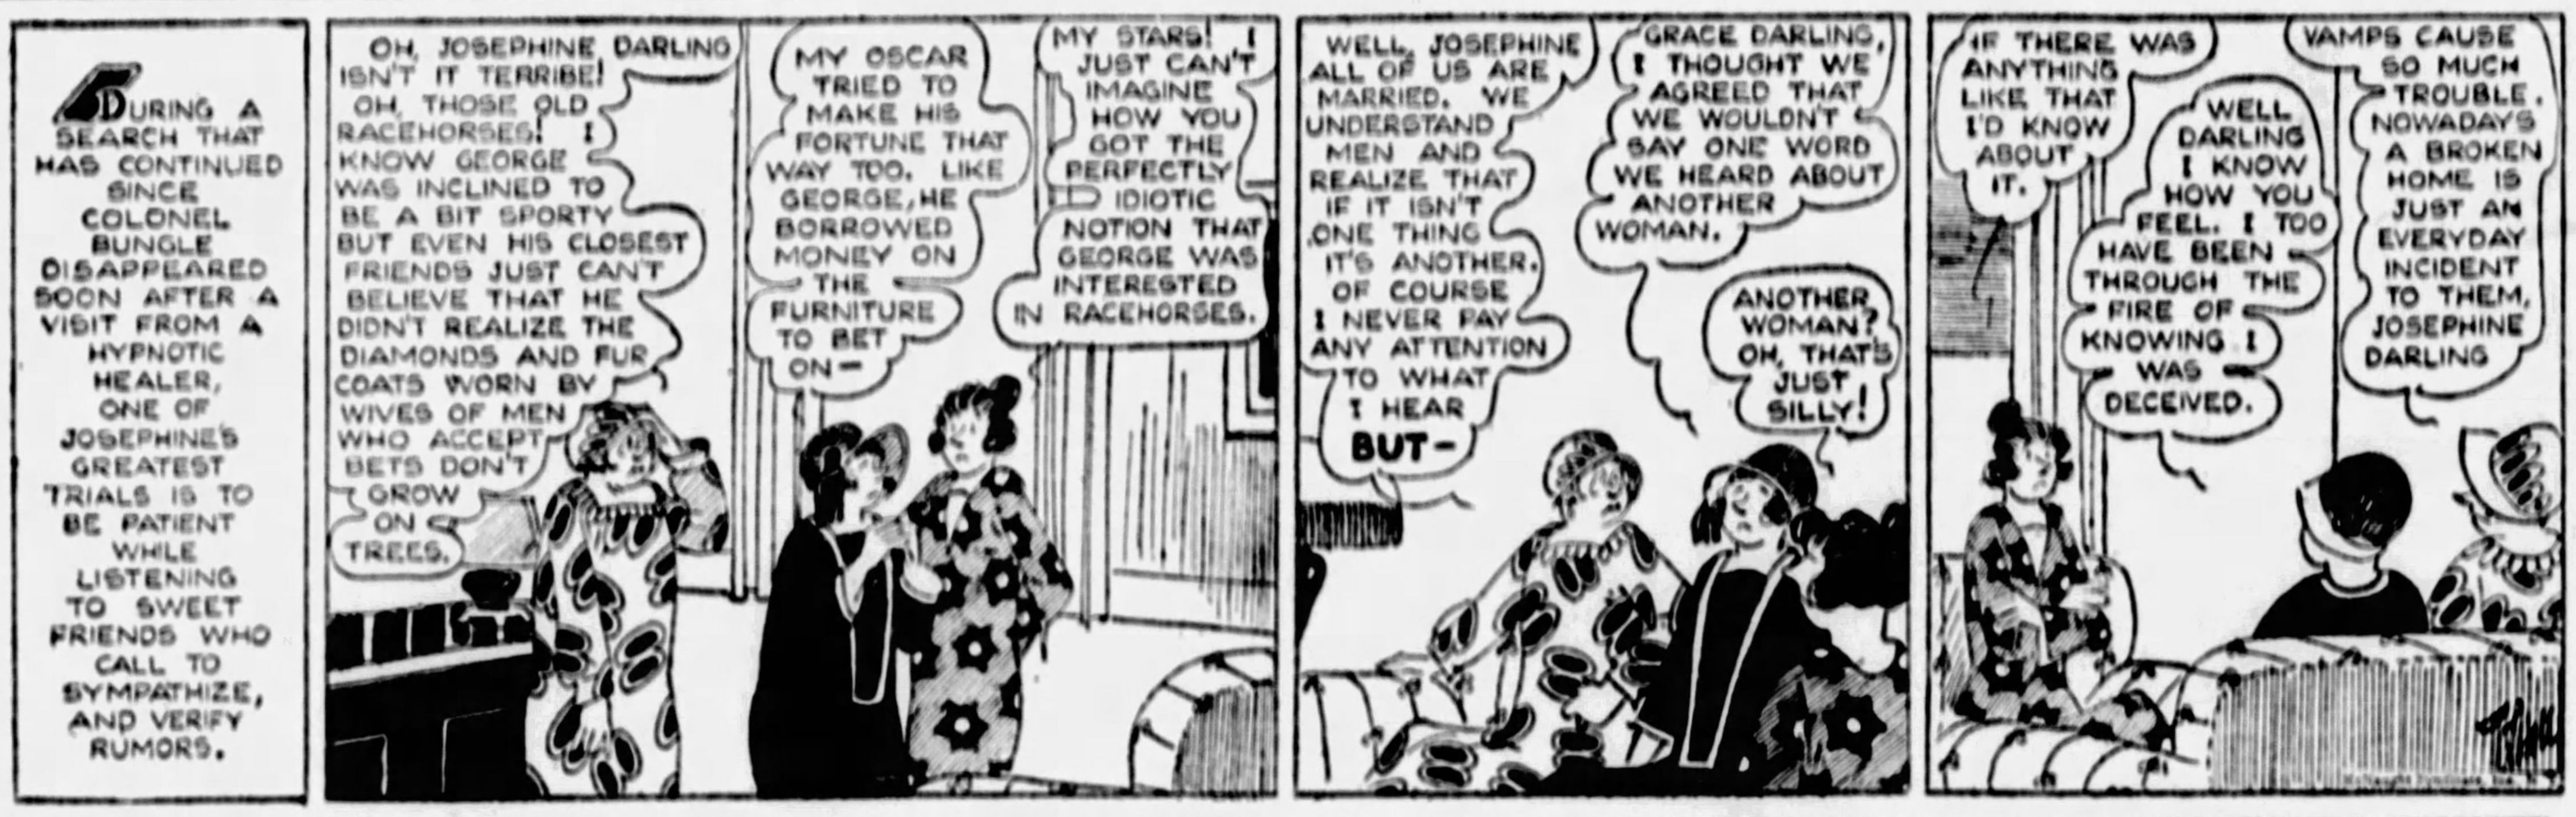
THE BUNGLE FAMILY

The Third Degree



DURING A SEARCH THAT HAS CONTINUED SINCE COLONEL BUNGLE DISAPPEARED SOON AFTER A VISIT FROM A HYPNOTIC HEALER, ONE OF JOSEPHINE'S GREATEST TRIALS IS TO BE PATIENT WHILE LISTENING TO SWEET FRIENDS WHO CALL TO SYMPATHIZE, AND VERIFY RUMORS.
OH, JOSEPHINE DARLING ISN'T IT TERRIBE! OH, THOSE OLD RACEHORSES! I KNOW GEORGE WAS INCLINED TO BE A BIT SPORTY BUT EVEN HIS CLOSEST FRIENDS JUST CAN'T BELIEVE THAT HE DIDN'T REALIZE THE DIAMONDS AND FUR COATS WORN BY WIVES OF MEN WHO ACCEPT BETS DON'T GROW ON TREES.
MY OSCAR TRIED TO MAKE HIS FORTUNE THAT WAY TOO. LIKE GEORGE, HE BORROWED MONEY ON THE FURNITURE TO BET ON—MY STARS! I JUST CAN'T IMAGINE HOW YOU GOT THE PERFECTLY IDIOTIC NOTION THAT GEORGE WAS INTERESTED IN RACEHORSES.
WELL, JOSEPHINE ALL OF US ARE MARRIED. WE UNDERSTAND MEN AND REALIZE THAT IF IT ISN'T ONE THING IT'S ANOTHER. OF COURSE I NEVER PAY ANY ATTENTION TO WHAT I HEAR BUT—GRACE DARLING, I THOUGHT WE AGREED THAT WE WOULDN'T SAY ONE WORD WE HEARD ABOUT ANOTHER WOMAN.
ANOTHER WOMAN? OH, THAT'S JUST SILLY!
IF THERE WAS ANYTHING LIKE THAT I'D KNOW ABOUT IT.
WELL DARLING I KNOW HOW YOU FEEL. I TOO HAVE BEEN THROUGH THE FIRE OF KNOWING I WAS DECEIVED.

IT'S JOHN SMITH— AND HE'S COMING UP! HOW GLAD I'LL BE TO SEE HIM, AND HOW GLAD HE'LL BE TO SEE ME, ESPECIALLY WHEN I TELL HIM ABOUT GETTING THE STOCKHOLDERS' MONEY! I WISH JIM WAS HERE!
JOHN SMITH! FOR A LONG TIME I PURSUED YOU WITHOUT SEEING YOU, AND NOW I CAN SEE YOU WITHOUT PURSUING YOU! I'VE GOT A TALE LONGER THAN A SNAKE'S TO TELL YOU, AND YOU'LL WANT TO HEAR EVERY WORD OF IT!
I DON'T WANT TO TALK TO YOU, AND I DON'T WANT TO LISTEN TO YOU! WHAT I WANT FROM YOU IS THE MONEY BELONGING TO THE RADIUM MINE STOCKHOLDERS—AND NOTHING ELSE! MY FRIEND AND PARTNER, ASA KADDS, HAS TOLD ME ALL ABOUT YOU!

BUGS BAER Says

AN EXPEDITION leaves Alaska next month. Object: To drop a flag on the North Pole.

Byrd has already dropped an American flag on the radiator cap of the world.

There are also Norwegian and Italian banners there. We are not so certain about an English emblem, but we think that one was started off in the parcels post about a year ago.

ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER.

That's patriotic and all those other symptoms, but why furnish the Eskimo with free blankets?

Why not drop a hot water bottle or something appropriate to the landscape?

The Bremen dropped an [illegible] and a German pennant on Greenley Island, thereby causing Wilhelm the X to cable, "Per Aspera ad Astra."

In more economical speaking English that means through hopes to the stars. There ain't been such grand sentiment magnavoxed since Doc Cook remarked, "Per Aspirin and Gummox."

Meaning through gumdrops to the Aurora Borealis.

Vote Fraud Guilt Verdict Is Triumph for the People

The guilt of four members of the election board of the Fourteenth District of the Twenty-first Ward, charged with committing frauds at the September primary, was decreed by the jury. This is the first board in the present trial of some 200 indicted election officials to trust its case to the jury. It is the third board to be disposed of in a week, members of the first two having entered pleas of guilty.

The verdict of the jury is a great triumph for the people. It is regarded as the decision of right against wrong in "the key case." It shows that juries will convict in cases of this kind. It shows a sweeping change in sentiment. It had been tactily felt that a jury decision against the prosecution would have been tantamount to a decision in all other cases and that they would fall.

Therefore the public is to be congratulated on the outcome. The district attorney is to be congratulated on having prepared his case so well that conviction was possible. While the delay in the trial of these cases has been a matter of complaint, the outcome in this, the first case to come to trial, is so satisfactory that the public feels assured pending cases will be prosecuted as vigorouly and efficiently as the first one was.

While the action of the jury in finding that the evidence submitted was sufficient to indicate guilt is a victory for justice, it has other important significance. It is a vindication of the aroused spirit of the public, which, previous to the September primary, had let it be known it had tired of the political thievery and cheating on the part of election board tools of machine leaders. Its voice of warning was heard, but the mad gang felt that it could continue to "get away with it" as it had been accustomed to do. "The public be damned" appeared to be the attitude, and an orgy of vote stealing followed. The revelation of it resulted in the arrest and indictment of the boards now being tried.

Although the voice of the public has been vindicated, it has not been stilled. It again sounds the same warning that it uttered in September last—"No cheating at the April primary!" A watch will be kept. Investigators of the Allegheny County Election Association, which will have the co-operation of the bar association, will be on vigilant duty. Scores of volunteers will aid in pursuing the purpose of keeping the election clean.

Ballot thieves are warned that crookedness is certain to be detected. For the rest there is the record in the Criminal Court this week—the score, three boards guilty in a total of three coming before the bench.

Public Should Thank Railways and Car Men

The fact that a two-year wage agreement between the Pittsburgh Railways Company and its 2,800 employes has been signed and a flat increase of one and one-half cents an hour granted is just a casual bit of news. It is not the first time that the scale committee of the men and representatives of the company have come to an agreement with so little fuss, so the public takes little notice of it.

Yet in contrast to the turmoil which attended the making of some of the wage agreements between these two elements in the past, the peaceable way is worthy of favorable comment. It is an axiom that there is no news in peace. The public only notices what disturbs it. As long as it is not agitated it pays no attention.

Remembering the years when it had to walk and get to work any way it could, it seems the public ought to thank both the Railways Company and its men for having adopted a more friendly policy in their dealing with one another. Especially, when we remember the trouble we used to experience. The Sun-Telegraph congratulates the company, its employes and the public because all benefit through the new way of accomplishing ticklish tasks.

Dangers in Pussyfooting

The effort of a group in the National Republican Club to get into the Kansas City platform the Lincoln doctrine of the "right of each State to control its domestic institutions" is expected to fail, because the party of Lincoln has drifted far from its first moorings.

This doctrine is, however, as sound today as when Lincoln advocated it. And it is peculiarly applicable to Prohibition, around which the politicians are trying to pussyfoot.

Another doctrine of Lincoln is also apropos—"A house divided against itself cannot stand."

The division of opinion and feeling over Prohibition can be resolved in only one way. Refer it to the people and let them decide.

Test has proved it impossible to coerce great masses of people into being temperate by enforced abstinence. They do not abstain. And in their revolt against compulsion, many become more intemperate than before.

Auto Sales Tax

The three per cent sales tax on autos is a good tax because it is a sales tax. We need a sales tax in our national tax structure.

Nevertheless, it is unjust to have a sales tax applied only to autos and a few other objects. The war time sales taxes were removed on nearly every other article of common use.

Automobile makers have promised that if the tax is taken off, the cost of cars will be reduced to buyers by exactly that much.

Until we are ready to introduce a universal sales tax, the automobile sales tax should be repealed.

SUN-TELEGRAPH'S PLATFORM

For Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania

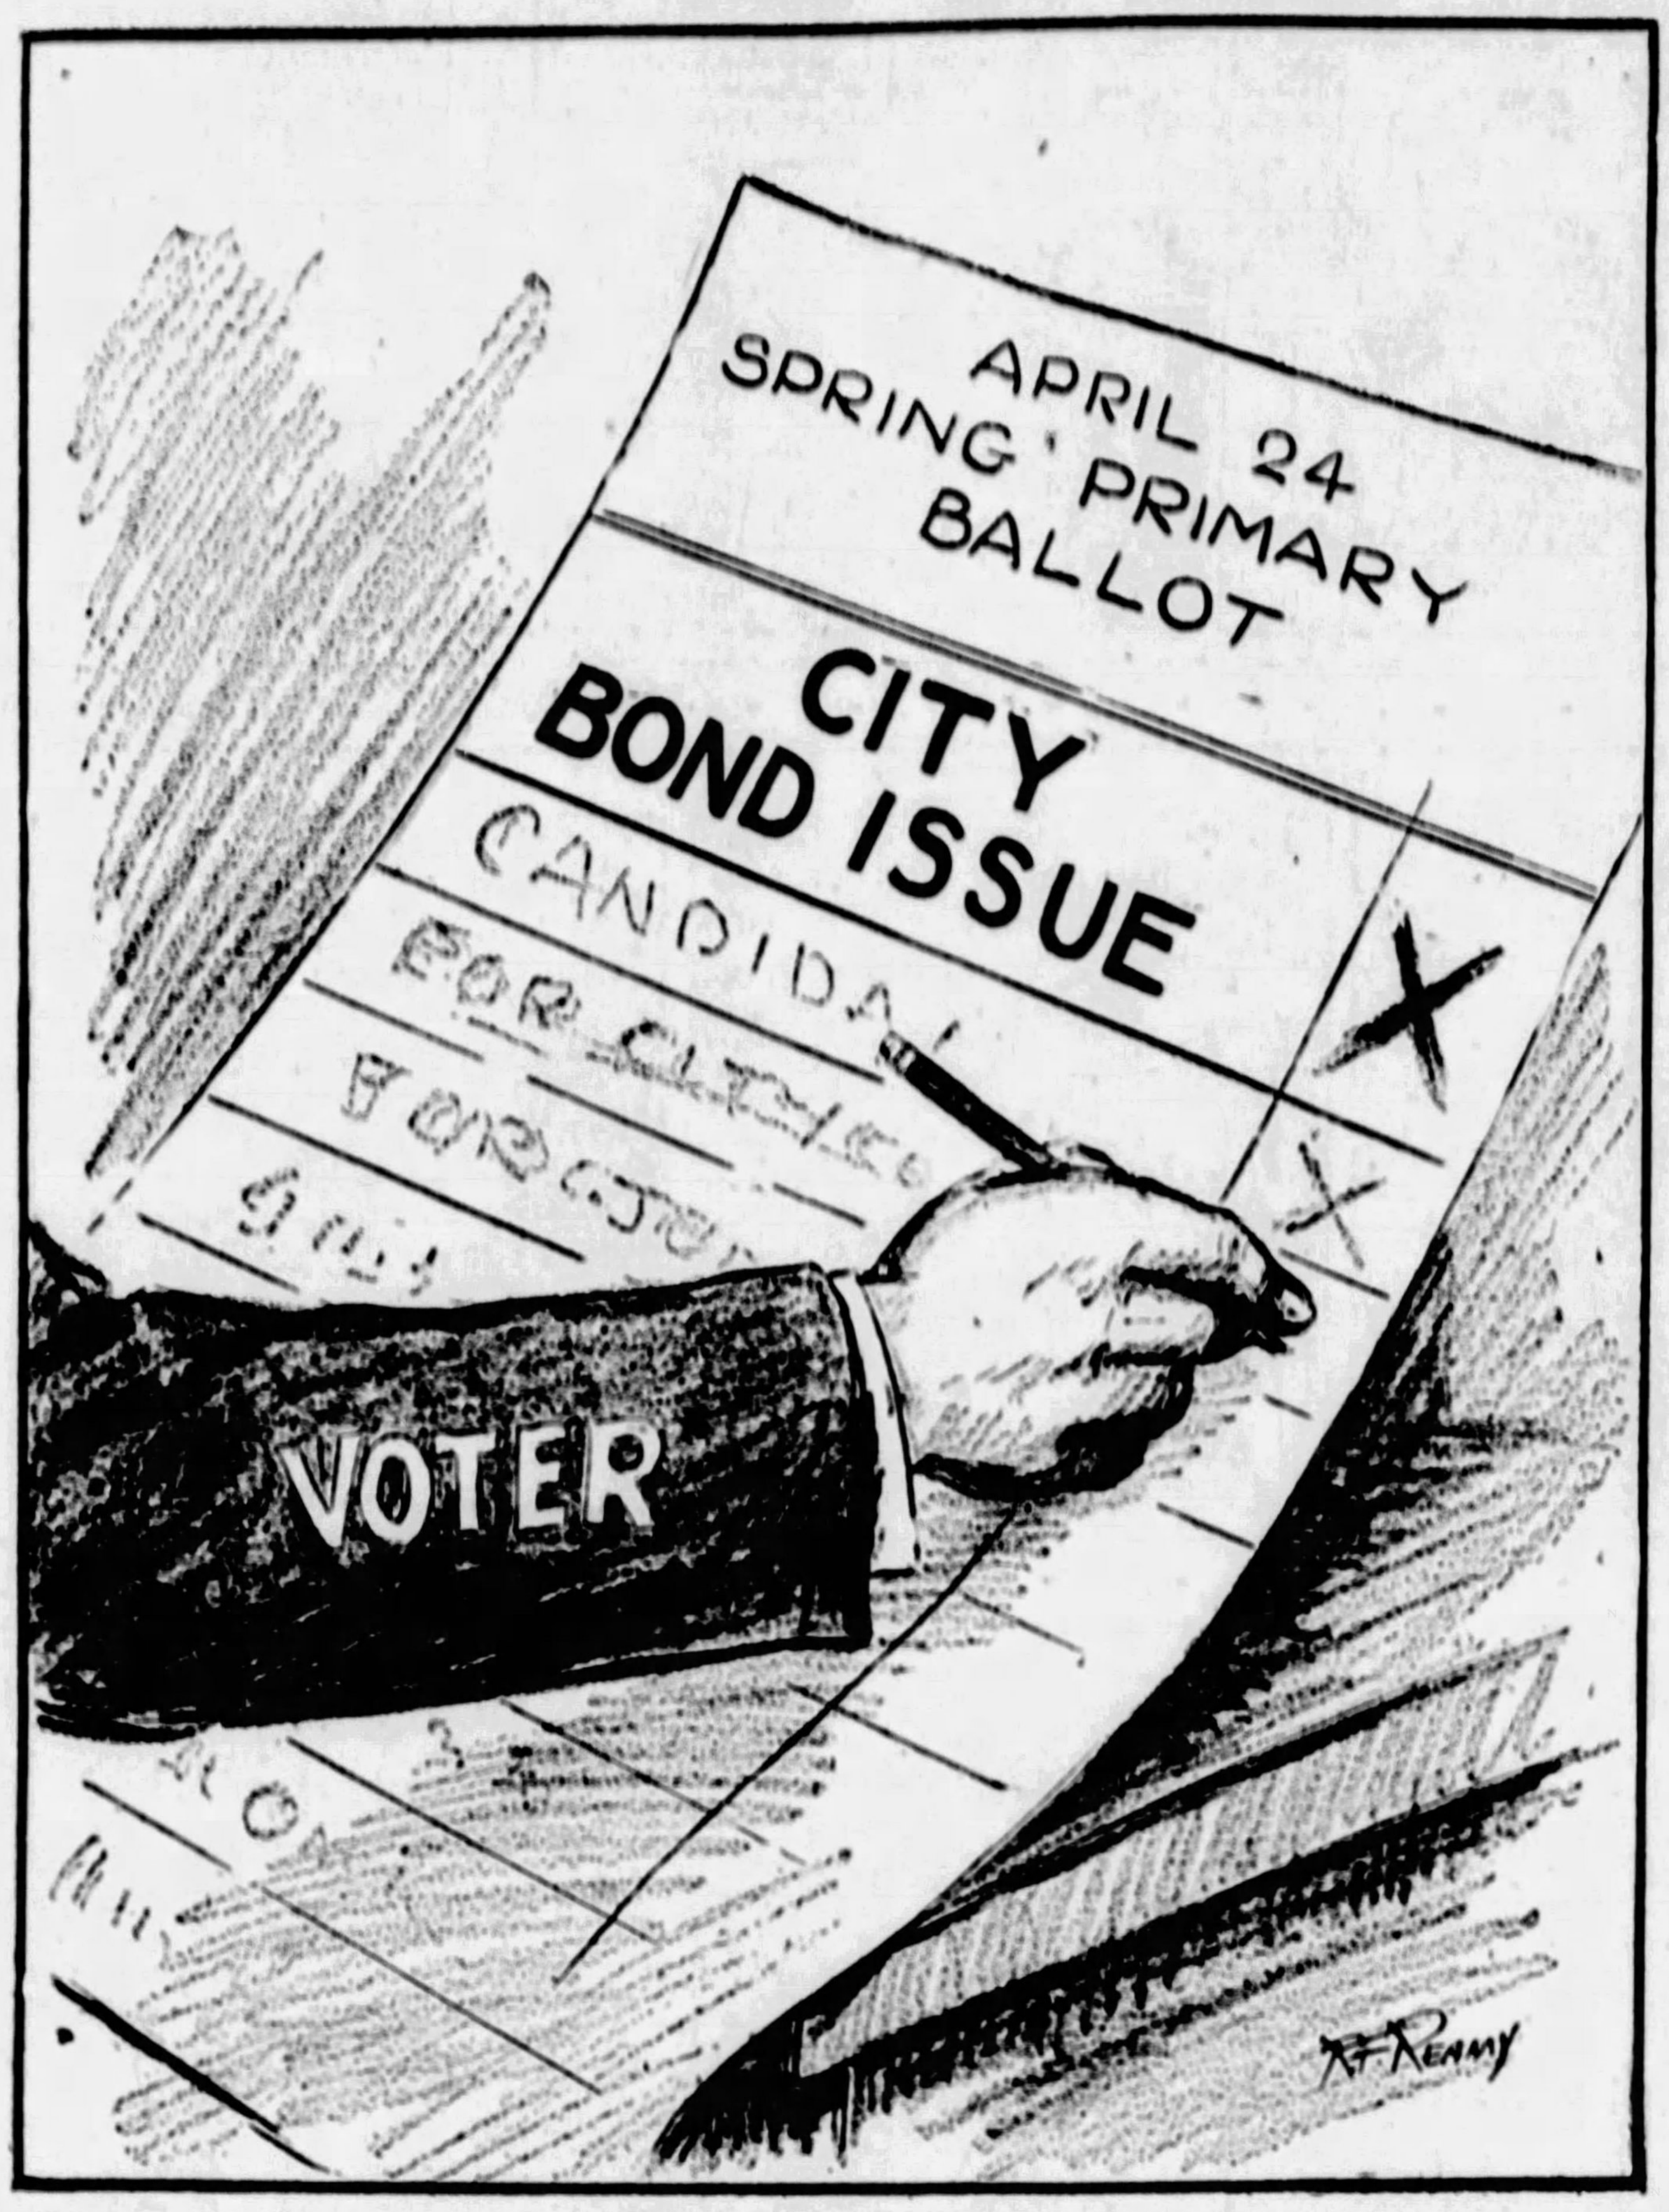
2—Settlement of coal strike.
3—Rapid transit.
4—Repeal or modification of "blue law."
5—Establishment of Pittsburgh metropolitan district.
6—Community Fund for charities.
7—Town Hall, seating at least 15,000.
9—Voting machines to insure honest elections.
9—Development of river transportation.

"LEST YOU FORGET"



Garrett P. Serviss Says:

Astronomy Not Decadent

A CHICAGO reader writes me: "I have put four children through college, and none of them studied astronomy. Is it a decadent science? I studied astronomy in college over forty years ago, though it was only a short course and we had no telescope or any other instruments."

I suppose that in those colleges that have no classes in astronomy it is assumed that the students have been taught all they need of so "unpractical" a science in the preparatory and high schools. But the other day I was told of a high school in which no astronomy was taught; so, in that case—if any thought whatever was given to the subject—it must have been assumed that the primary schools had done the business. But the indications are the same for the primary schools. In them it is perhaps assumed that the children get instruction in astronomy at home, or take it from nature, as they learn to play.

It all comes back to the question of the utility of astronomy as a factor in people's lives. Except in certain applications to navigation and surveying, astronomy, as a science, makes no appeal to the practical-minded person whose aim in life is at wealth and its concomitant enjoyments. The pursuit of astronomy is as pure an intellectual exercise as can be named. The majority are not fond of pure intellectual exercise. They may regard those who are with respect, sometimes with reverence, but never with emulation.

If the study of astronomy led to a money-making profession or career, there would be no neglect of it in formal education. My own experience accords with that of my correspondent in that I, too, recognize in colleges and other schools a relative falling off in the attention paid to astronomical studies.

"There's no money in that," says the worldly-minded man. "The world is getting richer, and I want my son to learn the things that will help him get his share. Astronomy won't help him."

And when Dives takes that view of it, the schools turn the cold shoulder to astronomy. It is turned out to join the despised classics, Greek and Latin, in their almost hopeless search for some place where they can still stand a little in the shine of the great education sun.

"Culture," contemptuously exclaims the "go-getter." "What's culture? It's knowing how to get the bunks, that's my idea. And what have the stars to do with that?"

Not much, it must be confessed; but—"ad astra per aspera" (to the stars through the bars) as the good State of Kansas stoutly proclaims on its official seal. Though all schools and colleges and universities in the land should turn astronomy from their doors, the unguided minds of the people would continue to find delight and consolation in the contemplation of the starry universe. The healing and strengthening influence of that ineffable celestial pageant was the same in the days of the Chaldean shepherds and the Egyptian pyramid builders that it is today.

"Practical" science enables man to hear his own voice around the globe, and pluck a thousand melodies, played or sung, in a hundred lands, out of the circumambient air; it makes him lord of the air and suzerain to the eagle and the condor in their own realm, flying over mountains and across oceans, in defiance of height and depth and of cloud and storm, rolling back time itself as triumphantly he circles the sphere—but the stars are undisturbed by such petty facts on so minuscule a speck of dust: Vega regards them not, nor Arcturus, nor the Pleiades in their awful flight through the cosmos.

These glories are terrestrial only and their fame and wonder are confined to the earth. The great centres of limitless energy are in orbs like Canopus, blazing 10,000 times brighter than the sun, or in the globular star clusters that outshine the little earth-lighting sun a millionfold. Surely, the science that can bring such thoughts to the wondering mind has no need of college halls which are not great enough to contain it.

Rights Not Self-Enforcing

SENATOR BORAH is, of course, profoundly right when he says:

"The American people are entitled to uncontrolled conventions, to an unbought and uncorrupted campaign, to issues clearly stated and candidly met."

But if we know the genus politician, they will not get them without a struggle.

Once Overs

By J. J. MUNDY

Appreciation

PERHAPS you think you are very much Mrs. Somebody.

You would not like to hear anyone say as much, either to your face, or in discussions with friends.

But there was a time, during your childhood, when you did not have a mother's care—possibly it was a father, you lacked.

Perhaps you had parents, but they were busy and thoughtless and you were left much to yourself.

At any rate you were lonely and unhappy.

Do you remember a sweet-faced mother or a kind father with a big family of boys and girls who lived near you and who often invited you to join them in their happy family parties?

You were so glad to go, and you had such a good time.

You never tried to be agreeable, but you enjoyed it and sometimes you think of it now.

Now that you are not under obligations to outsiders to give you a pleasant time, what do you do for those former friends or their children, to show your appreciation of what they did for you in your childhood? Be grateful.

Reproach

YOU have grown fond of the world's false ways,
You have grown wise and cold;
Have you forgotten far, lonely days
And the tales that the great sea told?

You have drunk deeply of draughts men prize,
Folly and fame you know;
Have you forgotten pale stars that rise
Through the tropic's swift afterglow?

Since you have glimpsed splendid pomp of kings
(Futile though it may prove)
You have grown strange to life's simpler things,
Sunrise and song and love!

Tales that are Told

Birds of a Feather

GENERAL knowledge was a favorite subject with a certain schoolmaster, and he seldom failed to ask his pupils a few questions on this subject every day.

"Who was the greatest man in the world?" he asked one.

The class were beaten. They did not know.

"Very well," said the master at length, "I'll tell you. George Washington was the greatest man that ever lived because he couldn't tell a lie."

"But he wasn't the only great man," objected one boy. "Ananias was equally great, for he couldn't tell the truth."

Capped the Lot

THREE artists were telling tall stories of their work.

"The other day," said one, "I painted a deal board in imitation marble with such effect that it sank immediately when thrown into the water."

"That's nothing," said another. "Yesterday I hung a thermometer on the easel supporting my picture of the Polar regions and it fell at once to twenty degrees below zero."

"Go on," remarked the third. "My portrait of a millionaire was so realistic that it had to be shaved every morning."

As She Knew Him

HE ARRIVED home carrying an interesting-looking parcel. It was a peace offering, but his wife refused to be interested.

"Wouldn't you like to know what's in that parcel?" he asked, wistfully.

"I expect I can go on living without knowing," she replied, coldly.

"Well," he continued, "it's something for the one I love more than anybody else in the world."

"Really!" snapped his wife. "Then I suppose it's that cigaret case you've wanted for ages."

Proof of the Pudding

THEY had just married and had moved into a quaint little house in Suburbia, advertised as being two minutes' walk from the station.

The young bride was standing on the tiled porch using a new pair of field-glasses.

"Darling," she cried, "the estate agent who told you that our home was only a stone's throw from the station is getting out of the train now."

"Oh, is he?" returned her husband grimly. "Well, give me a brick out of the garden and I'll do my best."

Self-Sacrifice

TWO Scottish maiden ladies who had never been inside their kirk were making the experiments.

They had not been seated very long before the beadle noticed that they were occupying a private pew.

He made his way over to them and touched the first on the shoulder. Before he could speak the organ pealed forth majestically, and the woman looked up at him with a grateful smile in her eyes.

"Thank ye," she said. "But ye micht tak' Kirsty. She's a better dancer, ye ken."—London Answers.

Unfortunate

BRIGGS was very proud of his son and heir, and was never happier than when showing him off to his friends.

"Well, Noggs," he said to an acquaintance one day, "what do you think of my son? Strapping lad, isn't he?"

"Er—yes," said Noggs.

"Think he looks like me?"

"H'm—well—er—ha—well, old chap, I—to tell you the truth, I'm afraid he does."

Isn't It So?

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 20.—Thoughts while strolling: Clarence Mackey looking into a Postal Telegraph window at Fifth avenue and Forty-sixth street. The set expression of lifted faces. What's become of Mary Miles Minter? South Americans with gaudy mufflers and Napoleonic sideburns.

All the old Fifth avenue mansions in mid-town are gone—save one. The exception is Helen Gould's home. Where grim dignity stalked now glitter the tiffin temples, the wheat cake castles, hat salons and the opulent facades of hotels. Charlie Journal, the Montmartre head waiter.

Those chez places that spell it "tailleur." Mencken with a leather briefcase. Chirping birds flutterning in the Plaza fountain. A woman wheeling a baby carriage and reading "Oliver Twist." Upstairs art shops that never seem to have a customer. Ruth Raphael, of Harper's. Wonder how "The Ladder" revision is coming along?

The shabby genteel who sit on the benches along the park wall. Dogs with their names embroidered on blankets. Butlers with those white celluloid Ascot ties. Magnificent apartment houses known only by numbers. And never showing anything so vulgar as activity.

The red bricked Andrew Carnegie home with high iron fence. And the barred windows in the Otto Kahn home. And a few steps beyond the upper Fifth avenue Ghetto with its push-cart jobber. Bearded patriarchs who sit in doorways reading the Talmud. Salt-rising bread.

Barber shops with radios. Mexican cafes featuring enchilades, conjuevas, tortillas and frijoles. And outside tables where they play cubito and dominoes. Licorice water. Hokey-pokey. Parboiled and salted watermelon seeds. And two street organs to a block.

Cinemas with wild west posters. Red cabbage soup—three cents a bowl. An atheist hotgospeling from a soap box. But the crowd is around the Salvation Army speakers. Gaping doorways. Harridens. The smell of poverty.

On upper Fifth avenue the children play a game called "Chucko," a variant of "Beaver." It is highly disrespectful of age. They have a jackpot in which they put pennies and then roam the sidewalks in packs. When they see a white beard they scamper toward it and the first to chuck the owner under the chin and cry "Chucko" wins the pot.

Three men of Broadway in that many years have violated a code Broadway strictly observes and gone quietly into oblivion. They struck women. For a street that lives so loosely this unpardonable sin is a little difficult to grasp. Yet it is unfailing in its thumbs down attitude.

All three violators were more or less prominent when they forgot themselves and indulged cave man tactics. Men have lived off women without Broadway lifting a supercilious eyelid. They have publicly blasphemed them.

They have led them to dishonor and taunted them to self-destruction and have been still accepted by their fellows. But when a hand has been lifted, that has been something else again and Broadway drops them like the proverbial hot potato.

They become social pariahs, snubbed wherever they go—outcasts among the panderers, gigolos and such. No matter how low a man may fall in the social scale he still has a chance in the Broadway fellowship if he has never smacked a lady.

But if a woman strikes a man in the Broadway circles that becomes the inspiration for a lusty cheer. A dawn in a night club is nothing to stay up about unless some gentleman receives a moused optic as the result of being on the business end of a lady's wallop. All the sympathy he gets is a hearty laugh and cries of, "Sock him again!"

Incidentally, an Amazonian lady in a chop house within the week mistook me for someone else and threatened to punch me. I'm glad she discovered her mistake in time. I'm not put together any too well.

Customs and Morals

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Dr. Knight Dunlap, a Johns Hopkins University psychologist, says in a recent issue of the Journal of General Psychology that public nudity is coming soon and that it won't hurt morals, either.

He says it may sound merely facetious, but it is metaphorically and literally true that every time a woman lifts her skirts the moralists shiver.

Some years ago shoulder puffs and baggy sleeves were denounced as indecent and ungodly. People used to shudder over the one-piece bathing suit and bobbed hair, which once was thought to flaunt indecency and threaten the foundations of morality, is now quite common and harmless.

Some years ago putting the hair on top of the head was looked upon with superior disapproval.

As a matter of fact it does not make much difference to morals how much or what part of the body is exposed. What makes the difference is whether or not more is being exposed than you are used to.

Morals are akin to the word mores, which means manners, and somehow morals are very closely allied to manners and customs.

Some wise man said that morality is different beyond the Pyraneees, by which he meant that what is moral in one place may be considered immoral in another.

The main thing in morals is to keep on doing as you have been doing.

If a man appeared at a formal dinner function without a necktie and with a Byronnic collar open in front he would shock us, and if he showed up on the golf links or tennis court in a dress suit and stiff shirt he would be equally ridiculous.

As a matter of fact, almost all law is a crystallization of custom. Men do not show as much objection to your doing what is wrong as they object to your doing what you have been not doing all these years.

Christ was not crucified for any crime He had committed except the crime of not keeping step with the Scribes and Pharisees.

The average man soon finds out that it saves wear and tear and useless friction if he yields, for the most part, to custom.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD.

A LADY who was taking her first look at Niagara Falls, and was thoroughly inspired by the sight, did not notice those about her until she heard from a corpulent lady holding hands with what certainly must have been her husband:

"Nobody never went over there in no barrel!"

A New York lady, we will call Olsen, living just off Fifth avenue, is extremely popular and her friends take advantage of her good nature and joyous hospitality. They drop in at any hour, feeling sure of a warm welcome.

A few weeks ago the lady being pretty well worn out was about to retire when in bounced a group with no place to go. She was nonchalant as she remarked:

"I just knew the Chez Olsen would get patronage this evening; after the other places closed."

The lady has been able to rest several evenings since.

Unless your friends are sensitive and sober it won't work. But you can put on warm underwear and turn off the heat. That will.

You're welcome!

The Joseph Pavels, 70 and 77 years old, have decided to get a divorce "without a contest." After 51 years of wedded life a contest is no treat.

George E. Tamm, weathly contractor of La Grange, Ill., is sued for $50,000 by his son-in-law who says he alienated his wife's affections by giving her luxuries the husband couldn't afford.

Wives cost money. The time to learn that is before the wedding. Remember the song Bert Williams used to sing about the advantages of Adam? And how Eve found several thousands dresses hanging on a tree, and some women think they grow that way today!

The song ended: "But Eve cost Adam just one bone, and you can't expect too doggone much for that!"

Funny about that girl in London who was asked to leave an ordinary every-day street car, because her skirts were too short. And there are so many windows in street cars for folks to look out of. But if you look where you should you will never see anything.

Four thousand girls want to be presented at the Court of St. James, and only 25 will be. The young women who meet the King and Queen must be vouched for "personally and politically."

The girls stand for a long time waiting to be summoned, they make a bow, and if possible get out without stepping on their court train, or losing one of the three plumes fastened to their long hair—and after they "come into the presence" and bow, they back out. That's all there is to it—there isn't any more.

But if a girl tripped on her train, and did a Leon Errol and made the King laugh, it would be equal, socially, to being sent to Siberia. Yet 3,975 women are going to be disappointed!
